RECRUITING OFFICERS.—We learn that His Honor Mayor Dearborn, and J. Horace Kent, Esq., have been appointed Recruiting Agents under the late order from the President for 300,000 volunteers, the former on the part of the city, and the latter on the part of the Provost Marshal General.—The City Authorities will undoubtedly take the matter in hand at once, and we sincerely hope that another draft may be avoided by the quota being filled by volunteers. Mr. Kent is now attached to the Provost Marshal's office, has a thorough experience in the recruiting business, and has honorably served in the army.

THE JACKSON REBELS CAPTURED.—Deputy Provost Marshals John Legro and Hiram Paul, and Enrolling Officer Horace A. Godfrey, assisted by Constable Silas H. Wentworth, of Rochester, left this city last Monday evening, and made a raid to Jackson—for the purpose of arresting the late rioters in that town. They returned on Saturday with four of the most notorious of the number, viz:—Col. Joseph Perkins, chairman of the Selectmen of the town—Paul Perkins, his son,—Barker Wiggin and Joseph Dearborn.

The particulars of their arrest will not be made known until after their preliminary trial by U. S. Commissioner Hackett.

S. J. COURT, Saturday.—In the case Prescott et al. vs. Fellows,—the jury did not agree. The jurors were discharged and the Court adjourned at 10 o'clock—thus closing this trial term.

☞ A Washington dispatch states that Capt. John R. Goldsborough is ordered to ordnance duty at the Portsmouth Naval Station.

☞ The Ladies' Humane Society will meet on Monday afternoon, Nov. 9th—at the house of Mrs. Lyman, Austin street.

☞ Wanted, a few copies of Daily Chronicle for Oct. 23.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Friday last two young men by the name of McIntire, cousins, of York, Me., being out gunning, discovered a mink near a wood pile, in which the animal took refuge; when one of the young men took a stick to punch the mink out, and did so. The mink as he went out, ran on the top of the pile, when one of the gunners raised his gun and fired at the mink, just as the other gunner at the opposite side of the wood stood up. He received the charge in his head, and died instantly. This is but one of the many melancholy warnings that should induce caution in the use of firearms. The name of the one who was killed was Albert McIntire, and he was about 35 years of age.

☞ The Navy Department have purchased of the Neptune Steamship Company, of New York, five splendid propellers, all entirely new. They have been received at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and formally turned over to the representatives of the government there. Orders have been received from Washington to prepare them as rapidly as possible for sea service, and workmen are already turning them into gunboats. These vessels are all built after one pattern, and are two hundred feet long, thirty-five feet wide, and twelve and a half feet deep.

MR. LAIRD'S RAMS.—The remarks of the Richmond papers on the British Government's seizure of the rams built by Mr. Laird, will be doubly offensive to that gentleman and to the secession sympathizers in England. In the first place, they admit that the rams were built for the rebel government, thus exploding all the pretexts about the ownership of French and other parties; and secondly, while stigmatizing Earl Russell's as an act of hostility, they doubt, after all, whether the rams will be much of a loss, as "the Yankee monitors" they say, "are superior to any we would be likely to receive from Europe." Well may Mr. Laird ask to be saved from his Richmond friends—they not only supply the government with proofs for his condemnation, but they undervalue his work by the most odious comparisons.—Boston Journal.

☞ A dispatch from Mauch Chunk, Pa., states that Mr. C. R. Smith, coal operator at Yorktown, Carbon County, was one of the victims of the riot. He had incurred the hatred of the Irish masses by his opposition to their secret organization, which had for its object the exclusion of all the workingmen of other countries,—and was murdered in a most brutal manner in his own house, in the presence of his family.—Mr. Smith was a loyal and a highly respected gentleman, and was suspected of giving information to the Deputy Provost Marshal, by which the latter, with the military, was enabled to arrest the drafted men. Seven or eight murders have been committed within the last three or four weeks.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for December comes to us bright and early—early in its publication, bright as ever in its contents. It completes the volume, and now is the fitting time to get up clubs. Terms, $2 per year: 16 copies, one year, $20, and an extra copy to the getter-up of the club.

— A "simon pure negro troupe" is giving concerts out West.

— The debt of Canada amounts to $47,485,016.

— New York, with five counties to hear from, shows a Union gain of 40,881 over last year.

— There is a Union gain of 5 or 6 Representatives in New Jersey, and a large gain in the popular vote.

— Some unfortunate fellow has discovered that a woman's sharp teeth are very near her sweet lips.

— The returns in New York show that McCunn is elected Judge by 1662 majority.

— An old farmer in Southern Illinois, seeing the cannon at Cairo, remarked that "them brass missionaries had converted heaps of folks."

— Army cloth that eighteen months ago cost $1.30 can now be purchased for 90 cents, the supply being greater than the demand.

— First Lieut. L. M. Goldsboro', of the U. S. Marine Corps, son of Admiral Goldsboro', died in Washington on Friday morning.

— The London ladies are taught swimming at the Marylebone baths, which are much resorted to. Some of the most active water-nymphs can swim half a mile without fatigue.

— The writers of the London Times are characterized in a recent article as the "constant backers of every winning cause, the steady worshippers of success." They are not the only ones, either.

— Two sailors were sitting on the gunwale of their ship, drinking grog. "This is meat and drink," said Jack, and fell overboard as he was drinking. "And now you have got washing and lodging," coolly remarked Tom.

— Living in Cincinnati is cheap. Beefsteaks sell at from eight to eleven cents a pound, beef roasts at ten cents, mutton at eight cents, chickens at thirty cents each, butter at twenty cents a pound, etc. Vegetables sell at equally reasonable rates.

— James Callendar, the murderer of the wife and two children of George Jones, in Otis, on the 7th of September, 1862, was hung at the Berkshire county jail in Lennox county, Mass., on Friday, at half-past 10 o'clock.

—The common and popular term "any other man" can be found in the 16th chapter of Judges, where Delilah was coaxing Sampson for the secret of his great strength. He divulged as follows: "If I be shaven, then my strength will go from me, and I shall become weak, and be like 'any other man.'"

— The New York Herald does not seem to be impressed by Gov. Seymour's eloquence. It represents his recent electioneering tour as an attempt "to spout himself into the next Presidency," adding, that "he spouts so badly that there will be very little left of him when the next Democratic National Convention meets."

SOLDIERS, ATTENTION.—For the derangements of the system incidental to the change of diet, wounds, eruptions and exposures which every Volunteer is liable to, there are no remedies so safe, convenient and reliable as HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT, 25 cents per box. 209.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with Tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

DESCRIPTION OF REBEL OFFICERS.

A late number of Blackwood's Magazine contains a description of the battle of Gettysburg by an English officer, in which occurs the following portrait of leading rebel officers:—

GENERAL LEE.

General Lee is almost without exception the handsomest man of his age I ever saw. He is fifty-six years old, tall, broad-shouldered, very well made, well set up—a thorough soldier in appearance; and his manners most courteous and full of dignity. He is a perfect gentleman in every respect. I imagine no man has so few enemies or is so universally esteemed. Throughout the South, all agree in pronouncing him as near perfection as man can be. He has none of the small vices, such as smoking, drinking, chewing or swearing, and his bitterest enemy never accused him of any of the greater ones. He generally wears a well-worn long gray jacket, a high, black felt hat, and blue trowsers tucked into his Wellington boots. I never saw him carry arms; and the only mark of his military rank is the three stars on his collar. He rides a handsome horse, which is extremely well groomed. He himself is very neat in his dress and person, and on the most arduous marches he always looks smart and clean.

I believe he has never slept in a house since he has commanded the Virginia army, and invariably declines all offers of hospitality, for fear the person offering it may afterwards get into trouble for having sheltered the rebel general. The relations between him and Longstreet are quite touching—they are always together, and Lee relies very much upon Longstreet's judgment. It is impossible to please Longstreet more than by praising Lee. I believe these two generals to be as little ambitious and as thoroughly unselfish as any men in the world. Both long for a successful termination of the war, in order that they may retire into obscurity. Stonewall Jackson (until his death the third in command of their army) was just such another simple-minded servant of his country. It is understood that General Lee is a religious man, but not so demonstrative in that respect as Jackson; and, unlike his late brother-in-arms, he is a member of the Church of England. His only faults, so far as I can learn, arise from his excessive amiability.

GENERAL LONGSTREET.

General Longstreet is described as an Alabamian—a thick-set man, forty-three years of age. He was an infantry major in the old army, and now commands the First corps d'armee. By the soldiers he is invariably spoken of as the best fighter in the whole army. His war endurance is most extraordinary: he seems to require neither food nor sleep."

GENERAL EWELL.

General Ewell is a remarkable-looking old soldier, bald, with a prominent nose, and rather a haggard, sickly face; having so lately lost his leg above the knee, he is still a complete cripple, and falls off his horse occasionally. Directly he dismounts he has to be put on crutches. He was Stonewall Jackson's lieutenant during the celebrated valley campaigns, and proved an efficient successor to that general, who was much indebted to him, as I have been told by General Johnston, for many of his victories. He used to be a great swearer—in fact, he is said to have been the only person who was unable to restrain that propensity before Jackson; but since his late (rather romantic) marriage, he has (to use the American expression) "joined the church."

GENERAL PENDLETON.

General Pendleton, Chief of Artillery, was a West Pointer; but in more peaceable times he fills the post of Episcopal clergyman in Lexington, Virginia. Unlike General Polk, he unites the military and clerical professions together, and continues to preach whenever he gets a chance. On these occasions he wears a surplice over his uniform.

GENERAL PICKETT.

General Pickett commands one of Longstreet's divisions. He wears his hair in long ringlets, and is altogether rather a desperate looking character. He is the officer who, as Captain Pickett of the U. S. Army, figured in the difficulty between the British and United States in the San Juan Island affair, under Gen. Harney, four or five years ago.

GENERAL STUART.

General Jeb Stuart is a good-looking, jovial character, exactly like his photographs. He is a good and gallant soldier, though he sometimes incurs ridicule by his harmless affectation and peculiarities. The other day he rode through a Virginian town, his horse covered with garlands of roses. He also departs considerably from the severe simplicity of dress adopted by other Confederate Generals; but no one can deny that he is the right man in the right place.

THE DRAFT'S SUCCESS.—As the alternative to successful volunteering is another draft on the 5th of January, it is not irrelevant to inquire how the first draft succeeded. Provost Marshal General Fry says that the entire expense of the draft has been about $1,200,000. These expenditures include all made on account of the machinery which has produced the arrest and return of twenty thousand deserters. The amount of money received from the draft is ten times as great as the expenses incurred on account of the enrollment act.

Nearly forty per cent. of the men examined have been held to service, and have entered the army in person, furnished substitutes, or paid commutation.

About one-half of those held to service have paid commutation. Of the remainder, one-third have gone in person and two-thirds furnished substitutes, and all, except a few in transit and a small proportion of deserters from among the earlier substitutes accepted, are in the ranks of their regiments in front of the enemy. It is fair to suppose that most of those who wilfully fail to report and thus become deserters, are physically fit for service. If they had been examined, the proportion exempted for physical disability would have been reduced to about twenty-five per cent. Thirty per cent. of the whole number drawn were exempted for physical disability, and thirty for other causes.—Boston Transcript.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire chamber, the general internal stove form, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.;

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 30 gallons, by which the water heat, by passing coil, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the FOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN provided for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no loss of power of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural forms are such that the frame work of it cannot burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of CONVENIENCE, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE
Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Rush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of but one movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers and can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the time-clock. They will be set up free of cost of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.
FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.
These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.
They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.
They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry, and warm are conducive to health.
When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.
The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and stew iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelfuls of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be left untended day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The result has been that the combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the application of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used.
We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally.—It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. It serves in governments in the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ The Boston Journal of Friday tells the following story:—

Yesterday quite a number of men happened to meet in the business office of one of the most extensive flour brokers in State street, when politics, of course, became the subject of conversation. Among those present was a man from Portland, who had from 1500 to 2000 barrels of flour in the hands of the broker alluded to. This man gave such an airing to his Copperhead sentiments as disgusted every hearer, even those present who had affinity with democracy; and the consequence was that our State street broker ordered Copper Caput to remove his flour forthwith, as no patriotic man could, would or should do business with any such foul-mouthed traitor. Apology was tendered and flatly refused, and Copperhead must take his flour elsewhere, and probably suffer from the unpopularity he has conferred on his brand.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of prostration, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dulness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Cough, Consumption, &c. Also, those effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, Love of solitude, Timidity, &c, are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days can have board in his family with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicine sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

Dr. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the care of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new and valuable PREVENTATIVE. Order by mail.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The report of our occupation of Fort Sumter, was not true.—U. S. steamer Fulton, from Port Royal, Nov. 4, has arrived at New York: and when she left, the bombardment of Fort Sumter was progressing, the rebels being still in possession of what remains of it. On the 5th the Fulton gave chase and fired 18 times into the rebel steamer Margaret and Jessie, captured her and towed her to New York. The crew and passengers of the prize, 100 in number, were transferred to the Fulton.—The Margaret and Jessie is an iron, Clyde built steamer, of 800 tons burthen, with two oscillating engines, very fast, and has a valuable cargo of silks, wines, and dry goods, &c. She has been one of the most successful blockade runners, and at the time of her capture was on a voyage from Nassau to Wilmington.

Gen Meade's army in Virginia, appears to be in active service. Gen. M. telegraphed to Washington Saturday evening, as follows.

"Major Gen. Sedgwick advanced to the railroad crossing, where he drove the enemy to the river, assaulted and captured 2 redoubts with artillery on this side. Maj. Gen. French advanced to Kelley's Ford, driving the enemy in small force across the river. Gen. Sedgwick reports capturing this afternoon in his operations, 4 colonels, 3 lieutenant colonels, many other officers and over 800 men, together with 4 battle flags. Gen. French captured over 400 prisoners."

A Washington dispatch of Monday evening says the entire number of prisoners taken by Sedgwick and French, is now believed to be 1826. Orders were sent to Col. Devereaux at Alexandria to provide for that number. The prisoners are principally North Corolina and Louisiana troops.

The 3 o'clock train commenced bringing the prisoners into Alexandria. The number taken by Sedgwick was from 1200 to 1400. The remainder were taken by French. It was a novel sight to see all of Sedgwick's prisoners in a crowd. It was the largest lot ever captured by our forces on the Virginia side, and they were guarded by cavalry to prevent straggling or escape. Our loss is reported 400 killed and wounded, but no prisoners. Our wounded were carried to Warrenton Junction and tenderly cared for, and thence were sent to Alexandria Sunday afternoon.

The enemy, after their defeat in these two engagements, were so hotly pursued by our victorious forces, that they threw themselves into the river to escape, where some were drowned and many killed by our infantry. All the artillery the rebels had on this side was reported at 7 guns. Their whole camp equipage undoubtedly fell into our hands, as they were compelled to leave it in their hasty flight. Sunday morning Meade's whole line advanced.

In the Southwest, Gen. Hatch has driven the rebel Gen. Chalmers across the Tallahatchie river, punishing the latter's forces severely.

Gen. Richardson, with rebels reported 1500 to 2000, scouted the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, six miles east of Salisbury, tearing up the track, burning the trestle work and destroying the telegraph.—Stevens and Bell, with a force of 500 rebels, are conscripting and robbing in Shelby, Fayette and Tipton counties. That part of the country is represented to be in a dreadful condition. The crops are destroyed, and the people are dependant on what they get through our lines for support.

The N. Y. Herald says that our forces occupy Fredericksburg and the heights beyond.

The news from Chattanoga is favorable. The rebels acknowledge that communication with Chattanooga has been re established.—A powerful expedition sailed from New Orleans about 26th, bound, it is supposed, to the Coast of Texas.—A Washington correspondent hints at reverses in Gen. Burnside's department.—A dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., of Nov. 4th, admits that the Federals have gained important advantages in that region during the previous 48 hours.

The Morris Island correspondent of the Tribune, writing Nov. 3d, says that Block Island is occupied by our troops. It is nearer Charleston than any other point held by us except the extreme north end of Morris Island. A very good view of the city can be obtained here. The rebels have in vain tried to shell us away. We are well intrenched and covered by the guns of a gunboat.

Heavy firing was heard on Sunday, supposed to be near the junction of the Rapidan and Rappahannock.

There is a rumor in military circles at Washington, that a portion of unattached troops or drafted men will soon be detailed to fill up the ranks of the regular army.—Of the eleven new regiments which were added to the service when the war broke out, each to number three battalions of 800 each, or 26,400 in all, it is stated that no three have been filled up to the required quota by recruiting.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The resignations of Capt. Joseph L. Johnson and Lieut. Norman Howe, of the 14th N. H. Regt., have been tendered to the War Department, and accepted.

—— A fire took place at Manchester on Saturday forenoon, at Nos. 40 and 41 Manchester street: loss not large. One attic was filled with valuable clothing, and Miss Anna Welch had a trunk there containing a thousand dollars in money. This was rescued from the flames at no small peril by Assistant Marshal Prescott, and Officer Albert H. Merrill.

LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN.—It is not true, as reported, that our forces had driven the rebels from Lookout Mountain. We now hold the river below Chattanooga, until we come within range of the enemy's guns on Lookout Mountain, being about six miles from Chattanooga by the river, but only about two across the neck of land. Hooker drove the enemy from a high ridge west of Lookout, and separated from that and Raccoon mountain by a valley, making a strong position commanding the river.—This success gives us the use of the river to supply Chattanooga, with only about two miles of wagon transportation. Two steamers are there now in use, and the question of supplies, which had come to a point that seriously threatened our occupation of the place, is now rettled. The enemy hold Lookout Mountain and have five heavy guns there. The distance from their battery to the town is three miles, and the height above the town is over 2000 feet. Their shell reach the town, but without any accuracy of range, and so far their firing has had little effect. To dislodge them will require a detour to their rear, similar to that by which Rosecrans caused the evacuation of Chattanooga. This of course can only be made by a force large enough to stand a general engagement.

☞ At a late meeting of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, Mr. Otis of Yarmouth exhibited a drawing of the vessel recently washed up on Cape Cod, and presented in an interesting manner considerations which had convinced him that it was indentical with the vessel of whose less mention is made by Gov. Bradford.

Rev. Mr. Hepworth of Boston presented the result of observations made during his connection with the army in Louisiana. He gave an account of some curious tree-roots beneath the waters of lake Pontchartrain, which are apparently of great antiquity.—Reference was made to a species of snake, the copperhead, which the speaker said was not sufficiently attractive to invite intimate acquaintance. At the depth of three feet anywhere in the neighborhood of Carrollton, water may be obtained, but if this stands over a day a green scum will collect upon it. In one of his expeditions into the country Mr. H. made the acquaintance of an old negro who had been a companion of the private Lafitte. The negro bore testimony to the humanity of his chief, who in this respect will compare very favorably with Capt. Semmes of the Alabama. The speaker closed by giving a description of some curious Indian mounds, three in number, ranging in height from thirty to forty feet, and in diameter from forty to fifty feet. In the course of his remarks Mr. Hepworth paid a glowing tribute to the courage, constancy, and endurance of our troops in the Gulf Department—both white and black.

THE OHIO CONSPIRATORS have been indicted by a Grand Jury, in the U. S. Court at Cincinnati. The indictment charges them with treason in endeavoring to release John Morgan and his officers from the penitentiary, and the prisoners from the barracks in that city, and with conspiring to capture the U. S. steamer Michigan on Lake Erie.

MEMORY ACQUIRED BY PRACTICE.—The history of the celebrated conjurer, Robert Houdin, furnishes a remarkable example of the power of memory acquired by practice. He and his brother, while yet boys, invented a game which they played in this wise. They would pass a show-window and glance into it as they passed, without stopping, and then at the next corner compare notes and see which could recollect the greatest number of things in the window, including their relative positions. Having tested the accuracy of their observations by returning to the window, they would go and repeat the experiment elsewhere. By this means they acquired incredible powers of rapid observation and memory, so that after running by a shop window once and glancing as they passed, they would enumerate every article displayed in it.

An old democratic organ once said, "Democracy is a sentiment not to be appalled, corrupted or compromised. It knows no baseness. Destructive only of despotism, it is the sole conservator of liberty, labor and property. It is the sentiment of freedom, of equal rights, of equal obligations, the law of nature pervading the law of the land!" How unlike what is now put forth as Democracy by every copperhead apostle in the land, is this old and correct definition, we need not stop to show.—Portland Press.

New Orleans papers of the 29th ult., received at Cairo, state that cotton is arriving in considerable quantities. The sugar crop is light, owing to the scarcity of labor and fuel.

— A school boy who was whipped declared that one rod makes an acher.

— Louis Napoleon is afflicted with an affection of the spine.

— The Government bookbinders suspended work on Saturday in Washington.

— A thousand dollars an inch is the selling price of the Empire Mill and Mining Company's ground in California.

— Gen. Meagher has been reinstated as Brigadier, with authority to recruit his Irish brigade to the full number.

— $60,000 fine and 3 years' imprisonment is the sentence of a defrauding quartermaster at Lexington, Ky.

— An English paper says: "We were taxed in 1829 £45,000,000, and now £74,000,000, and are more prosperous now than then."

— It was a beautiful expression of Burke upon the death of his son, that his child in this world should be his ancestor in the next.

— The St. Louis Union says at the present time "there is not a single organized force of 20 guerrillas or bushwackers to be found in Missouri."

— The prospects now are that the Government will succeed in forwarding clothing, &c., to the Union prisoners at Richmond, in full assurance that they shall be distributed.

— The San Francisco editors boast of a pumpkin weighing a fraction over, 200 lbs., and of a pear weighing 2 1-4 lbs. A Gloria Mundi apple weighing only 1 1-2 lbs. they make no account of.

— In the whole of Maryland, except two counties—Goldsborough's Union majority is 26,662. The two counties may reduce it a little: call his majority 25,000 for union and liberty.

— The Secretary of War has discontinued the office of Provost Marshal of the War Department, but the late incumbent, Col. Baker, will remain in Washington for the present.

— Two Vermont editors challenge another to enlist, so that Uncle Sam may have three more soldiers, and the editor of the Manchester American challenges his brother of the Union to the same test of patriotism.

—— They've got a new bell on the City Hall, Manchester, and on Saturday forenoon it rung its first fire alarm, but "so slow and solemn" were its tones that people did not suspect there was a fire until they saw the smoke.

— In San Francisco they buy $10,000 in greenbacks with $7,500 in gold. With the greenbacks they buy $10,000 worth of goods in New York, ship them, and sell them in San Francisco for $15,000 in gold. Sure thing.

— Secretary Seward authorizes the gratifying announcement that the French Government, upon the remonstrance of Minister Dayton, promptly and most honorably arrested six iron rams which were building at Nantz and Bordeaux.

— The rebel General Geary, who was captured at Collierville, Miss., on the 3d inst, is an officer of the Mississippi militia. He, and the members of his staff taken with him, were sent to Memphis, and committed to prison there.

— The disposition of the Government is to do everything in its power to promptly relieve the stringency of the money market in the great Atlantic cities. Arrangements have been made, which, it is thought, cannot fail to secure this most desirable end in a few days.

— Gen. Garfield, late Chief of Gen. Rosecrans' staff, some weeks ago sent his resignation to the War Department; but instead of its acceptance, he has received a commission as Major General, for meritorious conduct at Chickamauga. It is thought he will resign his seat in Congress.

— They do things up rapidly in California. The other day Mr. C. and a young lady, 15 years old, ran away and were married. Six weeks afterwards an old lover of Mrs. C. came back from the mines with a pocket full of rocks, and she ran away with him. Mr. C. is disconsolate, or was at latest dates.

— Some rebel officers recently captured in Alabama, arrived at Cincinnati a few days since. They were allowed the liberty of the city on their parole of honor. On Friday night they were caught attempting to cross the river into Kentucky in a skiff; brought back to the city and placed in irons, and sent to Columbus, where they will be tried for violating their parole.

— The Baltimore American says that Maryland on Wednesday emphatically proclaimed its future as a free State. The vote for Gen. Goldsborough was the test on the question of speedy emancipation, and the unanimity among the loyal voters of Baltimore heralds the result in the State.—The Legislature will be largely emancipationist. The vote in Baltimore was 10,545 for Goldsborough to 357 for Maffit, the representative of the slaveholding interest. No opposition was made to Webster and Davis, candidates for Congress from the city.

The St. Louis Democrat says that the radical majority in that city and county, including the soldier vote, will not fall short of 3000, and may go nearer 4000.

INDIAN TERRITORY.—A letter from Fort Scott to the New York Times, dated Oct. 20th, says:

Gen. Blunt leaves on the 29th for the Indian Territory, to turn over his command to Gen. McNeil. The absence of Gen. Blunt has caused the rebel Gen. Cooper to concentrate his forces, and he is threatening the brigade on the line of the Arkansas. Gen. McNeil is pursuing Shelby.

Gen. Blunt has made a demand on the rebel Gen. Cooper for the surrender of Quantrell and his men as murderers and assassins, and if he refuses, he (Blunt) notifies him that all soldiers of Quantrell's command shall be shot at sight.

Our entire force is about 5,000. The rebels also have nearly that number.

☞ The Court of Inquiry convened "to investigate the circumstances attending the loss of a large amount of funds by the destruction of the steamer Ruth, by fire," has reported an opinion that the steamer was fired by an incendiary; not for the particular purpose of destroying the public funds on board, but in conformity with what appears to be a plan of the rebels for the destruction of the water transportation in the valley of the Mississippi, and thus crippling the movement of our armies. The Courts of opinion that "no Government officer or agent of the funds has been to blame for misconduct or neglect of duty in the premises."

— New York papers announce that "preparations are being made in naval circles for the reception of another fleet of of men-of-war, which are reported to have left Cronstadt and Sebastopol on the 18th ult. It is said to consist of four line-of-battle ships, four first class steam frigates, and four smaller vessels. A squadron of eight vessels had sailed from Russian ports between the 1st and 14th, which was supposed to be destined for the United States, but as it has not arrived here, persons qualified to judge conjecture that it has gone to the South Atlantic, to winter on the coast of Brazil. Two or three other vessels, it is said, have sailed to the Indian Ocean."

— The N. Y. Herald says, "New York voted yesterday as she voted in our last November election, for a vigorous prosecution of the war. This was the issue upon which Gov. Seymour succeeded, and this is the issue upon which he and his party have been defeated. His associations and sympathies with such intolerant and intolerable copperhead peace men as Thomas H. Seymour of Connecticut, Bradbury of Maine, and Vallandigham of Ohio, were too strong against him and his party to be neutralised or palliated by the enforced war resolutions of Dean Richmond's sea-saw Albany platform."

☞ A Boston correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette is responsible for the following:

"I heard the other day of a bon mot made by Longfellow, the poet. Young Mr. Longworth, from your city, being introduced to him, some one present remarked upon the similarity of the first syllable of the two names. 'Yes' said the poet, 'but in this case I fear Pope's line will apply: "Worth makes the man, and want of it the fellow."'"

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-tried celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and the union to allow the greatest freedom of use, by day or night, to the only true theory by which THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

Local.

☞ We learn that Messrs. Townsend & Leach, the builders of Mr. Straw's little Manchester steam yacht, and other fast craft, are to superintend the construction of a steam pleasure-yacht at Fort Constitution, in this harbor, for the use of the officers at that garrison. She will be considerably larger than the other, measuring forty feet keel, and having accommodations for about fifty people.

One or two other gentlemen also talk of having similar boats, for another season—a great desideratum in our strong tides.

☞ We learn from Mr. A. J. Leavitt, lightkeeper at the Shoals, that a scrub apple tree was recently discovered almost hidden by the bushes on Smutty Nose Island—bearing a peck or so of apples—the only crop of the sort, we believe, or about all, on the Isles. Mr. Haley, who formerly lived on Smutty Nose, and kept the hotel still standing there, is said to have raised considerable quantities of fruit, by means of high walls to protect the trees from the sweeping winds; and to have run a cider mill, &c. This tree may have been one of his.

☞ While we, in common with every citizen, would never be unmindful of the obligations we are all under to our excellent Cornet Band, for their successful efforts to furnish the public with good music—we must not forget to thank them, (for we suppose it must have been they, or a part of their Band,) for our delightful serenade, a few evenings since. We never heard anything sweeter than those blending harmonies, as they vibrated softly on the still evening air—causing the happily-awakened listeners to breathe low, lest they should break the weird charm. "A joy forever" for us, will live that brief season of musical enchantment, in our memories.

☞ The Farm of the late Hon. James Pickering, in Newington, just on the edge of Portsmouth and Greenland—is to be sold at Auction, with all the contents, on Thursday next, as per advertisement. This has not only always been regarded as one of the finest estates in this vicinity, but there are few places so easily susceptible of material "improvements." There is a right of way to the shores of Great Bay, near by, attaching to the place—and a public road could and should be opened thither; and when the new road recently cut through this farm and Mr. Lane's, to Sherburne's Road, shall be continued directly to this city, at Boyd's Road, as it must naturally ere long be—the value of the property will be greatly increased. This sale offers a good chance for investment, or to secure a very beautiful and desirable residence.

U. S. RECRUITING AGENT.—As we stated yesterday, J. Horace Kent has been officially informed that he has been appointed Government Recruiting Agent.—He will open his office at the Provost Marshal's Headquarters, Daniel street, in a few days, and will pay the liberal bounties offered by the U. S. and State authorities.—Mr. K. is authorized to recruit for any town in the District.

SINGING SCHOOLS.—Mr. Davis' Classes meet to-morrow, Wednesday, afternoon and evening. A few more tickets may be had at Head's Bookstore; and all are requested to show their tickets to the door-keeper. See advertisement. COM. ARR.

☞ We owe our subscribers on the Southerly list, an apology, for the careless manner in which their papers have been delivered, of late. We trust the new carrier, who commences this morning, will more nearly do his duty. Any further neglect we shall endeavor to correct.

THE LYCEUM.—We learn that the arrangements for the Citizens' Course are nearly completed, and that the programme of speakers, and tickets will soon be issued to the public.

☞ We learn that our neighbor, J. H. Head, has within a few days effected a sale of 4 or 5 hundred of his work, "Jewels from the Quarry of the Mind," to the Boston booksellers, for the Holiday trade. The Home Pastimes has also lately taken a new start; a second edition has been nearly sold, and a third edition, with new title page, embellishments and rich binding will, soon be in the market. Mr. Head attributes the call for the Tableaux work to his introducing the book to visitors at the White Mountains, and his efforts there in taking charge of Tableaux Companies.

REMARKABLE INCREASE OF POPULATION.—A lady of respectability, in a neighboring town, has given birth to five children (two girls and three boys), four of whom (both girls and two boys) are living. The mother is "as well as could be expected." At this rate of increase, we have no reason to fear that the war will entirely depopulate our State.

The name of the United States steamer Alabama has been changed to "New Hampshire." She is now at Portsmouth.—Manchester Union.

Not the steamer, friend.

SHELDON & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

We have before us four volumes of about 300 pages each, beautifully printed and bound, with handsome engravings, and yet not costly; all published by Sheldon & Co., New York, and for sale by Jas. H. Head in Portsmouth.

1. Wars of the Colonies, by Jacob Abbott; being the 5th and closing number of his American History. This is a graphic sketch of our Colonial History, from about 1610 to the time when Canada was ceded to England by France; and embraces the most interesting incidents of 150 years, including the Indian Wars. The style is readable and enjoyable, by youth or mature age. Ten engravings.

2. Peter Parley's Own Story. From the personal Narrative of the late Samuel G. Goodrich, (Peter Parley.) No man ever told stories with more onction than Peter Parley—and he never told one better than he has told his own. Six engravings.

3. Florence Stories, by Jacob Abbott.—Visit to the Isle of Wight. This is a youth's book, highly interesting and instructive.—Seven engravings.

4. Walter's Tour in the East, by Rev. Daniel C. Eddy, D. D. Walter in Jerusalem. This, like the last mentioned, is a youth's book; but will be read with pleasure and profit by older persons. Fourteen engravings.

We have rarely seen four books in one closter more attractive than these.

☞ A dispatch to the Chicago Tribune says that the chief of police of Cincinnati thinks he has discovered a conspiracy to burn that city. The first intimation he received was through a letter which was taken out of the Post Office by mistake, opened and read. The plan of conspiracy was to divide the city into four sections and set fire to each simultaneously.

NEGRO SERMON.—"There are," said a sable orator, addressing his brethren, "two roads tro dis world—de one am broad an' narrow road dat leads to perdition; an' de oder a narrow and broad road dat leads to destruction." "What I dat?" said one hearer; say it again." "I say, my brethren, dere are two roads tro dis world—de one am a broad and narrow road dat leads to perdition; de oder a narrow an' broad road dat leads to destruction." "If dat am de case," said his sable questioner, "dis included individual takes to de woods."

POWER OF CYPHERS.—The enlightened man may have a clear understanding of thousands, and even millions, but much beyond that he can form no distinct idea. A simple example, and one easily solved, will illustrate the observation. If all the vast bodies of water that cover nearly three fourths of the whole surface of the globe were emptied, drop by drop, into one grand reservoir, the whole number of drops could be written by the two words "eighteen septillions," and expressed in figures by annexing 24 cyphers to the number 18 (18,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000.) Man might as well attempt to explore the bounds of eternity as to form any rational idea of the units embodied in the expression above; for if each particular drop were noted by a separate stroke like the figure 1, it would form a line of marks sufficiently long to wind round the sun six thousand billions of times!

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly.

To every barrel of Flour you can make thirty pounds more Bread or Biscuit (and much better) by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, than by yeast fermentation or any other Saleratus—It is perfectly healthy; will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs, and cure dyspeptic persons. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try one package, and you will be convinced. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 114 Liberty Street, New York.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and at less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and pockets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT STOVE, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

DRYING APPLES IN WINTER.—The following hints on drying apples in the winter instead of the fall, we cut from an exchange.

We have known a help-meet cut and dry apples during the winter instead of the fall, and it has been enough for us. On seeing the white, clean pieces, we were at once convinced. Here is the point; not a fly-speck was there, no mould, no rot. It was the perfection of a dried apple.

Another advantage: Apples then are ripe, or nearly so, they have the perfection of their flavor; and this flavor will be present when the fruit is cooked.

Do our housewives consider this? The fruit should be, when dried, just what it is when used in the fall or winter undried, when we are particular to select the best.—But for dried fruit, "anything will do."—What an error this is. No wonder that dried fruit pie is an ordinary affair compared with the fresh, juicy apple pie.

☞ Henry Ward Beecher, in his speech at Exeter Hall, thus met the English argument, that the North should have accepted secession, instead of warring against it. "For the North," he said, "to have laid down like a spaniel—to have given up the territory that every child in America is taught, is his sacred right and his trust—to have given that territory up without a thought, without a blow, would have marked the North to all eternity as craven and mean beyond expression."

☞ A late letter from Nashville, says, "A large part of the wealthy population of this aristocratic city went in Bragg's army, under Breckinridge and Cheatham, at the late battle, and great numbers have been killed. Out of sixteen hundred under Breckinridge, thirteen hundred were killed and wounded! It is said that three-fourths of the ladies of the Episcopal Church are in mourning for their dead."

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1863.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the oven chamber, the improved structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the water, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a WARM CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the flames, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the hot summer draft, in parting off, a variety of processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The mechanical form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of COMFORT, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE
Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,
and not found wanting in any particular. Yet, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor had kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1844, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED
yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the STEWART COOK STOVE.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to record all the sequent changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.
Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.
Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without charge.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for persevering in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping to the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of the valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable,—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, it is found to produce headaches so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the great est amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The commonly received opinion has been that, heat off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used.
We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

DR. GOODALL
Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER, as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet cost only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.
Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.
Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!
He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being that of an exhilarant, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.
He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results, to call and be convinced.
I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. THADDEUS WELL, Dr. HEARSEY, Dr. TRUMAN and Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. WEDNESDAY NOV. 11 1863 NO. 114.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home, our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though everyism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

If Gov. Seymour is a representative man of the "opposition," then that opposition proposes to seek its political ends by the most bareface perversions of the truth, and reckless distortion of facts. The main portion of Gov. Seymour's speech at Utica, is admirably calculated, supposing it to have any influence, to dishearten and discourage the North by its assertions that there has been nothing but failure in the past, and only danger of ruin in the future.

If accepted as a true statement, it makes the recruiting a barbarous operation for committing wholesale murder, and shows the prosecution of the war to be the height of cruelty as well as of folly. Everything has gone wrong and everything is going wrong! And this is the man who claims to be patriotic, who avows himself devoted to the Union and ready to forget the past, forgive personal attacks upon himself, and sustain the Government! The logic of the Executive of the Empire State is: we, the opposition to all the measures and all the policy of the Administration, must profess to aid it in putting down armed rebellion, simply as a means of getting into power. Once in power we can treat with our former political and social friends, now the leaders of the insurrection, and with their aid keep in power. That in accomplishing these party purposes, life blood is to be shed like water, and democratic principles thrown to the dogs, is of the smallest consequence.—Transcript.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Information at Washington, Monday night, from the Army of the Potomac, mentions that an Aid of Gen. Kilpatrick arrived from the front, Saturday night, and reported a fight with a body of rebel cavalry near Stevensburg (5 or 6 miles east of Culpepper) late in the afternoon of that day. The enemy's pontoon bridge over the river directly behind their works fell into our hands after Gen. Sedgwick's defeat of the rebels, and was placed in charge of the 15th N. Y. Engineers. The bridge consisted of only 5 boats, and these the came which were abandoned by the Engineer brigade last year.

The cannonading Sunday evening was probably by Gen. Buford's light batteries, and some rebel cavalry with guns, in the vicinity of the Yew Hills, northeast of Culpepper.

The railroad and telegraph on the opposite side of the Rappahannock were found uninjured.

Our cavalry are reported at Culpepper.

A government officer at Washington, on Monday, received a pencil note from a Union prisoner in Richmond, saying the rebel authorities have at length altogether stopped the very small meat ration heretofore allowed to our starving soldiers in their prisons. The excuse alleged is, that they have ceased to be able to furnish their own soldiers with meat.

One hundred and twenty-five officers are among the rebel prisoners just brought from the front to Washington. They represent that but few of their companions retreated across the river, and their General commanding had barely time to escape on his horse. They seem to unite in regarding the movement on our part as one of the most brilliant and successful of the war.

Intelligence has been received, dated Clarksburg, Va., that Gens. Averill and Dufie, commanding separate forces, after several engagements on Friday and Saturday last, succeeded in driving the enemy under "Mudwall" Jackson several miles down the valley east of Greenbriar mountains into and through the town of Lewisburg in Western Virginia. After the first battle on Friday, which was fought by Gen. Dufie, the enemy was reinforced, but they were totally routed on Saturday by the forces of Dufie and Averill. The rout was complete. The enemy abandoned all their supplies, guns, colors, &c., and fled, leaving their dead and wounded on field. Our men behaved splendidly, and the victory was one of the most splendid of the war.—We hold Lewisburg.

The Richmond Whig contains the following:

"ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 4.—The Commandant at Rome, Ga., has received a telegram from Selma, stating that a heavy force of Yankee mounted infantry had reached Tuscaloosa en route to Selma. They are said to come from Tupelo by the same route which Bragg's army came last summer.

The Houston (Texas) Telegraph says Magruder has notified all the minute men and the State troops to hasten forward without delay, the enemy being already on the advance from Berwick Bay with the declared purpose of invading Texas."

Washington dispatches of the 10th, say our entire army crossed the Rappahannock Monday without any incident of importance occurring. It crossed in two columns on a pontoon bridge at Kelly's Ford, and the other on the captured rebel pontoon bridge near the railroad bridge.

Advices received otherwise in Washington state that the rebel army seems to be moving toward the Rapidan, and as yet have taken no position for accepting battle. Our troops command all the roads approaching Fredericksburg from the north-west, while some of them hold that town and Falmouth.

A dispatch from the front says that heavy cavalry skirmishing was going on all Tuesday afternoon, southwest of Culpepper.—The only rebel force this side of the Rapidan is Stuart's cavalry, who are covering the rebel retreat.

Another bread riot has taken place in Richmond; but the papers there do not mention it. The farmers in Virginia don't like to sell their produce for confed. paper.

A U. S. supply train bound to Fort Smith, Ark., is said to be in danger. Gen. Blunt is with it.

The N. Y. Times' Washington dispatch of Tuesday says:—

The enlistment of negroes in Maryland alone is at the rate of two regiments a week.

Geo. Butler went to Fortress Monroe this evening.

1846 rebels marched through the streets this morning, six abreast, to prison. Other arrivals will swell the number to 2000.

☞ Gold opened in New York on Tuesday morning at 146, and at 11 o'clock was quoted at 145 1-2. At one o'clock it was quoted at 145 3 8.

— A rebel who recently came through our lines near Vicksburg, remarking on the rebel cause, facetiously said:—"The Confederacy has a black eye."

[Communication.]

HIGH PRICES.

While our various industrial pursuits are not essentially impeded, while general prosperity prevails in the free States, and our agricultural products are abundant, there seems to be no good reason why the price of almost every thing should be constantly increasing. It is partly owing to speculators, a class of men who have no conscience, except what is contained in their own coffers. It is true that an abundance of the circulating medium tends to inflate prices, and there never was so much money in circulation as at this time. And there never before was so much metallic currency in the free States as at the present time, probably nearly three hundred millions. Thirty-three years ago, the amount of specie in the whole Union was estimated at about thirty millions. In the war of 1812 the Government became nearly bankrupt, when fortunately peace took place. Now our resources for prosecution of the war are inexhaustible. The idea of the Government becoming bankrupt is preposterous, for the whole property of all the people in the loyal States is bound to redeem the paper money issued in pursuance of the acts in Congress of the Representatives of the people, as being the expression of the will of the people. Besides, the impost duties to the annual amount of some fifty or sixty millions, payable in specie, are pledged for the redemption of the Government notes. And this is a better and safer specie basis, than that of all the State banks. Why, then, does gold have so high a premium above the Government notes? Can any valid reason be assigned, except that importers want specie to pay the duties? The hoarders of gold will ultimately miss their object—and should "the biter be bit," no others need regret it.

The present high prices of provisions and merchandise are chiefly the result of speculators, extortioners, and dishonest traders. Because my neighbor is guilty of immoral conduct in demanding a higher price than an article is worth, it is no good reason that I should be guilty of a similar act of immorality. It is opposed to christian principles. The oppression falls chiefly upon the poorer classes. And, therefore, every honest person should use all the means in their power to reduce the present exorbitant prices.—It would in the end redound to their honor and advantage. When the supply of an article is cut off, cotton for instance, an increase of the price is a natural result. But as there is a great abundance of products in our free States, there is no good reason for the present prices. The case is very different in the rebel States, where there is danger of starvation in many of the large cities, and therefore the necessaries of life bear a price before unheard of in this country.

It is said that the support of our troops in the field tends to enhance the price of provisions. It is so in respect to cost of transportation, but in proportion to the consumption in the army, the less is consumed at home. The difference between the rates of wages of labor before and since the war commenced, should be taken into consideration; but this will not justify the raising prices two or three fold. Let all good citizens reflect upon these and other relevant matters, and use their influence, at least, for a general reduction of the prices of the necessaries of life for the benefit and relief of the poor, the unfortunate, and the distressed.

BENE VOLO.

☞ A young man named Risech, employed as a clerk by the Portland Company, was killed at Portland on Monday afternoon. In company with two others, he was about removing a body from Eastern to Evergreen Cemetery. They had taken up the headstones and put them into a wagon, and were leaving the Eastern Cemetery, Risech steadying the stones, when passing out the gate, by a jolt of the wagon he fell forward, followed by one of the stones, which struck him on the temple, causing his death in a few minutes. The deceased was a worthy man: he leaves a wife and one child.

☞ Mr. Calvin P. McIntire, of Biddeford, writes to the Portland Press, that tho' he resides in that city as a music teacher, he was born in Kennebunkport, and was enrolled and drafted in both places. He reported to the Provost Marshal's office, from Biddeford, and was published as a deserter from Kennebunkport. It is not likely the officers knew anything of the double draft, for there are persons of the same name in different towns. His note was shown to the Marshal, and his name cancelled on the Kennebunkport list.

MARYLAND ELECTION.—The people of Maryland have done nobly in their Congressional election. They have sent four emancipationists to Congress out of five. One is a secessionist. Harris I believe does not pretend to any Unionism. He will do less harm in Congress than Calvert, his proslavery reunion competitor, and I have seen few Republicans in Washington who regret the fact that Calvert is defeated.—Cor. Traveller.

— The N. Y. Times intimates that a heavy "short" operator has come to grief.

☞ Rapid changes come over men and parties, as circumstances change; according to the old copy slip of fifty years ago, "Circumstances alter cases." The Louisville Journal is down on Gov. Johnson of Tenn., for his emancipation views, saying that when he took the office of Military Governor he was the champion of slavery, and is now an abolitionist.

"What? (says the Newburyport Herald,) The Louisville Journal can not be blind to the fact that millions of people have made the same change within two years;—that many of the most bitter opponents of abolition are now most strenuous for emancipation. The Journal thinks Gov. Johnson has changed in hopes of succeeding Mr. Lincoln in the Presidency. Popular sentiment moving at the same rate, there is no reason why Mr. Garrison could not succeed Mr. Sumner. The Louisville Journal talks like one waked up from a ten years sleep, who knows nothing of what has transpired since Frank Pierce was inaugurated.—Revolutions produce great and sudden changes. Before the war we were travelling directly and certainly to the eradication of slavery from the country, but the progress made was rather slow, and on that account, we think, all the better for blacks and whites. Every week since the rebellion commenced, we have made as much advance towards the same point, as in a year before; and to-day there is a majority of the people who don't want the war to stop till slavery is wiped out. The Louisville Journal and all others may as well laugh as cry—the event is inevitable. If they own slaves, they better get rid of them by sale or otherwise as quick as possible."

INCIDENTS OF THE NORTHWESTERN FAIR.—The great fair at Chicago has developed in a very signal manner, the loyal feeling which animates that portion of our country. The pecuniary results are very gratifying; and numberless incidents have occurred which show the affectionate hold of the army upon the hearts of the people. We read of an old man, nearly eighty, who with his aged wife, lives in one little room, coming to the managers with a gift from his poverty. He had only two sons, both in the army, and he couldn't do much, but they had a few chickens, and his wife had baked four nicely and "would they be of any service?" An elderly German woman poor, and a widow with two sons, one in the army, the other a mere lad, wanted to do something for the poor soldiers. She could spare only 50 cents, but wished it was in her power to give a thousand times as much. Many costly gifts have been thrown into the treasury by the rich; but no gifts are more precious in the sight of heaven than the simple offerings from the poor, who give of their poverty and not of their abundance.

—— Members of the First Parish in Exeter made valuable presents last week to their late organist, Josiah H. Folsom; to Mrs. Folsom and Miss Hattie Folsom, as singers. To the organist, a silver pitcher and salver; to Mrs. F. a silver bowl, and to Miss F. a silver napkin ring. The presents were brought by a surprise party of an hundred, who also brought refreshments, and passed an evening with songs, speaches and social chat.

—The trial of Lawrence Doyle for the murder of Lara Vellie Libby, a girl nine and a half years of age, at Strong Me., on the 14th of September, 1862, was concluded at Farmington, Thursday last. The jury after being out 26 hours came into Court and stated there was no possibility of their agreeing upon a verdict. They were discharged, and the prisoner remanded to jail to await another trial at the next term of Court. The jury stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal.

— In Missouri, official returns from 62 counties and from the soldiers, so far as heard from, give a Conservative majority of 4068. Col. Pratt (Radical) is elected State Senator from Linn county, in place of Major McCullough (Conservative) deceased.

It is thought the surplus potato crop of Maine this year will bring into the State, from shipments, $500,000. We think the estimate under, and we should judge of nearly one half. The average price per bushel may be put at 50 or 55 cents. The shipments of ice cannot fall much short of a million dollars in value. From the Kennebec about $100,000 in value of ice is exported each season. Rockport (a part of Camden) ships about as much. The Rockport ice has a great popularity from its clearness and purity. In Bangor an immense quantity will be stored. So that the elements, if rude and cold, work for us.—Portland Adv.

— Mary Tierney, whore husband was murdered in Providence a few weeks since, was run over on Saturday by an accommodation train on the Boston and Providence railroad, and instantly killed.

We learn that Gov. Coburn, of Maine, has been requested to convene an extra session of the Legislature immediately, to provide by law for the giving by towns of a certain fixed and uniform bounty to volunteers, under the last call of the President, and to prohibit the giving of any larger sum. We are not advised as to the decision of the Governor in this matter.—Portland Press.

— The 5th Wisconsin Volunteers of the Army of the Potomac cast 415 votes for the Union ticket of their State, and 1 for the Opposition.

— A very slight fall of snow occurred at Washington on Monday.

— A crowd of rowdies assailed a building occupied by several women in Presque Isle with stones and clubs, smashing in windows and hitting one of the inmates on the head, injuring her so tha it is feared that she will not recover.

— The object of all ambition should be to be happy at home: if we are not happy there, we cannot be happy elsewhere. It is the best proof of the virtues of a family circle to see a happy fireside.

— Four bears were killed last Thursday in Blair County, Penn. They were discovered taking a leisurely walk along the turnpike, in the vicinity of a dwelling house.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS!
A beautiful and appropriate article for a HOLIDAY GIFT, to Old or Young, is the CRAIG MICROSCOPE,
MAGNIFIES 100 DIAMETERS, OR 10,000 TIMES.

Although of a high magnifying power, this Microscope is so simple that a child can use it—for it requires no focal adjustment; therefore it neither fatigues the eye, nor wearies the patience, like other Microscopes.

"The Microscope tells me that in the leaves of every forest, and in the flowers of every garden, and in waters of every rivulet, there are worlds teeming with life, and numberless as the glories of the firmament."—Chalmers.

Parents who wish to instruct and benefit their children, as well as interest and amuse them, will here find the means of doing so.

The popularity of this Instrument is constantly on the increase. Its perfectness as a microscope, its power and its cheapness, are certainly wonderful.

☞ This Microscope, in brass, is sent by mail, postage paid, for $2 25; or with 6 beautiful mounted objects for $3, or with 24 objects for $5, or with 48 objects for $8. In hard rubber for 50 cents in addition to the above prices. MOUNTED OBJECTS, any number desired—from half a dozen to four dozen different objects—can be had at the rate of $1 50 a dozen.

Also, we have an interesting variety of MICROSCOPIC PHOTOGRAPHS—among them is the Lord's Prayer, containing 203 letters on a space less than half the size of a pin's head, but in the Microscope can be read distinctly. These are beautifully mounted on glass slides, and will be sent by mail on receipt of 50 cents each.

Illustrated Circulars, with lists of Mounted Objects and Microscopic Photographs, will be sent on application.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To prevent taking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from Physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

Local.

☞ The fire alarm Tuesday evening, was caused by the burning of a pile of railroad sleepers, near the C. & P. depot—caught probably from an engine.

☞ Rev. Mr. Patterson delivered the first of his course of lectures to the young, on Sunday evening to a full house. His subject was "Health," and many of his remarks were very timely, from which we expect to see good fruit, choosing rather to side with his views in the matter of pure air and exercise than with the Rev. Dr. Stowe in his slight fling at gymnastics on the morning of the same day. The second lecture will be on Sunday evening next, at 7 o clock, in the Universalist Church. Subject "Habits."

☞ The first Lecture of the Course to the Young, by Rev. Mr. Patterson, was delivered at the Universalist Church on Sunday evening. His subject was "Health," and his text 1st John, 2d—14. "I have written unto you, because ye are strong."—He spoke of the vast importance of this subject, which lies at the foundation of all usefulness. C.

☞ The Calendar Clocks, advertised and sold by Mr. Burtt, are certainly very handsome ornaments for the counting-room or library; and are warranted to be correct and reliable time keepers, for the minute and hour, and also day of the week and month.

SINGING SCHOOLS.—Mr. Davis' Classes meet this day, (Wednesday,) afternoon and evening. A few more tickets may be had at Head's Bookstore; and all are requested to show their tickets to the doorkeeper. See advertisement. COM. ARR.

☞ See Mr. Wendell's advertisement of auctions for to-day—sales morning, afternoon and evening. Also, notice that he will have regular similar sales each Wednesday and Saturday hereafter.

☞ The Farm of the late Hon. James Pickering, in Newington, just on the edge of Portsmouth and Greenland—is to be sold at Auction, with all the contents, on Thursday next, as per advertisement. This has not only always been regarded as one of the finest estates in this vicinity, but there are few places so easily susceptible of material "improvements." There is a right of way to the shores of Great Bay, near by, attaching to the place—and a public road could and should be opened thither; and when the new road recently cut through this farm and Mr. Lane's, to Sherburne's Road, shall be continued directly to this city, at Boyd's Road, as it must naturally ere long be—the value of the property will be greatly increased. This sale offers a good chance for investment, or to secure a very beautiful and desirable residence.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

☞ Six or eight hundred substitutes and drafted men from New Hampshire, went on board steamer Forest City, at Boston on Tuesday, with a guard of 50 men, under Col. Donahoe. They are bound to Morris Island, S. C.

☞ The State Treasurer advertises New Hampshire Bonds for sale, this morning. Now's your chance.

On Thursday night last, at about 10 1-2 o'clock, the large barns of the Hon. Joel Eastman, of Conway, were entirely destroyed by fire, with all their contents, consisting of sixty tons of hay, two hundred bushels of corn, seventy or eighty of barley, with all his farming tools and four cattle. Loss about $3500. On Friday evening at 7 o'clock, the barn of L. S. Morton, Esq., Mr. Eastman's nearest neighbor, was destroyed with all his hay and tools. Loss about $500. Both of these fires were undoubtedly the work of an incendiary.—Portland Argus.

—It is stated that the Methodist Theological School in Concord, N. H. is to be removed to Chelsea, where Caleb Pratt has given them an acre of land for a site for their building, and Boston men have contributed ten thousand dollars towards the erection of the building.

—— Last Saturday night, at a low dance in Manchester, whiskey prevailed, a fray began, windows and furniture were smashed, and a fellow named Mack stabbed James Taft in the leg, with a knife or dirk. The Doctor took charge of Taft, and Mack was arrested.

IMPROVEMENTS IN BROADWAY—Helmbold's New Drug Store.—If the lordly Secesh rebels who were wont to promenade Broadway in the Summer and Autumn, and who so confidently predicted that grass would grow in that thoroughfare so soon as they decided to shake the dust off their feet and stop shaking the dust out of their pockets for our benefit, could just take one glance back upon their old promenade, as many of them, we doubt not, would be glad to do, they would discover two things—first, how silly and self-conceited they were, and second, how easily we can do without them. They would find changes in Broadway to be sure, but instead of grass and weeds, they would find marble taking the place of brick, iron the place of wood, and all the evidences of improvement and prosperity, instead of dilapidation and decay. Not the least among the more recent improvements that would strike their attention would be the magnificent new drug store and chemical warehouse opened by the renowned Philadelphia pharmaceutist, Mr. H. T. Helmbold, at No. 594 Broadway, adjoining their old favorite resort, the Metropolitan Hotel. This establishment is just now the lion among the attractions of Broadway, and is daily and nightly drawing crowds to witness its novelty and splendor. If anything can make drugs palatable, it is this, and it would almost compensate one for a fit of sickness to know that the healing prescriptions were to be compounded in such a gorgeous palace. Mr. Helmbold has leased the entire building, which is 28 feet front, 235 feet deep, and 5 stories high. The front half of the first floor is fitted up for the retail department, and the remainder is used for the wholesale business and as a laboratory for the preparation of the various extracts which the name of Helmbold has made so celebrated. The drug store proper is unlike any other heretofore seen in this city, and is probably unequalled in the world. It would be a work of supererogation to give a detailed description of what everybody is flocking to see for himself, but it may not be amiss to mention one novelty connected with the establishment—the reception room. Who ever heard of a reception room in a drug store? And yet, who has not wished, while standing, [frequently a long stand] waiting for his prescription to be prepared, that the keepers of these shops had been considerate enough to furnish more comfortable accommodations? Helmbold has supplied this desideratum in his new establishment, and customers detained there have but to step to the rear of the store, where they will find luxurious chairs, sofas and lounges, on which to recline, while their feet rest upon the softest of velvet carpeting. This feature is only in keeping with the other novelties, and with the general splendor of the establishment. Mr. Helmbold, we understand, still continues his large establishment in Philadelphia, of which the store just opened here is only a branch made necessary by the extensive sale in this market of the popular extracts which bear his name.—N. Y. Daily Times.

Our readers will find a detailed account of Mr. Helmbold's remedies in his advertisement on our fourth page.

THE MICROSCOPE.—The want of a cheap and yet a good instrument of this kind has long been felt, but it has at length been supplied by Mr. Craig. His Microscope is superior to all others in elegance of finish, extent of magnifying power, simplicity of arrangement, and cheapness. But very few people have any idea of the wonders brought to light in the microscope, and now that an instrument can be had so well adapted to popular use, we advise all our readers to avail themselves of the opportunity. The long evenings are at hand and nothing can be procured for the same amount of money which will furnish so much amusement and instruction. The price of the Microscope is $2. Sent by mail for $2.25, or with six mounted objects $3. A fine assortment of objects can be had when desired, at $1.50 per dozen. C. H. Wheeler & Co., 5 and 7 Essex St., Boston, are the manufacturer's agents, and will supply the trade

Mr. J. H. Foster is agent for these microscopes in Portsmouth.

Capt. William Morgan, who was two years and a half a boarder with Mr. Akerman, in the jail in Newburyport, for being concerned in the slave trade, did not long enjoy the liberty which he was so desirous of obtaining. Leaving here he entered upon blockade running, was captured, and is now a prisoner.—Herald.

To every barrel of Flour you can make thirty pounds more Bread or Biscuit (and much better) by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, than by yeast fermentation or any other Saleratus.—It is perfectly healthy, will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs, and cure dyspeptic persons. THE MODEL COOK.
AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!
At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.
The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.
The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.
A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.
A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.
In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.
It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.
No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.
We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.
We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.
It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.
The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.
The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.
The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.
We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will burn and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully, without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table, or dishes to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the convenient institution for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but
THE STANDARD COOK STOVE
Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,
and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements, so that the Stewart Stove of 1862 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED
yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the STEWART COOK STOVE.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require but winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.
Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.
Any one desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. Clocks will be sent to any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.
Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.
FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.
These Boots have been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.
They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and in the Rubber sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.
They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.
When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.
The subscribers, being made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and offer them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 12 Market street.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (ten years,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Wash ington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, for establishing the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for the services so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a mass of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and the Patent Records granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful solicitors with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be assured having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would respectfully call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be controlled day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this highly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air in this furnace is used, all the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given quantity of fuel and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The Magee Furnace has now given the combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The due or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 25 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of bituminous coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without any care or trouble.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

— A returned Maine soldier expresses his gratitude in the Piscataquis Observer, for the kindness and care bestowed upon him by a family in Onio, during a sickness of several weeks. He was an entire stranger to the family, and had no claims upon its hospitality, only such as grew out of the fact that he had faithfully served his country during his term of enlistment. A sick or disabled soldier ought to find friends wherever the blessings of a free government are enjoyed.

THE DUTY ON COAL.— We learn by the Providence papers that a number of benevolent gentlemen, with a view to relief of the poor, have drawn up a petition to Congress for the removal for one year of the duties on coal, as the prices of our home product, if they are not now, may soon become prohibitory, and entail vast suffering. Coal from Pictou comes here duty free; but those who sustain the movement say it is not a desirable article for domestic use, but it is thought that, with the duty off, coal from Scotland can be laid down here at about the same price as the Pictou coal; or at all events costing but a dollar or two more per ton.—Portland Press.

To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 8 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JONIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1863.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CURSLEY, Lee, May 6, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had apparently exhausted physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to sleep quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ELDER I CURSLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26d

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

From information which reached Washington on Tuesday night, the messenger leaving the Army of the Potomac at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, it appears that General Buford on Monday reached a point two miles north of Culpepper, driving rebel cavalry and infantry before him.

Gen. Lee's headquarters on Saturday night were at Brandy Station, five miles south of the Rappahannock. This refutes the belief current in some quarters, that he had gone south to advise with Bragg.

Our army lay in line of battle all day Monday, but Lee declined to accept the issue of an engagement.

Snow fell Monday afternoon along the line of mountains, covering the peaks of the Blue Ridge.

Gen. Kilpatrick occupied Pony Mountain Monday afternoon. Monday night he discovered a large area of camp fires south of the Rapidan, between Racoon ford and Rapidan Station on the railroad. No fires of magnitude were discovered in and around Culpepper. This leads to the inference that Lee has declined to risk a general engagement in the open field and withdrawn his forces, except a small guard, to his former strong post.

A gentleman who arrived at Washington on Tuesday night says our line of battle crossed the Grange and Alexandria Railroad to a point where it is supposed Lee has a full force on our front.

The Evening Transcript, a paper started in Baltimore two weeks since, by Wm. H. Nelson, one of the former proprietors of the Daily Gazette, has been suppressed by order of Gen. Schenck.

Washington dispatches of Wednesday state that the main force of the rebels were at Gordonsville, and making two-forty time for Richmond. Gen. Meade is at —— awaiting supplies. The repair of the railroad to Culpepper is abandoned, and Aquia Creek will be our next base of supplies.—1700 muskets have been gathered as fragments of the recent fight, most of them bearing the "Tower Stamp, 1861", and all are in serviceable condition. Two of the cannon captured were 10-pounder Parrotts, and two 12-pounder Napoleons with caissons, limbers and all complete.

Our forces do not occupy Fredericksburg, Gen. Kilpatrick's cavalry only having visited there on the day before our advance.

If the rebels maintain their position between Culpepper and the Rapidan a battle may yet be fought. This is said to be Lee's chosen battle ground.

Says a dispatch from Warrenton Junction, Nov. 9:—

I learn of no fighting to-day, but several military gentlemen just arrived report passing on the road an hour since, prisoners to the number of 600 or 700, captured to-day, in the vicinity of Culpepper. This will swell our captures to 2500 so far. The artillery captured was sent to Washington today; 58 prisoners captured at Brandy Station this morning, went down in the train this evening.

Refugees coming into Chattanooga report a movement of Bragg's troops to the South; but Longstreet and Forrest are preparing raids to cut off our communications with that important post.

The disaster to Gen. Burnside, reported a day or two ago turns out to be loss of 600 men as prisoners, and 4 cannon, captured by the rebels. "His main army is where it was when the attack was made—in an impregnable position and in good spirits."

A telegraphic dispatch to the Merchant's Exchange, Boston, says Gen. Grant is satisfied with the present position of Burnside's army.

Gen. Buford's cavalry had a fight of two hours on Monday, near Culpepper, and drove the enemy. We lost 50 killed and wounded. Rebel loss not stated. morning, 45 3-8 premium.

Communications.

HIGH PRICES.—In reply to "Bene Volo," please allow me to say he writes as any short-sighted, narrow-minded man would be likely to write, who entertains fears of being called upon to help the poor the coming winter. He speaks of the three-fold cost of most of the necessary articles of life. I would ask the gentleman to point out one single man or body of men, in all the New England States, who have bought goods of the kinds referred to with a view of speculating on them or even holding them for higher prices. Being in business myself, and acquainted with most branches of business of the kind referred to, I can honestly say I know of no one man or body of men who have bought goods or held them with such views.

The farmer who brings to market the surplus fruits of his labor sells them at fair prices. The trader who keeps a stock of goods is getting no more than fair prices. There can be no combination for exorbitant prices, by wholesale or retail dealers, while we are so near other markets as the railroads bring us. Many of the most essential articles of life are selling to-day at retail for less prices than Bene Volo could import a full cargo of the same. My advice to Mr. B. V. is to be more liberal and charitable and less slanderous in future.

TRUTH.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

Dear Chronicle:—

Several times, lately, have we had occasion to visit New Market on business—though usually at a time rather out of regular business hours; either before breakfast or almost after supper, for so the cars run. A quarter before 6 in the morning, is pretty early for most people—but not for printers of Daily morning papers; or you can go to the Junction at 4:10 in the afternoon—and in either case, you may foot it the three miles to the village of "Lamprey River," or get a team for a trifle at the hotel near the depot, for the B. & M. trains won't hit you on time.

New Market is a quiet little town, nestling in a pretty valley, but does considerable business, after all. Among factories and other good things, it has what Portsmouth has so long sorely needed,—a good, complete carriage manufactory, where you can leave your orders for a new carriage, or repairs, with one responsible man, instead of running round to half-a-dozen different mechanics, for your wood and iron work, painting and leather trimming. The various excellent carriage-workers in our city, like most other mechanics, have been overflowed with business, in their several specialities, the past season; and it would seem that a good, complete, well-managed establishment like that of Messrs. Thos. W. Wiley & Co., (whom, by the way, everybody will persist in calling Wil-ley,) at New Market, could find a rich field in Portsmouth, besides being a general accommodation. We wish four of our mechanics would unite thus, in a building suitable for the business here.

Business also called us to Lawrence, for a day or two, last week—and it was handy enough to leave Portsmouth a little before 6, and be in L. at half-past 7; before many people in our good city were out of their beds. In factory places, like L., their habits are earlier. The ride over the C. & P. and B. & M. Roads, was very pleasant on that fine morning; and the number of live people, who travel even thus early, is not small.

We can't well control our impressions, can we? For instance, our splendid new post-office building adds to the good name of Portsmouth, as much as our disgraceful want of a City Hall detracts from it. So if in passing through a place, in the cars say, you see handsome buildings, &c., and boys rush into the cars with the latest local papers, you involuntarily and inevitably form an opinion of the town from the character of these influences.

Thus, a friend in Lawrence told us his whole idea of Portsmouth was derived from the old rattle trap depot which so long disgraced the Eastern Road, and dishonored the city, here. Thank heaven, that stigma is now removed. And a chance acquaintance who also left the cars at L., stopping there for the first time, after passing through often and seeing only the ragged rear side of the mills,—expressed astonishment at finding so much beauty of architecture and fine public grounds in the city.

And wouldn't your opinion, kind reader, of the "navigation" of Portsmouth be affected somewhat differently should you only see some tumble-down wharves,—or otherwise the nice premises of Robinson & Son, Fisher & Eldredge, the C. & P. Railroad, and others? or come upon the four splendid new vessels now rigging, or see the docks empty? Why, once this Chronicle reported a fleet of a couple of hundred or so of vessels, as lying in our Lower Harbor,—for refuge from a storm, of course; and a Boston daily forthwith inferred and stated, that "the trade of Portsmouth was never so great before!"

But it is with Lawrence we are dealing, not Portsmouth—though we should be loth indeed to exchange permanently. It was to attend an auction sale of a printing office, that we were there—for though we never yet desired to kill any newspaper, but have, on the other hand, helped create at least two, still we always like to be in at the death, when they must go. The presses and types of the Lawrence Daily Journal were sold at public vendue, to printers from far and near—a jolly crowd, and a merry sale. Such gambling, too. Nobody could tell,—nobody could half the time see or guess what they were buying. A "pig in the pork" is nothing to it. And yet, strange to say, we saw no buyer who didn't make money by his trade there. And the fun alone would well pay for going, too.

Among the bidders was a tall, gaunt, Yankee-looking Englishman, named Dyson,—not a printer, but an outside speculator; whose frequent purchases of all sorts of traps, caused not a little laughter among the cloth; but when after examination it proved that he had at least doubled his money without moving a thing or investing a cent, the laugh wasn't quite so loud against "Dyson!" And when it was further discovered that the poor fellow had "been to the war," and was minus most of one hand in consequence of a rebel bullet, everybody was glad of his good luck, and helped him to more by buying him out at a handsome advance. So much for Dyson—to whom success!

Then there was Br. Draper of the Andover Advertiser—he of Salisbury Beach memory, whom we regarded as a very demure and "innocent" sort of a gentleman, but who proved keen as a brier; and Garfield of Nashua, and "by gar," didn't he clear the field. And Snow, of the Pathfinder,—stand back when he gets his eye on a lot. We thought we were "some" on buying printing offices, having purchased three or four; but with that trio, O!

Well, the sale was soon over and the goods scattered abroad. "It is nought, it is nought, saith the buyer, and goeth his way and boasteth,"—we fear, almost as badly in these days, as in those horrid bible-times. We secured a car over the Essex Branch of our Eastern Road, and soon filled it,—thence to Salem, through Danvers, &c., home.

While waiting at the depot, they were loading any number of Portsmouth ale-barrels, for Fisher & Co., Jones & Co., and Swindell, to be refilled. Hundreds go that way monthly. An elderly man was loading flour in a wagon from the freight house, and a passing engine started his horse, a nice animal. We were moved to jump and catch the bit, but seeing that he shew no signs of getting out of his wagon to stop his team—for which he had plenty of time ere it moved, we also took things coolly, having long time ago adopted it as our theory, that it is not our duty to try to help other people more than they try to help themselves. Well, nearer came the steam horse, and away went the other horse, with half a load of flour, driver and all—and soon brought up smash against the back end of an open shed, with the mare's head through the boards! But nobody was killed, and the team was soon in place again—and perhaps the horse or driver will learn wisdom for next time—though neither are generally very prone to knowledge, we think.

Speaking of horses reminds me of the item about Bonner's buying "Cloudman," a down-east unknown horse, for $20,000.—Why, he gave only $10,000 for both Lantern and Lady Woodruff, and from $4000 to $6000 apiece for Lady Palmer and gray Peerless herself. And Patchen, the mighty, was sold for only $25,000. Horsemen like Bonner don't take hearsay, or private trials, for low time, either. And although all the papers have it that this cloudy trotter made his half mile in 1:10, thereby beating all on the record, yet even if he had any such time "on the (official) record," which he hasn't—where is Queen Flora's 2:19 3-4 whole mile at Kalamazoo, and the rest of the "swifters'" halves? Men who talk horse, like those who talk gospel, should know whereof they speak.

But we haven't a single jot more time, now—not to say a word of old Salem, nor how glad we were to borrow Conductor Philbrick's Chronicle in the home train, (as you, reader, may be borrowing this, now,) nor hardly to refer to the gorgeous sunset display, as we flew by a field full of great happy boys, playing foot-ball,—nor the mistake we made, when we wondered at so many passengers looking eagerly at the western glow, when in fact it was the foot-ballers only they saw.

Yours always. F.

BOUNTIES.—It is very desirable that there should be a uniform system of bounties, so that each volunteer may get very nearly the same amount. The States of Connecticut and Massachusetts are to have extra sessions of the legislature for the purpose of securing uniformity in this particular. Nothing is gained by paying exorbitant bounties, but an amount sufficient to pay every man who volunteers as much, or more, than he can earn elsewhere, should be raised. It has been supposed that $300 in addition to the bounty offered by the Federal Government is a sufficient pecuniary inducement to procure volunteers. If, with such inducements, together with the love of country that should inspire every loyal citizen, the requisite number of men cannot be obtained, let the draft be resorted to. This amount could be raised by the State, or partly by the State, and the balance by the towns and cities, with the understanding that the amount shall be uniform.—Portland Press.

FROM JAPAN.—Dates have been received at San Francisco from Hakodadi, Japan, up to Oct. 6. The Prince of Nagasaki had issued orders that Jaleph Hew, a Japanese, formerly of San Francisco, and the Japanese pilots who conducted the Wyoming to Simonaski, should be killed. One of these pilots was murdered soon afterwards. The chief Minister and three other Ministers of the Cabinet had been dismissed because they were in favor of peace with the Christian nations. The authorities ordered all foreigners to leave Nagasaki, but the foreigners refused, and the Japanese Governor resigned.

The Mikado had issued an order that no Daimio should purchase any foreign vessel.

☞ We learn from the Eastport Sentinel that Mr. William Rose of that town, was killed on Monday last while blasting a ledge at the new battery. He had lighted the fuse, and after waiting a short time went to ascertain why there was no explosion. While examining the condition of the fuse the explosion occured, and he received the whole force of it directly in the face, causing instant death.

— John B. Holmes, a civil engineer, doing business in New York, was arrested on Saturday last on a charge of murder committed ten years ago. The murdered man was a police officer named Gourley, whom Holmes stabbed to the heart while in his custody for breaking the peace.

— The dwelling house of the late Washington Perkins, of Cape Neddick, was consumed by fire on the evening of Oct. 20.—Insured for $200 in the Eliot Company. The house was unoccupied.

Home is the residence not merely of the body but of the heart; it is a place for the affections to unfold and develope themselves; for children to love and learn, and play in; for the husband and wife to toil smilingly together, and make life a blessing.

The bulls and bears are tussling beautifully in Wall street—at last accounts the former were getting into chancery.

"Jennie June" says the Empress scarf, with its enormous bows and ends, will be fashionable this season.

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may choose the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other Paper.

The place is attainable by four roads already—until a fifth direct shall be opened through. You can go now by either Gosling or Greenland Road, to the Road along Great Bay, on which the estate lies; or by either of same roads, to Sherburne's Road, and through the new and beautiful wooded road across Mr. Lane's farm.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— On the 19th ult., J. W. Simonds, of Franklin, and his hired lad of 17 years, buskoel and carried into the corn barn sixty bushels ears of corn in ten hours.

——The first of September, a man calling himself John Colby, of East Weare, hired a horse and carriage of Geo. W. Cheney, of Manchester, to go to his father's in Weare. The fellow proved to be, as it was afterwards ascertained, an old rogue; and Mr. Cheney heard nothing from his property until a day or two since, when he received a letter from Canada, saying the horse was there. The man saw the reward in the Mirror, and recognized the horse by the description.

—— The Nashua Iron Company, now extensively engaged on work for the government gunboats, have just purchased the Hartshorn & Ames' Foundry for the purpose of converting it into a Rolling Mill where they will employ 75 or 100 additional workmen.

—— Weare was the first town in its Congressional District to fill its quota from the present draft. Sixty were drafted, being fifty per cent. more than is required.—Forty have already been accepted or their substitutes. Goffstown is second, including the surplus of enlisted men; and Amherst is third.

—— Maj. S. Farnsworth arrived at Manchester on the 10th from New Orleans. H. F. Barney and J. M. Leighton, members of the 8th regiment, and belonging in Nashua, came by the same steamer. Both of these soldiers were wounded at Port Hudson.

—— Speaking of the late fires in Conway, the Boston Journal says of Mr. Eastman's loss, $3500 and no insurance:—

"There is no doubt that the fire was the result of political animosity, as Mr. Eastman's premises had been threatened with destruction by Copperheads."

Then of Mr. Morton's, $200 and no insurance, it says:

"The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. Mr. Morton is a Democratic Representative in the Legislature.—There is a deal of bitter political feeling in Conway, and the Republicans keep vigilant watch upon their houses and barns to prevent their being burnt."

It is a sad fact that this bitterness has been mostly produced by certain papers too vile to be named, which seem to be managed on purpose to deceive, debase and brutalize their ignorant readers, and their still more ignorant neighbors who do not read, but to whom the ignorant readers repeat the constant abusive falsehoods of the pernicious prints. U. T.

—— Miss Fannie Riddell, of Manchester, has made a very successful debut at the Gottschalk Concerts in New York City: so says the editor of the Manchester Mirror, who heard her at Irving Hall, Saturday afternoon.

"THE EMPEROR NAPOLEON IN A DECLINE.—A Paris correspondent says that a great change for the worse has come over Napoleon during the past year. His disease, though not fully developed, is an affection of the spine, and it is thought that his death will be a sudden one."—Exchange.

If the death is sudden we may well expect a sudden change in the affairs of Europe. We doubt if the volatile Frenchmen would shout: "Le roi est mort; Vive le roi." They would be thinking of something besides the Prince Imperial.—Portland Adv.

—— The Burgundians like large vine snails. They are served, in good houses, seven or eight on a hot little silver plate, and a silver two pronged fork is the instrument with which they are pulled out of the shell, the entrance of which is covered by a sort of light pastry. They feel in the mouth something like a tough piece of beefsteak. The plateful is enough for one dinner, the snails are so big and the meat is so strong.

There is talk of a slave revolt in Cuba. Let it come; slavery might just as well close up there now as any time.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ There is many a mother's heart, both North and South, which will beat responsive to the following chaste lines from the Natchez Courier:

A MOTHER WAITING FOR THE NEWS.

How wearily the hours pass,
Since through the ambient air
The lightning flashed the startling fact,
A battle has been there—
There, where my noble, honest boy
The path of fame pursues—
But oh! my aching heart will burst
While waiting for the news

Wounded, upon that gory field,
Forsaken he may die—
No mother there, to wet his lips,
Nor raise his hopes on high;
Disfigured, stained, his features marr'd
By many a scar and bruise;
Ah, who can tell what mothers feel
While waiting for the news!

Ye wise men, who have made this war
To make all mankind free,
Oh! know you not this boy of mine
Was all the world to me!
If he is gone, what have I left!
What comfort can I choose!
A mother's heart condemns your deeds,
While waiting for the news.

If I am wrong, oh! God forgive
This throbbing heart and brain!
But who can justify their aims
If my poor boy is slain!
Yet they, whose sons are safe at home,
May take far different views,
And cry aloud, "More blood, more blood"—
Oh God, send me good news!

— The Italian Society in New York propose to give a concert to raise a monument for Anita Garibaldi, the first wife of the Italian hero. She was a South American, but died in Italy—a martyr in the struggle for Italian freedom, fifteen years ago. She was a brave and noble woman, and suited to be the wife of a great chief.

Mme. R——, of Paris, who is still a coquette in her advanced maturity, came to a private evening party after 11 o'clock. "How late you are my charmer!" said the mistress of the house to her, reprovingly. "I am quite ashamed," answered Mme.——; "but my maid is so very slow, she takes more than an hour and half to do my hair." "Fortunately," observed one of her friends, "you are not obliged to stay at home while she is doing it."

— The Ellsworth American says a little girl belonging to one of the schools in that town, was run over by a lumber team a few days since, the wheel passing over her neck. Strange to say, she jumped up and ran into the school house, saying, "it did not hurt her much."

A new project for the restoration of peace appears in the New Orleans Delta, which includes the payment of the rebel war debt. Fine! we can't stop to think about our own debt till the war is over.—Newburyport Herald.

— The scarcity of paper money is attributed to the calling in of funds by Washington fashionables to buy pretty things for Miss Chase's wedding.

THE MODEL COOK.
AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!
At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.
The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.
The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.
A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.
A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.
In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.
It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.
No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.
We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.
We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.
It was brought into market three years since, and has constantly into use.
The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.
The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.
The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.
We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—is—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, up on the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Of, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP OVEN, a cool fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the flue.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat can be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the ball climber, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gall the public, to which we invite your attention; but
THE STANDARD COOK STOVE
Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and now found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1862 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED
yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having been the agent for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as any Clock, including the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the Clock. They will be sent to any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed in the neatest form, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventions have advantages for securing Patents, not accordingly the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THIS PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and no SUCCESS IN THE BEST OF PLACES OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of Specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in the form most favorable for them and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be assured of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, has prosecuted to final decisions SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.
The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that real
Pure Bourbon Whiskey,
when made as it ought to be, from
WHEAT, RYE AND CORN,
is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of this article a specialty in his business, he has accepted the General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky, and in future will sell, under the brand of
"Golden Sheaf,"
PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.

The celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and also kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in half barrels and kegs.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St, Boston.

Each bottle is enclosed in a neat pasteboard box, to ensure its safe transportation.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stoves, hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the headache and disagreeable headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The communing heat is lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The use or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the generated, escaping the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every inn fall!"

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party generality. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

JEFF. DAVIS' CORRESPONDENCE.

CONFIDENTIAL.

Stemlands, near Edgefield, June 16, 1860.

My Dear Colonel:—The looker-on can sometimes see more than the gamester.—Such being your situation at this time, in reference to our affairs in South Carolina, I hope I may appeal to you for council and suggestions, for people are very much in earnest, but there is fear of disunion and intestine contest.

An issue has been made before the people, making it imperative on our convention to put South Carolina on a trial of separate secession. How will such a move affect the party of true union in your State? Will it help you or will it impair the strength or interfere with the onward movements of the State's rights parties in other States? I believe that this State could be induced to make any sacrifice for the common cause of those who contend that the general government is a Confederacy, and not a consolidated government.—If it is the latter character, then the Southern States are doomed to degraded subordination.

They can hold their rights by no other tenure than sufferance. Should South Carolina move alone without the assurance from her neighbors of co-operation, she will, I fear, make a vain sacrifice.

Give me your opinion confidentially, as to the course she should pursue, so far as it may affect the interest of other Southern States. Do write freely.

Believe me, yours with the highest respect, (Signed) A. P. BUTLER.

COL. JEFFERSON DAVIS, Mississippi.

The above is a revelation of the determined treason and rebellion, plotted beforehand by the oligarchy who devised a great slave empire, in which there should be no State Rights, nor any other rights except that of the few to lord it over the many.

This letter was written when Butler, Davis & Co. knew they could elect Douglas and Stevens, if they would, by a very large majority. But they cared nothing for the Democratic party, which they had led so long, nothing for the nation or the Union, but only for their favorite slave power.—Douglas had dared to rebel against this in one single case, the Lecompton Candlebox swindle; and he must be crushed. The traitors Breckinridge and Lane must be put in power, and so slavery become National, or they would make war and rebellion.—They did make war and rebellion—against which the Nation is trying to defend itself, and indeed to defend its own existence.

C. T.

☞ It is understood that the U. S. soldiers now held as prisoners in Richmond are suffering; and the rebels neither parole nor exchange them. The Newburyport Herald says, speaking of this state of things:

The remedy for the evil is to march the Federal army to Richmond, and liberate them. For two and a half years we have been trying to reach that point; if the President to-day would make a call for a hundred thousand men for that special purpose, to be mustered out of the service as soon as it was accomplished, we believe Richmond would be taken before New Year's. They would rush to the rescue of the 12,000 Americans kept there to starve, as they did to the rescue of Washington.

— In Strong, Me., last week, half the population turned out to kill an alleged bear that had taken possession of a crooked point in a road, called the "Devil's Elbow." They bravely but cautiously marched upon the enemy, and with a volley of five balls killed the largest and noblest Newfoundland dog in the country.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. apu9

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla, Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and one bottle of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it; since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been troubled for a number of months without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I know of no medicine equal to the one that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may25o

THE REBELLION.

At the head quarters of the army of the Potomac Tuesday afternoon, Col. Upton, who commanded the brigade which last Saturday successfully charged and captured the enemy's works, accompanied by deputations from each of the regiments participating in the assault, presented Gen. Meade with eight battle-flags taken at that time.—Gen. Meade acknowledged them with a speech.

Gen. M. issued a general order on the 9th in which he congratulates the army on the recent successful passage of the Rappahannock, in the face of the enemy, compelling him to withdraw to his intrenchments behind the Rapidan.

To Major General Sedgwick, and the officers and men of the 5th and 6th corps, participating in the attack—particularly to the storming party, under Brig. Gen. Russell—his thanks are due for the gallantry displayed in the assault on the enemy's intrenched position of Rappahannock Station, resulting in the capture of four guns, 2000 small arms, 8 battle flags, one bridge train, and 1600 prisoners.

To Major General French and the officers and men of the 3d corps engaged, particularly to the leading column, commanded by Col. De Trobriand, his thanks are due for the gallantry displayed in the crossing at Kelley's Ford and the seizure of the enemy's entrenchments and the capture of over 400 prisoners.

On the evening of the 8th, Gen. Meade reported to Gen. H. W. Halleck, Gen.-in-Chief:—This A. M., in advancing from Kelley's Ford, it was found that the enemy had retired during the night. The morning was so smoky, that it was impossible to ascertain the position of the enemy at Rappahannock Station, and it was not until the arrival of the column from Kelley's Ford that it was definitely known that the position at the Rappahannock was evacuated. The army was put in position and the pursuit continued by the infantry to Brandy Station, and by the cavalry beyond.

Gen Meade's detailed report of the battle of Gettysburg, dated Oct. 1st, was officially promulgated on Wednesday at Washington. The result of the campaign may be briefly stated in the defeat of the enemy at Gettysburg, the compulsory evacuation Pennsylvania and Maryland, and his withdrawal from the Upper Valley of Shenandoah, and in the capture of 3 guns, 41 standards and 13,621 prisoners. 24,978 small arms were collected on the field. Our own losses were very severe, amounting to 2834 killed, 13,709 wounded and 6,643 missing. In all 23,186. He adds his tribute to the heroic bravery of the whole of the army, officers and men.

The official Army and Navy Gazette says the intimation made in several papers, that the Secretary of War has communicated a modification of the order in reference to the discharge of minors from the military service by civil courts, is an error. No such modification has been made.

Adj. Gen. Thomas, in a communication to the War Department, dated Natchez, Miss., says it is a significant fact that while transports in the river have been fired into by the rebels, not a single shot has come from that bank of the river covered by by leased plantations, extending for 75 miles above Vicksburg, which shows the importance to commerce of lining the river with a loyal population. He says that on the 15th ult. the gathering of cotton was in full operation. This experiment, adopted hastily and from necessity with many, misgivings of employing freed-men at wages on leased plantations, he now regards as a complete success.

Rev. H. M. Turner, colored pastor of the Israel Bethel Church in Washington, has been appointed Chaplain of the first regiment of U. S. colored troops now in South Carolina.

Special despatches from Cincinnati give an account of a singular story about two suspicious vessels discovered yesterday hovering about Sandusky Bay, supposed to be fitted up by secessionists in Canada, aided by their sympathizers there and in the United States. The supposed object is to release the rebel prisoners on Johnson's Island and commence piracy on the lakes and pillage on the land. A battery of Parrott guns was ordered forthwith to the Island. It may be a scare. There is however, more feasibility in such an enterprise than in the alleged conspiracy discoveries. Possibly it is part of that abortive plot.

The N. Y. Tribune's correspondence from Gen. Meade's headquarters, Nov. 11, states that our forces encountered a division of the enemy near Culpepper, Monday evening. The next morning our whole army was put in motion, the cavalry leading.—Gen. Fitzpatrick dashed through Culpepper without meeting a rebel, and the infantry followed. Fitzpatrick then rode into Stevensburg, but still no enemy. On Tuesday noon our whole army was in motion after an invisible enemy, who was fleeing southward.

From our Regular Correspondent.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.

Dear Chronicle:—As predicted in my last the State elections went against the Democrats, and that too by a majority much beyond general anticipation.

There was a falling off of ten thousand in the Democratic city vote, many of the candidates being objectionable. By the fusion of the two factions there were "more pegs than holes to put them in," as our facetious President says of his Generals, and to secure an amicable settlement the names of the candidates, together with some foisted by petty political cliques, were put together and the ticket made up from the lots drawn.

The result was general dissatisfaction in the ranks, and the appearance of several names on the list whose owners it would "be base flattery to call villains,"—men who never were respectable and have deteriorated much of late,—whose suspension would be profitable if hemp was at a very low figure. When political cliques foist up for political emolument and trust such men, they most inevitably fail to enlist the sympathy of those even whose predilections are in their favor. Such was a local influence.

The result throughout the State may be accounted for in the general revulsion of public sentiment from the peace doctrine, and the disappointment and chagrin of a certain class, who find in Gov. Seymour carefully put into President Lincoln's vest pocket, the only realization of their vague and unaccountable hopes founded on the wild promises of the Governor regarding State Supremacy.

The result is but a repetition of the lesson in the Federalist and Whig experience, that only that party rides on the road to success, which follows the dust cloud round the chariot wheels of war!

The ball to the Russians was the other event of the week. One of those grand terpsichorean fetes into which Gothamites dive headlong semi-occasionally. A compound of magnificent success and miserable failure. An affair of brilliant appointments and uncomfortable confusion. Cost, $50,000.

The cuisine was by Delmonico, the Academy was re-painted, re-gilded, re-upholstered, re-mirrored, and re-packed! The tickets were held by a committee of 300,—a certain number by each, and some sold as high as $75—seventy-five dollars for a single ticket! It was a magnificent spectacle—two millions of silk and jewelry flashing beneath the gas-lights,—four thousand persons striving to dance where three thousand couldn't stand,—four thousand mouths opening to a supper designed for two thousand. There was a great mistake somewhere in those little bits of pasteboard which read "Admit."

The Herald says that "Lannigan's Ball" was nowhere beside it—that it was a very wonderful and indescribable phantasmagoria of humanity. The frantic few struggling against the determined many,—a mere array of crude material, moved a little this way, a little that, but not a dance; and adds further, "we observed two detectives at the door, a fact suggestive that the committee thought that some of its members might, to say the least, make mistakes; and after mature deliberation, we think they not only might mistake, but did so." But these comments of the Herald must be diluted with the fact that Mrs. Herald was obliged to get her ticket as "other people" did, and was not one of the "invited honoraries." All in all this Sorje Russe was a brilliant affair. It had the advantage of the Japanese Ball, inasmuch as its principal guests were a trifle more attractive in form and feature: and it had the advantage of the Prince of Wales Ball, inasmuch as it was "honor where honor is due," and not an ovation to a people whose principle is their own selfish interest, their pretended friendship a base hypocrisy, their philanthropy a lie! N.

THE REBELLION.

Our advance on Saturday effected one of its objects in the preservation of 24 miles of road and telegraph between the Rappahannock and Rapidan; both are in perfect working order. The railroad bridge across the Rappahannock will be done Monday.

The rebel Gen. Richardson made a dash on the Memphis and Charleston railroad, interrupting the telegraph for one day, and the railroad for two days.

Gen. Burnside has taken over 1500 prisoners since he went into Tennessee, independent of the garrison at Cumberland Gap, putting us far ahead of the rebels.

Our ships of war have captured four more blockade runners, viz: 11th ult., British steamer Cornubia, from Nassau for Wilmington, by gunboats Niphon and James Adger. On the 9th the James Adger captured the rebel steamer R. E. Lee, from Halifax for Wilmington. The Niphon on the same day captured steamers Ella and Anna, from Nassau for Wilmington. They were loaded with stores and ammunition.

There was but little important army news on Thursday. The rebels are reported to have retreated to Gordonsville. Gen. Lee is said to be in the Southwest.

"BIBLE VIEW OF POLYGAMY."—Under this title an anonymous pamphleteer directs a keen satire against Bishop Hopkins of Vermont for his pro-slavery views. The writer dedicates his work to the Bishop, and remarks:

An admirer, like yourself, of the institutions of old, I should hardly have dared to declare those truths to a perverse and self-glorifying generation, had I not been emboldened by the example of one who so worthily wears the highest honors of the church. In constructing my argument, therefore, as I have done, with paragraph after paragraph of your very words, it has been because I felt it necessary to shield myself behind your authority from the charge, which ignorant presumption might else have brought, of irreverently travesty-ing the Word of God.

He then goes on to construct an argument to prove the lawfulness of polygamy, following the Bishop's reasoning on the slavery question, and shows that although practiced by Jacob, David, Solomon, and other Bible worthies, yet the sacred volume nowhere condemns the custom; and further, that while it was in full existence among the Jews during his sojourn on earth, the Saviour never alluded to it, thus tacitly approving this "peculiar institution," while St. Paul also inferentially authorizes it. He therefore contends that polygamy has the sanction of the Bible. In conclusion, he thus exclaims against the "bigotry" of those who denounce polygamy:

"Thus the mistaken bigotry of the community, acting through the time-serving pliancy of politicians, has disfigured our statute-books with laws which place a ban upon this patriachal institution. Noble Christian souls in our midst, yearning to revert to the hallowed rites of old, are obliged to practice them covertly, and under the opprobrious name of bigamists are tracked and persecuted as felons, martyred like the primitive Christians under Decius and Diocletian. When some, bolder than the rest, founded on the banks of the Mississippi a community, which they fondly hoped by its happiness and purity might convert a stiff-necked generation, they were driven from their homes by uncontrolled fanaticism. When, after sufferings unspeakable, these martyrs of Scriptural faith at length found a refuge in the far distant desert, and their prosperity testified to their righteousness, still the persecutor was upon their heels, and the whole nation, as Mr. Floyd's acceptances will testify, poured forth its money like water for the pitiful pleasure of reforming their domestic observances."

This brochure is a capital satire on the Bishop's defense of slavery.

NEW YORK CITY.—Mayor Opdyke having declined a re-election, Orison Blunt has been nominated by the Union Committee. The Herald says "his character is aptly expressed by his name. He is openly and honestly Blunt. As an Alderman he was distinguished by his care for the public finances and his strict integrity. The same unusual and commendable qualities have made him a very efficient Supervisor." The Mozart Hall (Copperhead) faction of the Democracy have nominated C. Godfrey Gunther, a German by birth, and a man of the Fernando Wood stamp. He was chairman of the great disunion peace meeting last spring which sowed the seeds of the terrible riot in that city." The Tammany Hall Democracy have nominated City Inspector Boole, a man of a better stamp.

☞ Our late New Orleans files bring intelligence of the death of Col. Thomas J. Wells, of Rapides parish, one of the best known and most popular citizens of Louisiana. He died on a journey in Texas, at the age of fifty-five. He was especially celebrated as a turfman, his career on the turf having been long, honorable and successful, and no more brilliant ornament of the turf either in America or England has existed in our day. He is the only American who has bred a winner of the Goodwood Cup, and Cesarewitch Stakes in England; for Starke and Frioress were bred by him. They, Reel, Linnet, Rigadoon, Hornpipe, Lecomte, Ann Dunn, and many other famous horses were his property.

☞ The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle says the powder to be used by the rebels in the monster Blakely guns at Charleston is quite a curiosity, looking like anything else than gunpowder; the grains—if they can be so called—being solid blocks, looking like ebony, one inch square; it would be supposed that they were projectiles themselves, by their appearance, each grain weighing about one ounce.

☞ A woman, before the Recorder's Court, in New Orleans, was charged with being drunk and abusive and for having no means of support. When the officer told her the latter part of the charge she raised her dress, exposing her ankles, and said: "What do you call them?"

— A New York firm ordered their female employees to leave their hoops at home, as the touching of the skirts injured the work at which they were engaged. The girls preferred to leave the establishment rather than their hoops.

— A fine Arabian horse, presented to Jeff. Davis, which had been awaiting a passage in Nassau for some months, has arrived in Dixie, having safely run the blockade.

— In Philadelphia, Nov. 11, the sales of five-twenties amounted to $1,101,250 Deliveries of Bonds in moderate amounts are still made on receipt of subscriptions. The daily receipts from the West average over half a million, notwithstanding the reported scarcity of money.

☞ Gen. B. F. Butler, who hoped to lecture here before the lyceum, now sends a negative, with the reason assigned, that he is ordered on duty.

— An "Irish gentleman," perhaps a king, has been discovered by some laborers at Dromeliby, Ireland. His stone coffin was nine feet long.

— Nearly all the ballet girls and figurantes employed at the Paris theatres are now English girls.

—Calico is eight dollars a yard in Mobile, and new boots are one hundred dollars a pair.

— Flour is one hundred dollars a barrel in Richmond.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which IMMEDIATE and LONG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be scored, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from Physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

Local.

☞ The fire in the pile of railroad sleepers at the C. & P. Depot, the other evening, is thought to have been set by rascally boys, and not by engine sparks.

And we are informed that the boy who was so seriously, perhaps fatally injured by a moving freight train there, recently, was not riding on the car, but just climbing on unseen, at the time. No officials are more careful and efficient than those of the C. & P. R. R.

☞ A brisk trade is now going on between the venders of the Internal Revenue stamps and the storekeepers who sell proprietary articles. A notification has been received by all dealers in such articles, that the revenue stamp law will be enforced to the letter. Our merchants have been quite busy for the past week in stamping bottles of ink, mucilage, Spalding's and other kinds of glue, perfumery, blacking, soap, patent medicines, playing cards, and in fact every thing that is offered for sale in a box, bottle, or similar enclosure, that the manufacturer claims to be his production, and that is made by a private formula or occult secret. After the 1st of February, 1864, these articles are obliged to be stamped by the manufacturers.

☞ An excitement was got up at the Navy Yard a few days since, when it was reported among the workmen that orders had been received from Washington to stop work on the Alabama. The commotion subsided towards night when the joke leaked out, and it was understood that the name of the vessel had been changed to New Hampshire.

☞ We learn that the Mercantile Library Association will not have a course of lyceum lectures this season.

☞ Mr Joseph Foster of this city, formerly with E. F. Sise & Co., of late Captain's Clerk of U. S. steamer Augusta, has been appointed Acting Assistant Paymaster in the Navy.

☞ Mr. James M. Goodrich of this city has been appointed Acting 3d Assistant Engineer in the Navy, and ordered to U. S. steamer Magnolia.

☞ The fine schooner Mary Willey recently made the run from New York to Portsmouth in thirty-two hours.

INTERESTING RELIC.—In the old Washington Lodge room, at Alexandria, Va., where the "Father of his country" used to engage in Masonic labor, is a relic which every son of New Hampshire may feel proud of. It consists of a model of a three decker, its broadsides contrived to run out upon touching a concealed spring. Upon the attached card is the following inscription:

"THE AMERICA.—Model of a ship of the line, being the first that was built in the United States. During the Revolution, Congress resolved that each State should build a ship of 74 guns, and New Hampshire was the only State which carried that order into complete effect. Toward the close of the war, a French 74, while nobly aiding the American cause, was accidentally lost on a shoal off Cape Cod, Massachusetts, and Congress, gratified for past services, reinstated their loss, by giving the 74, (of which this model is a representation,) to the French Government. The ship was built and equipped at the highly loyal and patriotic town, Portsmouth, the capital of New Hampshire, and the war having ended, she sailed for France; however, previous to her departure, the Viscount de Barras, an officer on board, made this miniature and sent it to Gen. George Washington, who gave it to George Washington Parke Custis, Esq., and by the latter it was presented to this Museum, January 5, 1812."

CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD.—The stillness and quiet of peaceful times reigned at the Charlestown Navy Yard on Wednesday, as the mechanics and laborers in all departments left their work because of a requirement that the hours of labor shall be "from sunrise to sunset, when the time between falls short of ten hours," allowing one hour for dinner. So generally have those formerly employed at the Yard absented themselves that at the calling of the roll, only 500 men out of 3300 at work answered to their names.

The law provides that the hours of labor at the yard shall be determined by the customary time in similar employments in the immediate vicinity. It is somewhat difficult to average the time of establishments out of the yard, and apply it to work within the yard, but the Department, with the light it had on the subject, saw fit to issue the order, the substance of which we have given above. The workmen are not satisfied with it, and have accordingly abandoned their work.

The following prices are paid at that yard, to first-class workmen: Caulkers, $3 per day; carpenters, $3; blacksmiths, machinists, boiler-makers, boatbuilders, joiners and blockmakers, $2.76; plumbers, coppersmiths, tinmen, sailmakers, coopers and spermakers, $2.50; ropemakers, $2 a 2.50; painters, $2.26; masons, $2.26 a 2.50.

Very few business men, master mechanics, clerks, or professional men, get such wages for nine hours' work in a day. And we think it is rather sorry patriotism which makes a man who won't go to war for his country, refuse to serve it safely at home for a great deal more pay and a great deal less work than the gallant volunteer gets. Out upon such strikes!

CONTENT.

FROM THE GERMAN.

To the Past I bid good-bye,
To the Future my good-morrow;
In the Present gayly I
Live without a care or sorrow.
Anna, dear! while you are near,
All the Future I ask is here.

In the sunshine of the Now,
Like a flower, am I basking.
What may be to come, or how,
Still I like a fool be asking!
Anna, dear! while you are near,
All the heaven I ask is here.

To lure pleasures that have flown,
Retrospection was invented.
Every one, indeed, must own
Hope is for the discontented.
While you're near, my Anna dear!
All my Paradise is here.

A dispatch from Sandusky, Ohio, Nov. 11, does not believe the story of a pirate in Sandusky bay, to release the rebel prisoners on Johnson's island, where there are about 2000:—but the Sec. of War telegraphs to the Mayor of Buffalo that there has been a plot of that kind. A gunboat has been stationed, and other measures taken to stop the movement.

—The New York evening Post mentions a rumor that Secretary Chase has decided to issue $25,000,000 legal tender currency to relieve the money market.

—Gold opened in New York Thursday morning at 146 5-8. At 1 o'clock gold was quoted at 147.

SOLDIERS' SPECIAL NOTICE.—Do your duty to yourselves, protect your health, use HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT. For Wounds, Sores, Bowel Complaints and Fevers, they are a perfect safeguard. Full directions how to use them with every box. Only 25 cents. 210.

To every barrel of Flour you can make thirty pounds more Bread or Biscuit (and much better) by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, than by yeast fermentation or any, other Saleratus.—It is perfectly healthy, will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs, and cure dyspeptic persons. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try one paper, and you will be convinced. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor Stove is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.

We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

THE BOYS FROM GETTYSBURG.—Yesterday a very interesting scene took place at the Soldier's Reading Room. Since the reopening of the room the ladies in charge have been treating the inmates of the various hospitals, wherever able to spend a few hours with them, to ice cream, and cake, and dinner, where it was desired. Within a week, seventeen hundred wounded soldiers have partaken of their hospitality. Yesterday about 280 were gathered into their rooms, the lame, and blind and maimed. It was a sorrowful sight to see so many stalwart men crippled for life. One could not but remark how large a proportion went upon crutches. At one time 24 soldiers sat round the dining table; each with only one leg; and all these were our Gettysburg boys—these were the brave shields that stood between the rebel invaders and our fair city.

About one o'clock Rev. Dr. Newton addressed them for ten minutes or so. He spoke good, stirring words of thanks and praise to the men who had saved us by shedding their blood, and then all joined in singing the doxology, and then he lifted up his hands blessingwise and said: "God bless you, soldiers of Gettysburg." I saw one rough, old, six-footer, furtively draw his sleeve across his eyes; there were tears there; surely they had watered his heart and he was blessed. After this the ice cream and cake were served. The ladies, with their dainty caps and aprons, tripping hither and thither among the blue coats, the faces of the boys shining cheerily as they passed the saucer and the cake, made a picture that did one's heart good.—Philadelphia Press.

THE BEST COOK STOVE

IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID,

—IS—

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,

SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVE,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE, that is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and charr from the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep a family in a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET where articles ready for the oven may be placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TIN COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the juices, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer draw, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the same work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of CLEANLINESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements, so that the Stewart stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1843, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to keep the minutes and hours of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a CLOCK will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign patents, to ascertain the validity of claims of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents or ascertaining the patentability of their inventions unsurpassed by if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that some of RECENT SUCCESS will, at THE PATENT OFFICE, that the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has been successful in procuring, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, give him, beyond question, to offer superior facilities to obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure patents, with the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, and in 10 of the cases in which patents have been granted, and that is none pending, such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plates, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin reservoir on top of the oven, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling out of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and some of them in the highest terms of praise

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, which will supply a room, and a pipe of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the great est amount of heat from a given amount of fuel and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over common stoves, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass through the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the stove can be made to burn some the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 20 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron M. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER is a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet costs only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.

Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.

Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!

He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results, to call and be convinced.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr BURNETT, for particular success in extracting teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations found in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
Its world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Its love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of a popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

THE ENGLISH POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANK.—The Postoffice Savings Bank is now established in every considerable town in the United Kingdom. It is open from 9 A. M. till 5 P. M., and receives deposits of one shilling or over, but not to exceed £30 in any one year. This invention appears to be superseding the ordinary savings banks. The advantages are thus set forth:—1. It will be just as safe there as in the Bank of England as you now have Government security. 2. It is near to you—at your Post Office. 3. It is open eight hours of each working day. 4. You may put in any sum not less than one shilling.—5. You will have a fair interest for your money. 6. You will be at no expense, as there are no charges for books, forms, or postage; no entrance fees or fines. 7. You can have your money out in three or four days. 8. Women and children can put money in their own names. 9. If you deposit your money in one town, and remove to another, you may go on depositing at the latter. 10. Your money put into the Post Office Bank may, if you require it, be paid to you, at the office in another town. 11. None will know where or what you deposit as all paymasters are forbidden to give any one the names of depositors; or the amounts put in, except to the Post Office authorities. 12. Your money will be for your use in sickness, the hour of need, or old age."

— An interesting decision under the confiscation act of Aug. 6, 1861, has been made in the U. S. Circuit Court at Nashville, Tenn., affirming the ground that real estate, equally with personal property, is liable to be taken under that act.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, in all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unmitigated extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most aggravated cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of renewal and impaired blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful swellings and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases arising from a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of the case, and the money.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges a superior in the United States.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 25, 1863. "Thereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it; since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CRESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but instead of grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Blotches, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Richmond papers contain Charleston dispatches to the 10th. The whole number of shot and shell fired at Sumter during the bombardment is 9546, of which 1700 struck.

The Richmond Examiner admits a rebel defeat on the Rappahannock. Hoke's and Hayes's brigades were captured.

Little Rock advices say that Colonel Caldwell, with 7,000 cavalry, entered Arkadelphia on the 28th ultimo, and found the rear guard of Price's army just leaving town. Our forces attacked and routed them, capturing a large number of their wagons and taking several hundred prisoners. Caldwell then destroyed a large powder mill and great quantities of stores and ammunition. He now holds the town.

A contraband who left Gordonsville on Monday morning says that the whole rebel army was encamped on the railroad above Gordonsville, having recrossed the Rapidan on Saturday and Sunday. They were making arrangements for winter quarters, but for the last day or two a panic was excited by stories of Meade's advancing in immense force. He says a large cavalry force was sent westward to attack Burnside before Lee made his move northward in October.

The N. Y. Times' Washington dispatch of Thursday states that detachments of our infantry and cavalry on that morning handsomely thrashed Stuart's cavalry near Mitchell's Station.

The rest of the army was quiet, but it is the quiet that precedes the storm. We now hold all the ground in Culpepper Co. that we held six weeks ago.

Lee's soldiers are well fed, however hungry Richmond may be. Through the winter camps on the south side of the Rappahannock, our advance found empty tin cans, once filled with prepared meats and vegetables, and bearing the stamp of New York and Baltimore. Lee's troops are hard up for shoes and clothing. The rebels on their retreat destroyed the bridges that spanned the Rapidan river.

A Chattanooga dispatch of the 11th inst. says all is quiet in front, and the positions are mainly unchanged. Any discussion of prospective movements would be contraband. 60,000 men is a low estimate of the number of men comprising Bragg's army.

Steamer Helena was burnt by rebel guerrillas near Helena, Ark., Nov. 11; passengers robbed and turned ashore.

West India mail advices say the rebel privateer Georgia passed Falmouth, Jamaica, Sept. 13, under full steam, and the same evening is believed to have captured a steamer. Other advices represent her in the Bay of Biscay.

Memphis advices of the 12th, received at New Orleans, state that the river is rising, and that five million bushels of coal were ready to be sent down the rise occurred.

Accounts from New Orleans report a terrible railroad accident, by which 16 Illinois soldiers were killed, and 70 wounded.

The State Department has encouraging advices from England and France, indicating that the construction of iron-clads for the rebels in future will be prevented.

It is rumored that all of East Tennessee, up to Knoxville, has been recaptured from Burnside by the rebels. Burnside is said, however, to be temporarily entrenched in Knoxville.

Senator Wilson has had an interview with the President and Secretary of the Navy in behalf of the mechanics and laborers in the Boston Navy Yard.

From New Orleans we learn that the rebels attacked Weitzburn's advance on the 31 inst., driving it on toward the main body. They were checked, attacked and pursued, one force capturing 200 prisoners. Our loss was 40 killed. The rebel loss was 100 killed.

☞ On Thursday evening, Nov. 12, at Washington, Senator Sprague was married to Miss Kate Chase, daughter of the Secretary of Treasury. A large number were present, including many from Northern cities—as many as 40 from Providence, R. I. All the branches of the government were represented—the Executive by the President and Cabinet, the Supreme Court by Judge Wayne, the Senate by Senators Anthony and Wilson, and the army and navy by officials occupying the highest positions.

RIGHT ROYAL PRINTERS.—The Prince of Prussia is by trade a printer. According to ancient usage in Prussia, all the princes of the royal family must learn a trade.—The Prince Frederick William learned the trade of a compositor, at the office of Mr. Hauel, at Berlin. This is an honor to the Prince—we hope he is an honor to the profession.

☞ Gold opened in New York Friday morning at 147 1-2.

VOLUNTEERING IN THIS STATE.

A general order from the Adjutant General's office, in Concord, Nov. 9, says:

Under the call of the President, dated October 17, 1863, for 300,000 volunteers, to serve for three years or the war, but not exceeding three years, the quota assigned to this State is 3,768.

All volunteers will be mustered into regiments now in the field, no new organizations being authorized; recruits will, however, be allowed to enter any existing regiment they may select, whose term of service expires in 1864 or 5.

The quotas for the men demanded by the recent draft having been assigned to the various towns; in case another draft is made necessary by the failure to raise volunteers, it will be for the deficiency in each town from the commencement of the draft; but it is now supposed that if the call for volunteering is successful, no draft will be made for other deficiencies.

Mr. J. B. Fry, Provost Marshal General, writes to our State Government:

"If a State furnishes her full quota of volunteers under the President's call of Oct. 17, 1863, for 300,000 men, the draft ordered for Jan. 5, 1864, will not take place."

By order of the Governor, A. G. Gen. Colby makes the following statement:

Each recruit who has heretofore served in the Army of the United States not less than nine months and been honorably discharged, will receive a bounty of Four Hundred and Two Dollars from the United States, and One Hundred Dollars bounty from the State, total $502, to be paid as follows:

Date of master into service, 1 month's pay in advance,	$13
First installment of bounty,	60
Premium,	2
	$ 75
State bounty prior to leaving the State,	100
Two months after mustering,	50
Six " "	50
Twelve " "	50
Eighteen mos. "	50
Two years "	50
Thirty mos. "	50
Three years "	50

If the Government shall not require these troops for the full period of three years, and they shall be mustered honorably out of service before the expiration of their term of enlistment, they shall receive, upon being mustered out, the whole amount of bounty remaining unpaid, the same as if the full term had been served. The legal heirs of volunteers who die in service shall be entitled to receive the whole bounty remaining unpaid at the time of the soldier's death.

Each recruit, who has not heretofore served in the army of the United States, will if he enlists to serve in old regiments, receive a bounty and premium of $302 from the United States and $100 bounty from the State; total $402, to be paid as follows:

Date of master into service, 1 month's pay,	$13
First installment of bounty,	60
Premium,	2
	$ 75
State bounty prior to leaving the State,	100
Two months after mustering,	50
Six " "	50
Twelve " "	50
Eighteen mos. "	50
Two years "	50
Three " "	50

By a recent telegram from the War Department, towns are authorized to pay the United States bounty to volunteers in cash, receiving an assignment for the same from every recruit duly mustered into the United States service, which will be paid in installments to the towns, in the same manner as proposed to volunteers.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By UNCLE TOBY.

Mission to Canada in 1725—Marquis de Vandreuil.

The New England Commissioners, especially Atkinson of Portsmouth for New Hampshire, laid before the French Governor Vandreuil, such proofs of his connexion with the Indian Wars, as he could not deny.

Finding himself thus closely pressed, he promised to do what lay in his power to bring them to an accommodation, and to restore those captives who were in the hands of the French, on the payment of what they had cost; and he engaged to see that no unreasonable demands should be made by the persons who held them in servitude. As to those who still remained in the hands of the Indians, he said, he had no power over them, and could not engage for their redemption. He complained in his turn, of the governor of New York, for building a fort on the river Onondago, and said that he should look upon that proceeding as a breach of the treaty of peace; and he boasted that he had the five nations of the Iroquois so much under his influence, that he could at any time cause them to make war upon the subjects of Great Britain.

The Commissioners employed themselves very diligently in their inquiries respecting the captives, and in settling the terms of their redemption. They succeeded in effecting the ransom of sixteen, and engaging for ten others. The governor obliged the French who held them to abate of their demands, but after all they were paid for at an exorbitant rate. He was extremely desirous that the gentlemen should have an interview with the Indians, who were at war; and for this purpose, sent for a number of them from the village of St. Francis, and kept them concealed in Montreal.—The commissioners had repeatedly told him that they had no power to treat with them, and that they would not speak to them, unless they should desire peace. At his request, the chief of the Nipissins visited the commissioners and said that they disapproved the war, which their children the Abenaquis had made, and would persuade them to ask for peace. After a variety of manœuvres, the governor at length promised the commissioners, that if they would consent to meet the Indians at his house, they should speak first. This assurance produced an interview; and the Indians asked the commissioners whether they would make proposals of peace? they answered, No. The Indians then proposed, that if the English would demolish all their forts, and remove one mile westward of Saco river; they would rebuild their church at Norridgewock, and restore to them their priest, they would be brothers again. The commissioners told them that they had no warrant to treat with them; but if they were disposed for peace, they should have safe conduct to and from Boston or Portsmouth; and the gov. promised to send his son with them to see justice done. They answered, that this was the only place to conclude peace, as the nations were near and could readily attend. The governor would have had them recede from their proposals, which he said were unreasonable, and make others; but father Le Chase, a Jesuit, being present, and acting as interpreter for the Indians, embarrassed the matter so much that nothing was proposed. It was observed by the commissioners, that when they conversed with the governor alone, they found him more candid and open to conviction, than when Le Chase or any other Jesuit was present; and, through the whole of their negotiation, it evidently appeared, that the governor himself, as well as the Indians, were subject to the powerful influence of these ecclesiastics; of whom there was a seminary in Canada, under the direction of the Abbe de Belmont.

Having completed their business, and the rivers and lakes being clear of ice, the commissioners took their leave of the governor and set out on their return, with the redeemed captives, and a guard of soldiers, which the governor ordered to attend them as far as Crown Point. They went down the river St. Lawrence to the mouth of the Sorel, then up that river to Chambles, and through the lakes to Fort Nicholson. After a pleasant passage of seven days, they arrived at Albany on the first of May.

Here they found commissioners of Indian affairs for the province of New York, to whom they communicated the observations which they had made in Canada, and what the Marquis de Vaudreuil had said respecting the five nations, and the fort at Onondago. There being a deputation from these nations at Albany, they held a conference with them and gave them belts; requesting their assistance in establishing a peace with the Abenaquis. From this place, Mr. Atkinson wrote to M. Cavenielle, son of the Marquis, acknowledging the polite reception the commissioners had met with from the family; subjoining a copy of the information which they had given to the commissioners of New York; and promising that a due representation should be made, to the kings of England and France, on the subject of their negotiation.

The report of the commissioners being laid before the assemblies of Massachusetts and New Hampshire, it was determined to prosecute the war with vigor. Orders were issued for the defence and supply of the frontiers, and for the encouragement of ranging parties, both volunteers and militia. A petition was sent to the king, complaining of the French governor, and desiring that orders might be given to the other colonies of New England, and to New York, to furnish their quotas of assistance, in the further prosecution of the war; and letters were written to the governor of New York, requesting that such of the hostile Indians as should resort to Albany might be seized and secured.

*He had been the governor of Canada through the war with the French and Indians, called Queen Ann's War, and through Lovewell's war. He died this year (1725) on the 26th of October. He was distinguished for bravery, firmness and vigilance, and gave the English incredible trouble by the long war he maintained against them, by exciting the savages to perpetual inroads on their frontier.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To present asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would add confidence which will be scared, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHITAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from Physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

Their town authorities have made arrangements with the General Government to pay the entire U. NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In the Manchester City Council, Wednesday evening, a resolution authorizing a bounty to volunteers was passed in each board, which in effect empowers the city to cash the Government and State bounties. The resolution passed unanimously. The American says, "With the bounty thus derived, it is proposed to purchase 192 substitutes and enter them as our quota. We understand that Daniel L. Stevens and Nathaniel Perkins have contracted with Mayor T. T. Abbot to supply the number, at $400 each.

—— A Concord letter to the Union states that "the Kearsarge House, at North Conway, was set on fire last Tuesday night. Fortunately it was discovered and extinguished before making much progress. The incendiary was chased across a field and a couple of shots fired at him as he went over a stone wall, but he escaped. They seem to be having "high jinks" up in the Saco and Ellis valley since the late draft commenced. I learn that neither Hon. Joel Eastman nor L. S. Morton, Esq., whose barns and outbuildings were recently burned at Conway, were insured."

We perceive it is stated that the same incendiary who burnt these barns has been arrested for another fire and lodged in Dover jail; also that he came from New York, and [consequently] the fires cannot be charged to the copperheads. It is possible, however, that he is one of the New York rioters, with a guerrilla commission. We understand that Mr. Morton, the Democratic representative from Conway, disapproved of the burning of his neighbor's buildings,—and that his own barn was probably burnt in consequence.

—— The Dover people are to have a Lyceum this winter. The opening address by F. D. Huntington, D. D., of Boston.—Subject—"Man dependent and independent". The second entertainment, a first-class Concert by Adolph Baumbach, the celebrated Pianist; Miss Louise Adams, Soprano, and Mr. H. C. Barnabee, Basso and Comic, all of Boston. Third a lecture by Prof. Sanborn Tenny of Cambridge, on the "Glaciers of the Alps," illustrated.—Fourth, lecture by Rev. A. L. Stone on "Campaign Life." Fifth probably a lecture by Bayard Taylor, recently Secretary of U. S. Legation at St. Petersburg, Russia. Sixth a lecture by Rev. William H. Knapp of Boston subject—"History as a Science." Seventh a lecture by Right Rev. Thomas M. Clark of Providence, R. I., on "The Crisis of the Nation." The eighth a Concert.

A RACE.—We understand that on Thursday last the Catholic Priests of Portsmouth and Exeter had a horse and buggy race, between the second and third mile-stones upon the Greenland road, with stakes at $100 each side. He of Exeter coming in ahead on two of three heats, won.—Ports. Jour.

Not exactly correct, Br. Journal. The "race," or rather trot, was made by the gentlemen named, but not driven by them; and the horses went "in harness," (that is, in sulkies,) not buggies. The winning horse was a bay entered by the "Father" of the Catholic church in Exeter, and belonging to and driven by a Mr. Robinson of that town; the other was a little black mare from the livery stable of Nathan Jones & Co. of this city, and driven by Mr. Henry Stoddard. The course was over the mile between the March and Tabor farms, mile heats, best two in three; and the race a very pretty one, closely contested, both horses footing nicely. We do not know the time made, it any was kept, which it is almost impossible to do correctly where one can't see both ends of a course at a time. Quite a crowd of horse-men were in attendance, and a few ladies, enjoying the sport; and the usual amount of scrub-racing resulted on the road home.

MARRIAGES.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

As the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In the tin ware, no paint or varnish has been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ At a meeting of the National Freedmen's Association at New York on Monday evening, Gen. Sickles made a speech declaring it a delusion to suppose that the President's decree of emancipation would ever be revoked, and that, though he might not have advised it, he could maintain it. He said there would soon be a hundred thousand African soldiers to arms for the Union, and that while the war lasted there could not be too many of them. His speech was warmly applauded.

— A Washington despatch announces that "the numerous disqualifications for service framed precious to the late draft, have been reduced in number, by an order from the War Department, from fifty-one to forty-one. Youth in spectacles will take notice that near-sightedness henceforth does not exempt. Spectacled youth, if incapacitated for field service, will surely serve their country in the Invalid corps."

Some of the papers have it that Mrs. Gen. Taylor, (widow of "Old Zack") has been running the blockade, and has arrived at Bermuda. Other papers say it is Mrs. John Tyler (Widow of another former President of the United States). The probabilities are all in favor of its being the last named lady, if either, because Mrs. Gen. Taylor has been dead several years. Traveller.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight, the proper day of the week, the day of the month, including the 30th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Those who desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good, and our prices as low as obtained for the same piece without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see the Act of 1837.)
7½ State Street, Opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The undersigned has often proved that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS DEPENDS MUCH ON ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other firm of the kind also the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty-years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, with full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. I cheerfully recommend to all great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure that they will have their interest bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, has received from inventors SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.

The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that real

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,

when made as it ought to be, from
WHEAT, RYE AND CORN,
is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of Whiskey a specialty in his business, he has accepted the

General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky, and is future will sell, under the brand of

"Golden Sheaf,"

PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.

The celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and by order, by land in his warehouse in Boston, in barrels, half barrels and kegs.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, can only inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to The General Depot, for its sale, 91 Washington St, Boston.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE,

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the casting being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the exception of the broiler, a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be left over Sundays and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, can testify to the truth, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacturers of the celebrated Hydraulic Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air passes through the chamber in which fuel is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The object aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of the heated air down the pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive arrangements have been contrived, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure, and consequently worthless. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the air-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the melting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, " and others.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit soon to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy.—Washington's Farewell Address

THE RIOTS IN THE COAL DISTRICTS.—A special correspondent of the Philadelphia Press writes from Mauch Chunk, Pa., on the 7th inst:—

Several accounts appeared during the last few days in Philadelphia and New York papers of the "riots" in this region, and the murder of Mr. G. K. Smith, one of our best citizens. The accounts are substantially correct. The murders committed, however, are not riots, but the work of assassins,—all Irish—organized under the name of "Buckshots," for the avowed purpose of resisting the draft. They number probably several thousand—are all armed with shotguns, rifles, muskets or revolvers. The most notorious Copperheads of our place counseled them to arm themselves "to defend their liberties," and to "resist the tyranny of the Lincoln despotism." The beasts duped by these demagogues declare their determination to drive out of the mines every one who is not of their own stripe, and a number of Welshmen, Englishmen, Protestant Irish, Germans and Americans have been waylaid and murdered by them during two or three months.—About two months ago one of these "Buckshots" was arrested and lodged in jail on a charge of assault with intent to kill. On the following night over one hundred armed Buckshots marched into town, arriving in town about one o'clock in the morning, surrounded the jail and rescued the prisoner. No effort was made by the authorities to arrest the offenders, though the grand jury presented the names of a number who participated in the outrage. The district attorney, being of the most malignant stripe of copperheads, refused any steps to bring these mad villians to justice. The high sheriff, it is believed, would prefer doing his duty, but he being in the copperhead boat, cannot do so. He has made no effort to raise a posse comitatus for the arrest of these or any other outlaws in our county.—Even one of the associate judges of our court, it is said, discountenanced any effort to arrest Buckshots, because they (the Democracy) "need their votes and must not offend them."

Thus encouraged, these outlaws declare their intention to kill every officer who would undertake to enforce the draft, also to put out of the way every one suspected of sympathy with the Government. They openly declare their determination to secure control of all the mines, stop the shipment of coal, and thus deprive the navy of this indispensible article.

In my judgment there is but one way to treat these fiends. They must be exterminated, hung or shot, and if Government will not give us plenty of men to exterminate these outlaws, the citizens must and will do the work effectually by means of a vigilance committee.

The Philadelphia Bulletin says coal in that city costs double the price it did a year ago, and the poor are suffering on that account. At the same time the miners in the coal regions have double the wages they have had in former years, and yet are more turbulent and law defying than ever—thanks to the teachings of the copperheads, who rule among them. The Bulletin says:

Their strikes, riots and murders have had a great deal to do with the advance in the price of coal, and if there should be an unusual amount of suffering for want of fuel next winter, it should be remembered that a prominent cause of it was the political doctrine preached in the coal region.

☞ The elections to the next Congress are now complete, with the exception of a single member from Delaware and one from Mr. Corning's district in New York. Assigning the latter to the opposition, the new house stands 97 Administration to 88 opposition, even counting the whole of the Kentucky delegation on the wrong side.—It is confidently believed that the accession of a member from Delaware will make the reliable Administration strength 98, or a majority of 10. It cannot be reduced below 8.

— A visitor, congratulating Mr. Lincoln on the prospect of his reelection, was answered with an anecdote of an Illinois farmer, who undertook to blast his own rocks. His first effort at producing an explosion proved a failure. He explained the cause by exclaiming, "Pshaw, this powder has been shot once before!"

TICKLING IN THE THROAT,
WHOOPING COUGH,
Or relieve CONSUMPTIVE COUGH, as quick as
COE'S COUGH BALSAM.
OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in this native town, and not a single instance of its failure is known.
We have, in our possession, any quantity of certificates, some of them from EMINENT PHYSICIANS,
who have used it in their practice, and given it the pre-eminence over any other compound.
It does not dry up a Cough,
but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.
☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜
A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most STUBBORN COUGH.
And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.
In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being
ONLY 25 CENTS!
And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.
Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1845. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH LENEGAN.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 21, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that, yesterday, to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without so much as power to turn over in bed, and, having applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named."
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26d

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The War Department has received dispatches from Gen. Thomas at Chattanooga, and from Gen. Burnside in East Tennessee. Both dispatches are dated Nov. 12th, evening, when all was quiet in front of their respective armies. The information received from Gen. Burnside is said to set at rest any public anxiety relative to his situation.

At Cairo, the number of prisoners of war now in the military prison is nearly 4000. They cannot really be called prisoners of war, being deserters from the rebel army, some of whom kept in the woods 15 months, awaiting a chance to come into our lines and take the oath of allegiance, for which purpose they will be sent to St. Louis.

The U. S. steamer Massachusetts, from Charleston bar in 42 hours, arrived at Fortress Monroe on Friday P. M. She reports that firing was still kept up on Sumter, and that the fort was entirely demolished. The rebels put up a flag every night, which is shot away every day.—There has been no firing on Charleston of late.

The position of our army in Virginia is unchanged. Washington dispatches of Saturday say:—

The water in the Rapidan is very low, and the river is fordable at many points.—This makes the work of guarding it very arduous.

The rebels are entrenching themselves, and may march over and gobble up careless commands.

Gen. Foster has been assigned to Gen. Burnside's command, and will leave here to-morrow. Gen. Burnside's resignation has been accepted by the President.

Col. Hoffman, Commissary General of prisoners, left to-day for the West to inspect the condition of the rebels confined at Sandusky and elsewhere, and adopt measures of retaliation for the barbarous treatment of our prisoners at Richmond.

A deserter from the 19th Alabama regiment, in Ewell's corps, came into our picket lines yesterday, states that the men in his regiment have laid down their arms since the fight at Rappahannock Station, and refused to fight in the rebel army. They were ordered to be placed under guard, but before the guard arrived they succeeded in dispersing themselves through the country and are seeking opportunities to come into our lines.

More revelations are made of the rebel and traitor plot against Buffalo and other lake ports.

The Richmond papers are grown rather querulous in their tone; but claim a victory near Dublin, capturing 800 prisoner and 4 canon, with wagons and stores. They speak of Richmond as menaced by U. S. forces on all sides.

Richmond papers say the Yankee prisoners are to be sent soon to Danville, Lynchburg and other places.

The impressment officers are seizing all the hogs in Richmond, leaving one to each family.

A telegraphic dispatch received at headquarters from our army in Western Louisiana states that the enemy attacked Gen. Washburne's 13th army corps advance, and the third it in towards the main body of his command. Their progress was speedily checked, and Gen. Washburne drove the rebels and pursued them until his men were too much fatigued to follow farther. Our loss was 40 killed and 50 wounded. The rebel loss, from actual count on the field, was 97 killed and 150 wounded. Our troops captured 200 prisoners.

No tidings have been received from the Texas expedition under Generals Banks and Dana.

The foreign correspondence of the rebels, captured in the Cornubia, is valuable to us, and will be damaging to them. Parts of it are to be published.

Rev. H. C. Trumbull, of the 10th Conn., regiment, who has been a prisoner at Richmond, was exchanged last Wednesday.

He says that for the last two days previous to leaving Libby prison, the officers' daily rations consisted only of about one third of a pound of bread and water. No meat had been served for several days. The rebel Quartermaster told the prisoners that it was not his fault that he had none to give them on that day. He had been entirely unable to furnish any thing whatever to the prisoners on Belle Isle, and that it was with the greatest difficulty that he could get a supply of meat for the hospitals.

— It is mentioned by Mrs. Hannah More that in her time it was the fashion for ladies to ornament their hats not only with flowers but with fruit; and Garrick, to ridicule this fashion, had a hat made for a scene in a comedy, with turnips and carrots by way of ornament. We are coming to that again.

— The Richmond Whig states that onions are held at $75 per barrel. The same paper rebukes Jeff. Davis for saying in one of his late speeches: "May you live to see the flag of our infant Republic the ensign of a great nation," &c. It wishes public men would be more careful. The Southern States, it says, revolted because it was sought to make a "nation" of the old Union. A Confederacy is not a nation.

CAPTURE OF BLOCKADE RUNNERS.

Official dispatches say that about 2 P.M., Nov. 8th, the blockading vessels off New Inlet were warned by a signal from the James Adger of the presence of a blockade runner, and while the A. pursued the strange craft along the beach, the Niphon stood in to cut her off. Escape being impossible, the pursued vessel was run ashore in half an hour; but half an hour later, the Niphon got her off uninjured. She proved to be the Cornubia, one of the most successful of the blockade runners. She is owned by James A. Seddon, the rebel Secretary of war. Some idea of the importance of this capture may be formed from the statement of her master, that though the vessel was small, his government could better have afforded to lose almost any other vessel.

Acting Master Breck of the Niphon reports that he sent in boats to capture the crew of the Cornubia, who were on the beach, and succeeded. The next morning several men appeared on the shore, making signals to be taken off. Before a boat could reach them they were made prisoners by a party of soldiers, on whom the Niphon immediately opened fire and killed and wounded several in their retreat. Soon after 8 man making signals from the shore were taken of by the Niphon's boat.

A quantity of official dispatches, mail matter and private and public papers—some of them of considerable interest and value—were picked up in the surf by the boats of the Niphon, having been thrown overboard or dropped by the enemy.

The cargo of the Robert E. Lee consists of 214 large cases and bales of shoes and blankets, some of the bales weighing 3 tons, 150 cases of Austrian rifles, 250 bags of saltpetre, and 61 barels of salt provisions, pig lead, etc. Of 62 persons composing the officers and crew, only 15 were natives of the United States. Among the passengers were C. E. Stewart, Belgian Consul, and Horace H. Webber and H. W. Rooke, Lieutenants in the British Royal Artillery. The vessel had no ship's papers.

The cargo of the Ella and Anna consists of 480 sacks of salt, 500 bales and 42 cases of paper. She had no ship's papers. Of 38 persons on board only one was a native of the United States.

Several valuable prizes have been recently finally adjudicated, and the money will be ready for distribution in the course of a week or ten days. Among them are the Memphis, the Britannia, and the Victory. The former was captured by the U. S. steamer Magnolia, and yielded the snug sum of $510,914 80, after paying expenses of adjudication. Acting Volunteer Lieutenant Wm. Budd is the happy man who takes as his share $38,318.55, his vessel not being attached to a squadron at the time of the capture, and his share being three twentieths of the half awarded to the captors.—All the officers on this vessel belonged to the volunteer service, and their several shares amount to a handsome sum. The sailors are to come in for a small fortune to them, the seamen getting $1736.86 each, ordinary seamen $1350.88 each and the landsmen $1157.91 each.

The Brittannia and Victory were captured by Commander R. H. Wyman of the Santiago de Cuba, the former yielding the sum of $169,695.72, and the latter 299,998.45, making $469,694.17. The captures were made within the space of a week. It will be noticed in the case, that while the officers get liberal shares, the seamen each receive $897.57, ordinary seamen $698.12, and landsmen $598.40.

Another steamer was captured about the same time, which has not yet been adjudicated, making the total a very handsome sum.

The Navy is in immediate want of seamen, and with such chances for fortune, the sailor will surely ship.

☞ Every loyal man will rejoice that Gen. Butler has again been put in active command. He is one of the live generals and thoroughly understands the animus of the present rebellion and how to deal with it.

— Mrs. Van Zandt, a daughter of Signor Blitz, has recently made a hit at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, as a vocalist, her ventriloquism surpassing that of Jenny Lind.

The editor of the Dayton (Ohio) Empire, known as the chief Vallandigham organ, gan, visited Gallatin, Tenn., a few days ago, to see a brother, and was arrested upon the charge of intimacy with prominent Secessionists.—N. Y. Express.

— In Campton Village, last week, the shop of Joseph Cook, manufacturer of ready made clothing, was consumed by fire, with all the machinery, &c. No insurance.

— It is a matter of uncertainty when the Russians will visit Boston, possibly not till Spring.

— The celebrated Boston road mare Winthrop Maid has changed hands. Price $1400.

The Maryland House of Delegates will consist of fifty-eight Union Emancipationists and sixteen Democrats.

☞ The New York Evening Post, and World, with other papers, call on Congress to repeal the import duty on coal.

MISSOURI.—The published returns from this State embrace sixty-two counties, while forty-five more remain to be heard from.—These, however, are the more sparsely settled counties, and is not probable that they will charge the conservative majority thus far reported.

The Legislature of Missouri re-convened yesterday; and in pursuance of the resolutions adopted by the joint meeting of the two Houses last Winter, it happens that that was also the day fixed for the joint meeting to be resumed, for the purpose of electing two United States Senators. The St. Louis Democrat (radical) learns that a coalition has been set on foot between the "Claybanks" and the Democrats in the Legislature, with a view to electing the Senator from each party. If so, they will have the strength to carry out the plan.

MISSOURI.—The St. Louis Democrat of Nov. 12 figures out from the returns so far as received, a Radical majority of 294 in cluding the soldiers, vote. The Republican's footing, including the soldiers' vote, shows a conservative majority of 3.

SENATORS FROM MISSOURI.—On Thursday morning, at St. Louis, B. Gratz Brown (Radical) was elected U. S. Senator for the short term. The vote stood—Brown 74, Brodhead 66, Voorhees 2: radical majority 6. John B. Henderson was elected for the long term: the vote was, Henderson 82, Phelps 42, Scat. 12.

☞ Some of the Richmond papers have tried to drain a drop of comfort for the rebels, from the fact that Ohio rejected Vallandigham, and State elections went the same way. The thing seems to draw very hard and dry. Per contra, the Raleigh (N. C.) Standard, in alluding to the recent defeat of the Democrats in Ohio and Pennsylvania, says: "The last ray of hope for the South from the North has departed; for the recent elections show very plainly that the North is banded against the South by immense majorities: that the war will go on and be prosecuted by the Federal Government as a matter of business; that Mr. Lincoln will be re-elected; that the prospects of peace are more distant than ever; that the Southern people stand alone with the world against them, and that they hadbetter make peace either with Providence or the North very soon."

☞ A reward of $2000 has just been offered for the recovery of certain bills, bonds and notes stolen from the vault of the Freeman's Bank, Bristol, R. I., in November, 1862. There are many bills out, of various denominations, that were only signed by the President, that have the Cashier's name forged with a date subsequent to the robbery.

The only safe way is to refuse all of the old issue, as the Bank has withdrawn from circulation as far as possible all legitimate bills, and has issued new ones, which may be distinguished from the old by having green backs, which are redeemable as heretofore, and are as current as any New England money.

TREASURY DOCUMENTS.—It is stated that several valuable documents will be appended to the Treasury report this year, as specified below:

"One will contain the prices of sixty different articles in each of the last thirty years. Another will be the first attempt to show in a State paper the amount of our internal trade and commerce in different articles. Another will, from such data as can be obtained, undertake to give an idea of the prospective trade and commerce of our territories. And still another will indicate the amount of that carried on over our lakes and rivers, and including those between us and Canada."

☞ The news from England is, that there was some commotion in the naval circles of England, owing to a rumor that an attempt would be made to take the steam rams out of the Mersey to sea by force.—Government took measures to stop it.

The French Government have put a stopper on the vessels, cannon, &c., getting ready for the rebels.

The London Times has a letter about the rebellion and the price of cotton, exhibiting the ill-will and ignorance of the writer.

It seems that there is reality in the story or a Conspiracy fomented in Canada for the purpose of liberating the Rebel prisoners on Johnson's Island, and doing other terrible deeds. Aside from its own sources of information, our Government received warning from the Governor General of Canada, through Lord Lyons, that plans were on foot by rebel refugees to set free the prisoners, burn Buffalo and Ogdensburg, and create a grand diversion in favor of the South. The Canadian authorities are entitled to thanks for keeping a watch upon Vallandigham and his fellow scoundrels, and are honorably answering to the efforts of President Van Buren twenty-five years ago, to prevent similar raids upon their territory. Of course the conspiracy (being foiled) will be vehemently denied by the Copperheads; but it is a fact recorded, and shows that strict watchfulness on every side is not only a duty, but a necessity not to be neglected.—Tribune.

— Opportunities have frequently been afforded to the rebel surgeons in our hands to attend to their wounded and sick, but almost in every case have they declined, refusing to tender their services unless paid by our Government.

COMMERCIAL MATTERS.—The commerce of this city suffers but little this year, and we have in port no accumulation of unemployed vessels. Some departments of our trade never enjoyed such a season of prosperity as this, and the numerous arrivals of vessels from the British Provinces and coastwise ports show the activity and great extent of this branch of our business. It is true that our remote commerce with the East Indies, and Chili, and other countries, has greatly declined since the war, and also our imports from many European and Mediterranean ports, but to compensate in some measure for this loss, the trade to some other countries has greatly increased.

Our imports from England, Russia, Turkey, Buenos Ayres, and many other places show no great decline, while the trade of Boston to Africa has become an immense branch of our business. Also the trade to Hayti, Barbadoes, St. Thomas, French, English and Dutch Guiana, has reached the largest figures ever known. Our trade to the numerous ports on the island of Cuba, such as Havana, Matanzas, Cardenas, Cienfuegos, Manzanilla, and the smaller ports has been large this season, and we have received this year, so far, over one hundred and twenty cargoes each of molasses and sugar. Boston feels the overwhelming influence of New York in all the various branches of her commerce and trade, and her powerful competition is not relaxed even by the war, but still Boston holds her own in many departments of business, and maintains her position as the second great commercial centre in the United States.—Boston Traveller.

— The richest individual in England is the Marquis of Westminster, whose daily income is estimated at $5,000. The Rothschilds, four of them, are the richest house in Europe, and their income is estimated at about nine millions a year, or a thousand dollars an hour. They hold up all the bankrupt thrones on the continent.

Three preachers of the "Beecher family", are pronounced heretic by the school theology to which their father belonged. They merely tolerated him through fear, and Mrs. H. B. Stowe, were she in their power, would not be spared. But the breaking away from old dogmas, believing in higher truth, is glorious and makes heresy radiant. —Sat. Eve. Gaz.

— Paper is high, and in consequence the material of which it is made is high. White rags are from 10 to 12 cents a pound, and old newspapers are five cents. Save the rags and paper.

— The Democrats of Iowa must have nominated a very unpopular man for Governor, in Gen. Tuttle. In his own regiment, he received but seven votes.

The Boston Courier does not agree with the Newburport Herald in regard to the public sentiment of the country on slavery. Very well; we have only to wait the result.—Herald.

— It is especially important just now that clergymen, in marrying a couple, should not neglect to give a certificate of the marriage, or to make a registration of it. In the case of the death of a soldier, the widow must have a certificate of marriage before she can receive a pension.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper thereior."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

☞ On our fourth page to-day is a column from the Portsmouth Journal. The first article of that column, on Volunteering, contains an important error, which should be corrected. The City Council of Portsmouth has not voted to pay $300 bounty in addition to the U. S. and State Bounties,—but only to pay the $300 at once, and receive back the U. S. Bounty in instalments.

The State and U. S. Bounties for new recruits are $402:—for second enlistments $502.

Towns or cities may add more bounty if they see fit, but our city has not yet done so.

☞ We have already announced that Senator Hale consented to address the citizens of Portsmouth on Wednesday evening next. The following is his brief but cordial reply to the invitation of Ex Gov. Goodwin and others:

DOVER, N. H., Nov. 11, 1863.

Gentlemen:— Your note of the 10th is this moment received. It will afford me pleasure to meet you and my fellow citizens of Portsmouth, to speak of our public affairs, on the evening of Nov. 18th, one week from to-day. With much respect,

Your obliged friend and servant,
JOHN P. HALE.

HON. I. GOODWIN, and others.

THE LYCEUM Committee, which met on Thursday evening, organized themselves into a body, entitled the "Citizens' Lyceum Association." Aurin M. Payson was chosen President; Samuel Baker Treasurer, and James H. Head Corresponding Secretary. The following gentlemen were elected Committee of Arrangements:—

Albert Laighton, T. D. Foss, Jas. M. Bartlett, Lewis E. Smith, Edward A. Joy, Frank W. Miller, A. C. Hoyt, C. A. Shannon, J. E. Ayers, Samuel M. DeMeritt, E. P. Kimball, Alfred M. Hoyt, John Durgin.

Messrs. C. A. Shannon, A. C. Hoyt and J. E. Ayers were chosen Directors.

The first lecture of the Association will be on the first Tuesday of December. A list of the lecturers will be given in a few days. COR. SEC.

☞ The scarcity of experienced workmen in nearly all branches of business, occasioned by the war, causes the employment of many persons whose character is rather doubtful. Two of our tonsorial professors have been victimized recently by over-confidence in journeymen barbers, who have absconded, taking with them sundry razors, moneys and articles of wearing apparel, the property of their employers.

POLICE COURT.—Before Justice Bufford,—Margaret Mead, for being drunk, fined $2; cost 2,86;—paid.

John Murphy, for same offence, a similar fine and costs,—paid.

Joseph Kennisou, for same offence, a similar fine and costs,—committed to House of Correction.

☞ It will be seen that tickets may be had at Mr. Head's Bookstore for the half term of Mr. Davis' Singing Schools (Juvenile and Evening) commencing on Wednesday next. One would judge, from the state of public singing in the city, that Mercantile Hall ought not to hold all who need such social practice in vocalism. The school is very interesting to all who enjoy such things.

— In the Superior Court at Greenfield, Mass., on Tuesday, John M. Haley, of Shelburne Falls, was admitted a citizen of the United States. He gave as a reason for so doing that for fifteen years he had enjoyed the blessings of this Government, and now he desired to become a citizen, that he might not be exempt from any of its responsibilities. Henry Schubbe, from the same place, made his primary declaration, giving a similar reason. Both of the above parties were Germans, and noble examples of true men.

A MAN KILLED ON THE P. S. & P. R. R.—A man named Ellis was run over and killed in the town of Kennebunkport, by the train which left Portland for the west, Thursday morning. When seen he was standing near the railroad fence, but immediately approached the track. He was not observed by the engineer, who was looking some distance ahead, the man being very near the engine when he reached the track. It was apparently a case of suicide.—Argus.

☞ The Deseret News is indignant because the mania of speculation has spread among the Mormon saints, and says of such a speculator:

He has played himself out, and is as worthless in his own estimation as in that of others. He is salt without savor, and knows it. He has got there, and draws delight from the misery of like society, and seeks for it. He has shipwrecked his hope in his God, and can well afford to lose his faith in his brethren and in humanity—there is nothing left for him but to feast on the perishable, and he knows the end thereof.

— Rarey, in his lecture on the horse, promulgated a great truth when he said "that a bad-tempered man generally has a has a bad-tempered horse."

☞ The demands of the strikers at the Charlestown Navy Yard have been acceded to, and they resume work to-day.

☞ It is stated that the Ironsides burns two tons of coal an hour when her machinery is in operation, or 48 tons a day and 16,000 tons a year, which at a cost of $10 a ton would only be $160,000 a year!

NITROUS OXYD GAS.

Having had fifteen teeth extracted while under the influence of this Gas, by Dr. Goodall, without the least pain or bad effect, I would recommend the Doctor and his Gas to the afflicted; the Gas is perfectly safe in all cases, and the Doctor is sure to remove all the old teeth and roots while the patient is under the influence of the Gas. The Gas manufactured by him is perfectly pure, as he always makes it through fresh water.

Dr. GOODWIN.

Portsmouth, Nov. 13, 1863.

☞ Hon John. P. Hale will, by invitation, address the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity at the Temple on Wednesday evening next, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

SOLDIERS' SPECIAL NOTICE.—Do your duty to yourselves, protect your health, use HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT. For Wounds, Sores, Bowel Complaints and Fevers, they are a perfect safeguard. Full directions how to use them with every box. Only 25 cents. 210.

To every barrel of Flour you can make thirty pounds more Bread or Biscuit (and much better) by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, than by yeast fermentation or any other Saleratus.—If is perfectly healthy, will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs, and cure dyspeptic persons. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try one paper, and you will be convinced. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 174 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

GRACE'S SALVE:—At the South Mountain battle, the color bearer, sergeant of the 12th Mass. Regiment, was wounded in the foot by a minie ball. He was sent to the hospital, and the surgeon of the regiment (Dr. Whitney) applied all his skill to the foot, but with no good results. The ball was extracted, and the soldier sent to Boston, and is now living in South Cedar street. He has employed the best physicians since his arrival here, but his foot grew worse. In April, a lady sent him a box of Grace's Salve, which he applied, the result of which has been the healing up of the wound, so that he now daily walks out, and the second box he is now using he thinks will effect an entire cure. This soldier tells us that Grace's Salve should be sent to every regimental surgeon, as he knows its virtues.—[Boston Express.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—so dust need escape into the room—a continual fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

From the Journal

NEW HAMPSHIRE'S QUOTA.

The President has called for a new levy of troops for immediate service. Gov. Gilmore's pirited and patriotic proclamation has guarantee that New Hampshire will be ready with her 3768 men, we hope, without resorting to a draft. The inducements offered by bounties are very liberal, both by the United States, the State, and City governments. Our city council, on Thursday evening passed an ordinance to raise by loan $45,-000, and appropriating $800 bounty to each new volunteer—this increases the bounty to the large sum of $702.

This is a matter which comes home to every age and condition—rich and poor, young and old. All must see their interest to have this war brc't to a speedy and honorable close, in which the integrity of the Union shall be maintained. Our taxes must continue to increase until the rebellion is put down.

Young men must put their shoulders to the wheel, have some organization, and have these men enlisted at once. By taking hold of the matter with zeal, and energy, it can be done in one month as well as in a year. If they require money to accomplish their work, let them assess it on those who are able to pay, we have no doubt they will meet a liberal response, if done in earnest. Let them choose a committee from their number who will devote a week or two to the business, and it will be well done. If men are not to be found in this neighborhood, let them seek them out, money will buy them. There are undoubtedly, at this moment, men ready and willing to enlist, only waiting a word of encouragement.

As soon as the rebels are satisfied that these men can be furnished, they will not wait a call from them, but like Col. Scott's coon, will come down without ceremony. Already the indications are strong that the people at the South are heartily sick and tired of the war, and sorry enough too, that they were even induced to go into it. If things continue for a short time as they are at present, the instigators of the rebellion will have to look sharp for their own lives. The people are getting very restless, while many of the leaders are trembling for their own safety.

Those who enlist now, will be sure of high pay by receiving their bounty; and probably before the end of a year will be honorably discharged from the service.

New Hampshire has always been loyal and supported the government, and she will continue to do so as long as the Granite Hills remain. Up then, one and all, and have the work speedily done.

Now, citizens of Portsmouth, young men especially, rouse yourselves at once, have the enlistment made up for this city, and let Portsmouth be the first city in the State to perform her duty at this important crisis.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

FOR WEAKNESSES

Arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, or Abuse, ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,	Flushing of the Body,
Hot Hands,	Eruptions on the Face,

	Dryness of the Skin.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which Immediate Invariably removes, soon follow IMPOTENCY, FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, in one of which the patient may expire. We can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION,

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the complete. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (on for the Act of 1837.)

15 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, overcoming the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IN THE OFFICE IS OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of this subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full access to all patents granted by the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"

CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in such a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be assured that no more faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, has received from applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Wheat, Rye, Corn.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.

The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that real

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,

when made as it ought to be, from WHEAT, RYE AND CORN, is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of this article a speciality in his business, he has accepted the

General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky,

and in future will sell, under the brand of

"Golden Sheaf,"

PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.

The subscriber will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and also kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, half barrels and kegs.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St, Boston.

Each bottle is enclosed in a neat pasteboard box, to secure its safe transportation.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. We would invite families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable furnace, would call those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable,—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is applied for revitalizing purposes, there is no more headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, but somewhat to their little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of the air from the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, leaving the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

BRIDAL SONG.

To the sound of timbrels sweet
Moving slow our solemn feet,
We have borne them on the road
To the virgin's blest abode;
With thy yellow torches gleaming,
And thy scarlet mantle streaming,
And the canopy above,
Swaying as we slowly move.

Thou hast left the joyous feast,
And the mirth and wine have ceased;
And now we set thee down before
The jealously-unclosing door,
That the favored youth admits
Where the veiled virgin sits
In the bites of maiden fear,
Waiting our soft tread to hear,
And the music's brisker din
At the bridegroom's entering in,
Entering in, a welcome guest,
To the chamber of his rest.

INTERESTING LETTER.—The following letter was found within a few days, upon the body of a rebel soldier at Rappahannock Station, the names being suppressed:

Your Birthday, Sept. 21, 1863.

My Dear Son—Robert has got well, and he is all the time talking about you. He is a brisk boy, and wants to know why you can't be taken prisoner and come home on parole like ——. There is not a day but that some deserters pass by George's home. We have plenty in our neighborhood that have come home, and will not go back to the army. A great many have gone to Vicksburg and claimed protection. The State has gone under, and the negroes have all left and gone over to the Yankees.

My son, it seems hard that you all have to stay there and fight for the rich men's property, when they will not themselves fight for it. There are some rich men who are gentlemen and go in with their all, but where you find one who does this you find ten who do not. These men are a dead weight to the Confederacy. We have got some men here jobbing and doing more damage than the Yankees would have done. They are making more Union men than Lincoln ever could make. It is beyond description; we cannot believe all we see in the newspapers, but what I see with my own eyes I can believe.

I have made a good crop of corn and cotton, and if they burn it, I shall most assuredly go to the Yankees and claim protection, and I know I am as good a Southern rights man as anybody. The rich population have run into Texas, leaving the poor people to do as best they can,—burning up their cotton and talk of burning up all the houses. This will make war among us at home.

My son, France and England will divide the United States. In our parish there are 600 men that will not turn out, that is, with the deserters. They are doing something in the Union way. They are trying to get them to go back, threatening to burn their houses. But the Yankees are so ready at hand that it keeps our army busy to keep out of their way.

The Yankees are marching on Texas from four different points. They will have fine pickings there. Our people will return back to Louisiana stripped of all they had. Those men who have lost their property want to see peace on any terms.—These are the men who are hurting the Confederacy by their influence.

The Yankees expect that France and Mexico are going to do something for the South. They are turning their guns down the river at Vicksburg, Natchez, Ellis Cliffs (twenty-five miles below Natchez) and at Port Hudson. If France had come to our assistance when we had Vicksburg, it would have done some good, but it is too late. Now our men are too much divided and too many have gone back to the Union. This war was got up drunk, but they will have to settle it sober. There are a great many men here in the South who are to be pitied.

My son, I must come to a close, hoping to see you shortly.

Your affectionate father.

P. S.—Do not forget your duty to your God."

THE PUBLISHERS' CIRCULAR.—This publication, which has become quite an authority in the publishing world, as well as the world of letters, will be changed somewhat in name, which is to be in future the Literary Gazette. This is an improvement upon the old one, which was certainly too formal. The editing will remain in the hands of Mr. G. W. Childs, who, like Charles Knight, of London, unites the qualities calculated to make a successful publisher and excellent editor. Mr. Childs is assisted by many eminent literary men, whose varied contributions give it that scholarly raciness which has gained it so wide a reputation.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1862. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla, Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and a small bottle of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my neighbors, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since. I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. H. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, the astonishing cure was effected with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH, since which time she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The Baltimore American has correspondence from Charleston harbor up to the 11th inst.

The monitors Montauk and Passaic, had returned from Port Royal repaired. Their speed has been increased by the cleaning of their bottoms. The gunboat Nipsic had arrived. Four barrel buoys, supporting the first line of rebel obstructions, had been cut away by one of the Cattskill's boats. They supported a heavy hawser designed to foul the propellers of the monitors.

The bombardment of Sumter goes on.—The rebel fire is not serious. The monitor Patapsco recently threw five shell into Battery Bee, compelling the rebels to desert their guns for the time being.

Gen. Gilmore recently threw ordinary shell into Charleston to try the range of his guns. The correspondent presumes that Charleston will not be shelled until the monitors are in position in Rebellion Roads, when its surrender can be demanded according to all the forms and usage of war. The rebels have at least 2000 negroes working on batteries on Sullivan's Island. The correspondent says the rebel obstructions are no longer to be feared, and it is his firm conviction that we shall have Charleston in its ruins between now and Christmas.

The Toronto, Canada, Advertiser, a secession paper, admits the failure of the rebel plot, and says the Confed. Government fitted out the steamer R. E. Lee, from Wilmington to Halifax, with a cargo to furnish funds. Thirty-six officers and 300 men were to come overland, in small parties, and meet at a general rendezvous. It was their intention to surprise the Federal garrison on Johnson's Island, liberate the prisoners, and convey them to Canada.

The Richmond Enquirer says reshipments, under imboden met the retreating troops of Echols near Sweet Springs, in Monroe county, Va., some 40 miles from Christianburg, the nearest Point on the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad, and checked the advance of Gen. Averill's Yankees.—More fighting was expected before the latter would relinquish their design of destroying the railroad. A large portion of Yankee army arrived at Germania and in front of Fredericksburg. Meade is rapidly advancing towards that city.

Gen. Banks' expedition landed on the Texas shore of the Rio Grande, on the afternoon of Nov. 4. On the voyage, one steamer and two schooners were lost, but the people were saved. A boat's crew and seven soldiers were drowned at landing.

The rebels evacuated and burnt Fort Brown; and 60 rebel cavalry set fire to Brownville, but were opposed by the best citizens.

An observer counted 37 blockade runners in the Mexican waters of the Rio Grande. On the appearance of the fleet off the Texas shore a series of fires all along the coast was soonlighted by the rebels.

A schooner laden with cotton was seized in the Texas waters on the 2d.

From the army of the Potomac it is a well ascertained fact that with the exception of detachments of cavalry the rebel army has moved to hold a strong position south of the Rapidan. 14 more miles of the railroad have been repaired, including the bridge over the Rappahannock, which is 350 feet in span.

Important correspondence between rebels in Texas and Richmond has been captured. One letter from Jeff. Davis approves of the incendiary work on Western steamboats.

A Nashville letter of the 11th states that since the partial occupation of Lookout Mountain by the Union forces under Gen. Hooker, operations have been confined to the strengthening of the ground gained, and to preparations for a further occupation.

Active campaigning may be considered over for the present, and the two armies will probably occupy their time in reconnoitering and flanking.

The great danger which threatened this army, starvation, will trouble it no longer, for both the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers are navigable to the seat of war, and all hazards from interruption are at the end.

— Under the new arrangements for recruiting the armies in the field with increased bounties and assurances of prompt pay, volunteers are offering in increased numbers.

—— Mr. Seldon Sanborn brought to Lebanon on Monday, the 9th inst, a young black bear, which he shot in the woods at the head of Sanbornton Bay. He was about as large as a common sheep.

☞ In Portland, early on Sunday morning, the main building of the tannery on Congress street, owned by Gen. Neal Dow, was destroyed by fire. Loss $8000; no insurance.

☞ The propeller Racine struck a reef on Forty Mile Point in Lake Huron, on the night of the 12th inst. The vessel and cargo will probably be a total loss.

THE LAKE PIRACY PLOT.—Washington dispatches say it is understood there, from Canada, that Vallandigham, Henry Clay's beautiful son James, and that pardoned villain Marshall Kane, had fully arranged for passing through the Welland Canal an armed steamer, whose mission was:

First to open the prison doors for captive rebels at Sandusky Bay; 2d, to arm and equip these veterans, over 2000 in number; 3d, to seize as many propellers on Lake Erie as were needed and arm and man them; 4th, to make Buffalo a heap of ashes and her vessels in port charred skeletons; 5th, to burn Cleveland; 6th, to wipe out the commerce of Lake Erie; 7th to consume Detroit and in effect to destroy the commerce and cities of the Lakes, from Ogdensburg to Chicago, almost at a blow.

Lord Lyons got out of bed after midnight to communicate the news to Seward, and afterward the Secretary of War was got up and got to the wires of the military telegraph. We hear from the West to-night that by telegraph received at Buffalo on Thursday morning, the sloop of war Michigan was ordered off the mouth of the Welland Canal, with the approval of Lord Lyons, to smash any secesh vessel that came out.

The World's Buffalo dispatch says Attorney General McDonald is there on a visit to Mayor Fargo. The information he brings shows the reality and seriousness of the plot to release the prisoners on Johnson's Island. Lord Lyons received information of the scheme from a citizen of Baltimore over two months ago, which has been confirmed by revelations of an actual plot. It seems that a number of secessionists were to take passage on board the Chicago and Ogdensburg propellers, and afterward seize them, then intercept the Detroit and Buffalo boats. They were to threaten Buffalo and Ogdensburg, and, according to the revelations, were to be aided by emissaries in Buffalo, who would fire the city in several places. The Canadian ministry have taken ample measures of prevention. There are 15,000 Southern secessionists in Canada.

☞ Advices from Havana, Nov. 10, inform us that the rebel steamer Georgia has captured the Bold Hunter, a Boston ship.

The state of affairs at St. Domingo remains unchanged. The new Captain General Vargas had arrived and been favorably received.

The St. Domingo rebels are at the very doors of the capital, and Gen. Gandara, on his way to San Cristobal, four leagues, had three encounters with them, always dispersing them.

Mr. Bonnet, a jeweller of Havana, was stabbed by one of his slaves. He was beating the slave, when the latter stabbed him. The wound is dangerous.

The small schooner Hancock, which arrived at Havana from Florida, is the only arrival from Dixie for some time.

From Tampico we learn that recently in Huestaca the French were attacked got the worst of it, losing 90 men, besides horses and ammunition.

There were about 400 French soldiers in Tampico, which place was surrounded by Mexican soldiers, and a battle was constantly expected in the streets, which, from the great odds against them, cannot but result unfavorably for the French.

☞ Those who think the draft onerous, should consider how thoroughly the Confederates enforce their Conscription Act.—At a conference of the officers of Conscription from the thirteen Congressional districts of Virginia, which has lately been held in Richmond, it was ascertained that over thirty thousand conscripts have been sent into the field during the past twelve months.

— The Richmond people are said to complain that the currency is so depreciated, that when they go to market they have to take their money in their baskets and to carry home their beef in their pocket-books. Paper has no exchangeable value for meat, pound for pound.

— Why is sending a man a letter with a ten dollar bill in it like turning him out of the church? Because it is an X-communication.

☞ The former hours of labor are re-established in the Charlestown Navy Yard, by order of the Secretary of the Navy, the time for commencing in the morning being an hour after sunrise as formerly, and the day's work to conclude at sunset.

Bennett says the devil is speaking through Beecher. A Cincinnati paper thinks that is rather rough—on the devil.

— Orders have been issued to the commandants of the Navy Yards to reduce the labor employed 15 per cent., in view of the delay arising in the progress of the machinery constructing for the new vessels, in consequence of the existing strike and suspension of work by the machinists heretofore employed on Government work.

— The streets of St. Louis must be in a pleasant condition. A paper of that city says a woman was smothered to death in a mud hole some days since.

— The Montreal Witness thinks the recent Union victory in Maryland must be considered a greater victory for the North than any yet obtained on the battlefield.

— A cotemporary discovers two more sure signs of a hard winter—the large number of marriage licenses this fall, and the great number of ladies buying furs.

One consolation the Democrats have for next year—they have great room to gain.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

THE CONWAY FIRES.—As it is desirable to have all the important facts in the case, we copy the following extracts from a Conway letter to the Manchester Union, written Nov. 11.

"As you, in common with others, have been led to think that the late fires, in this vicinity, have had their origin in what the Boston Journal styles "political animosity," it is proper that you, with others, should be set right. And it is perhaps enough to say that no man in Conway believes or pretends to believe that parties have anything to do with the fires in this town. The Journal represents that the barns of Hon. Joel Eastman were set on fire by "copperheads." Now Mr. Eastman himself does not think so, but on the contrary says "a man must be a fool who thinks politics had anything to do with it." The writer of this has heard several republicans say the same thing, in substance.

And the fact that the buildings of democrats, like Mr. Merton, are fired, and attempts made to burn the Kearsage House, owned by S. W. Thompson, who is a member of the democratic State Committee, is pretty conclusive evidence to any man of sense that "copperheads" are not the incendiaries.

That it is the work of incendiaries we are all satisfied, and we are also satisfied that it is the work of a gang of fellows, some three or four, who for some days and nights past have been robbing clothes lines and doing petty pilfering about town. They have been seen, and one was caught on Monday night, and is now in jail, charged with having set fire to Eastman's barn.

Who these chaps are, or from whence, no one here can find out. The arrested tells contradictory stories. We are only satisfied of this—that these three or four are the guilty ones, but nobody here has any connection with, or knowledge of them.

Our people are greatly excited. Every house is watched nights, and men traveling about town by day go armed, thinking they may come in contact with these rascals."

These statements are entitled to consideration: but in one important particular they are not reliable.

One of the editors of the Concord Statesman happened to be in Conway when Mr. Eastman's barn was burnt,—and went in the morning to the ruins. He says:—

"Mr. Eastman informed me that $3000 would no more than make good his loss.—But, he said, had it been an accident, large as is the loss, he should not have mourned it; but to him the thought was painful that he lived in a portion of the State where people sufficiently bad are found to apply the incendiary torch to the property of their fellow-men. Mr. Eastman regards his loss as a penalty he is doomed to pay for loyalty to the Government of his country."

The Statesman's account of the thieves who steal turkies and rob clothes lines agrees with the Union.

—— A correspondent from Freedom says:

Recently, two reverend gentlemen of the State of Maine came into this town and gave out an appointment for a prayer meeting at ——, at a certain time. The time for the meeting arrived, and a goodly number of people assembled at the place appointed. The meeting was commenced by one of the Rev. gentlemen (after a few words of exhortation) by requesting all Christians present to rise to their feet, that he might count them. A few did so. He then requested all backsliders to arise. One or two arose. He next requested all sinners present to arise. The whole congregation then arose and departed, leaving the two Rev. gentlemen sole occupants of the house.—Mirror.

—— Chaplain Hill, of the 4th regiment, is among the passengers from Charleston in the Arago. He is bearer of dispatches from Gen. Gilmore to the War Department.

—— Among the buildings erected at Sanbornton Bridge the past season is a magnificent dwelling for Charles E. Tilton, Esq., a New York merchant, who has made a fortune and invests fifteen thousand dollars of it in this princely dwelling, in his native village.

—— Dr. Hatch, a well known physician of Hillsborough, fell from a scaffold in his stable, where he had gone to feed his horse, Tuesday morning, and was so badly injured that he probably cannot recover.

—— The remains of Lieut. Col. Lull have arrived at his home in Milford, and will be interred with appropriate ceremonies to-day.

A SLAVE TRADER SENTENCED.—Judge Clifford, in the U. S. Circuit Court, overruled the motion of the counsel for a new trial of Zeno Kelley of New Bedford, on the ground that new evidence in favor of their client had been discovered since his conviction last week; and he was sentenced to be imprisoned in Dedham Jail for the term of four years, and to pay a fine of $1000. Kelly was convicted of fitting out the ship Tahmaroo at New Bedford for the slave trade.

INSULT TO OUR FLAG.—The Copperheads of Stanford, N. Y., last week tore down and trampled upon an American flag which some school children had purchased by contributions. The loyal citizens, indignant at the outrage, immediately purchased and raised another flag. Instead thereof they should have "run up" every traitor who took part in this infamous act.—Boston Transcript.

No, no; stand by law and order, always.

— The Richmond Inquirer tells us that Gen. Lee "fills the eye" of the people of the South. But who will fill their mouths!

NEWSPAPER SUCCESS AND PRICES.—We don't believe that any newspaper ever should have been sold for less than 5 cents per single copy, or $3 a year for a Weekly, and $5 a year for the smallest Daily. The readers ought to pay the cost of their own papers, and not make advertising support that branch of the concern. And printers may thank themselves alone for their foolish low rates—and may also be sure that "nobody else will ever thank them" for starving themselves.

Don't be frightened, kind reader—we are not going to raise our prices just now, that we know of—though the paper dealers are putting the screws on again pretty tight; but we notice that various of our exchanges are groaning a little. For instance, the "States and Union", in this city, says they "started with terms very low, and with the distinct understanding that the price was to be invariably in advance; but there are a large number still in arrears." Their price is $1.25 a year, ridiculously low, when it should have been $3 for the first year, to start the concern for the party, and $2 afterwards. And if publishers like to keep sending papers to fellows who don't pay for 'em, why they can do it—but we never learned to enjoy that yet.

And the Bath, Me., Daily Times has a notice "to subscribers," which being somewhat general in application, we give:—

"A reference to the terms upon which we publish a Daily, will show that six months' subscription is to be paid in advance. The first six months of the second year of the Daily will expire on the 5th of December. Thus far, less than one-tenth of our subscribers have paid anything on this year's account; and though we frequently send out collectors, there is a great remissness in persons paying. One thing is very certain, we cannot publish a paper on promises; money is requisite, and unless we can have it, there is but one course to take, and that is to stop printing.

We have published the Daily since January under great disadvantages; the increased price of paper, averaging through the year, sixty per cent. more than any former year, has been no easy burden; and as paper has again gone up in price, we deem it for our own safety that the subscription price should be increased. If, however, within the coming three weeks there should be a general payment of dues from subscribers, we may keep on at the old rates; but if not, either an increase of subscription will be demanded, or the publication of a Daily by us will be suspended."

Judging from this, we think Bath must be a mean place, to let the lively little Daily Times languish thus. But perhaps it is in part the fault of the publisher, in not educating the people to better fashions at the outset, and demanding his rights. And we must say, further, that we really believe this Chronicle has got the best set of patrons in the world, for they all pay up whenever we ask them, and most of them, even, before we get a chance to do that, now adays. Instead of nine-tenths of them being in arrears, as with the Times above—not one-tenth of the names on our lists owe us a dollar! and almost all our advertisers are settled up to Oct. 1st. Never had newspaper better patrons than this has; we hope we appreciate them. Any business man can here see one reason of the Chronicle's steady success—for it makes quite an odds in a business of $15,000 or $20,000 a year—especially at the start, with "boys" who have little capital—whether your customers have $5000 of your funds in their pockets, or you have that amount of theirs, or rather your own "advanced," to do business on.

— Prentice says—"We cannot consent to furnish the rebel armies with salt, but we will ply them with the next best thing—saltpetre."

— A bill to prohibit the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors in Western Virginia is before the Legislature of that State.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and by much to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, IRRITATION, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from Physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

Local.

NEW STREET, AND EXTENSION OF AN OLD ONE.—The City Surveyors are laying out a new street, from the westerly side of Richards' Avenue (formerly Auburn street) through the fields of Dr. Rundlett. This will make a junction with Anthony street, which is also being extended across Middle street, and through the fields of Dr. R.—This will bring a large tract of land into the market, which is in great demand at the present time for house lots. J.

☞ We understand that a Company has been formed to erect a block of dwelling houses, containing twenty tenements, on the lot of land near the new Rockingham Mills, which has been used for the past three or four years by the travelling circuses, &c. Houses are in great demand, and new ones will meet with a ready renting. J.

☞ Not far distant from this staid old city, some enterprising capitalists had purchased a steam mill, and needing more accommodation had erected a large wing and connected it with the original building. In order to economize room, it was determined to remove the stairs from the old mill into that portion of the building which joined the new and old. 'Twas afternoon, but the energetic agent so accelerated the labors of the carpenters that when the shades of evening grew heavy o'er the land not only were the stairs entirely removed, but the portion of the room they had occupied was nearly floored over. Then, to his horror, the agent bethought him of a score or two of girls, operatives in those upper regions, for whose exodus he had made no calculation. No doubt there were angels among them, but their wings had not sprouted, so they could not fly down; and all the published instances wherein crinoline has acted as a life-preserver, in case of falls, wouldn't make them jump. Several gentlemen kindly volunteered to hold a ladder, by which the damsels might descend from their Bastile, but their offers were graciously declined. In proportion as the merriment of the girls at their situation increased and their demands to be released from it became more urgent, the chagrin of the luckless cause of their detention grew deeper. Evidently, "something must be did." By means of a rope and the platform of an old elevator the girls were lowered down in installments, until the whole of them trod once more on terra firma, not more relieved than the agent whose alacrity had isolated them for a time from the busy world without. J.

☞ The Herald "hopes the project of building a horse-railroad between Amesbury and Newburyport, will not be abandoned," and says "it would be worth more to Amesbury and Salisbury than both the Eastern and Boston & Maine." Horse Railroads are becoming very fashionable—why not have one from Newcastle and the Navy Yard to Portsmouth? But it is neither scientific nor economical—this substituting horse-power for steam, anywhere.

Communication.

☞ The lecture at the Temple, on Sunday evening, notwithstanding the rain, was well attended by a large audience, who listened attentively to addresses from A. T. Foss, Esq., and "Jeff. Davis' Coachman." Mr. F. spoke with telling effect; his subject was anything but what traitors and rebels could bear with comfort. One sympathizer with rebeldom privately threatened to review the lecture in the newspaper comes out, and (may he there to see) could be but give the readers a true copy of Mr. Foss's lecture, he would do the friends of humanity a favor, which we fear we shall not get from his secesh sheet. Mr. Jackson gave an account of his exodus from slavery, and his visit to England, and on the whole did better than could have been expected from one who had not had more advantages than those brought up under the institution of slavery. VERITAS.

— Enlisting is now going on rapidly in Maine. In several towns and cities the quotas are nearly filled,—the high bounties offered, with the prospect of the war being brought speedily to a close, is inducing a large number to enlist. The Cavalry regiment will probably be filled by the 1st of January, and the two veteran regiments are daily receiving accession to their membership.

— Thirty indictments have been found against liquor dealers in Knox County, Me., by the Grand Jury recently in session in Rockland. Some have paid their fines and others have put off the day of settlement.

☞ The great iron Dictator is to be launched on Thanksgiving day at New York.

Two Ladies,

MRS. POTTER and MRS. WALLS, from New York City are now in Portsmouth, with proper credentials from the Metropolitan Medical Institute, for the free reception of the sick Wives and Children of sires at and deceased soldiers.—The object of their visit here, is to collect funds, for which purpose they call on Ladies as Gentlemen. The Portland Argus, Press and Courier give their object a favorable notice. 1t*

THE TWO SHARPSHOOTERS.

Two men went out from the fire-lit camp
In the autumn midnight gray;
Over the quaking, croaking swamp,
To the edge of the woodland still and damp
With rifle and spade went they.

A hunting owl wailed out to its young,
Moved upward along the hill;
In the meadows below as the shadows flung
By the beaded tent lights thickly strung
On the silver-threaded rill.

'Twas long ere the picket moved away,
And there was a time to wait;
The pits must be dug by the dawn of day;
Said one: "We are digging graves, I say;"
The other one whispered, "Whose!"

With the morning light a column of steel
Moved upward along the hill;
Toward the hidden pits, but a double peal
Close in the front made the column reel
A moment, and then stood still.

The check won a battle-field that day;
On the morrow, the dead were laid
Head to foot in a trench of clay;
But two men at the front that lay
Were buried without a spade.

☞ Hon John. P. Hale will, by invitation, address the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity at the Temple on Wednesday evening next, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

☞ It will be seen that tickets may be had at Mr. Head's Bookstore for the half term of Mr. Davis' Singing Schools (Juvenile and Evening) commencing on Wednesday next. One would judge, from the state of public singing in the city, that Mercantile Hall ought not to hold all who need such social practice in vocalism. The school is very interesting to all who enjoy such things.

NITROUS OXYD GAS.

Having had fifteen teeth extracted while under the influence of this Gas, by Dr. Goodall, without the least pain or bad effect, I would recommend the Doctor and his Gas to the afflicted; the Gas is perfectly safe in all cases, and the Doctor is sure to remove all the old teeth and roots while the patient is under the influence of the Gas. The Gas manufactured by him is perfectly pure, as he always makes it through fresh water.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to economize in consuming. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single fire of coal, or coal or wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A Water Tank is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when desired.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this exceedingly coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.

We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

Morning Chronicle.

A writer in an English magazine, not long ago, treated upon the subject rats, and estimated the offspring of a single pair after a few years, if undisturbed, at hundreds of thousands. The following anecdote from an exchange, shows that the cats might, with a little encouragement, be able to keep pace with them:

"In August, 1861, a German, whose name we forbear mentioning at the request of our informant, left this city as a volunteer, leaving behind him a wife and a house cat he thought much of. He made his wife promise that whenever his favorite cat had kittens she would not kill them, but keep them and their increase until his return.—Faithfully the woman has kept her word, and this afternoon as we saw ourselves, had about her house in the Third Ward, in which she lives, in a shed adjoining, and racing about the premises, the old cat and her children, grand children, great grand children, etc., etc., to the number of two hundred and nine cats, cattets and kittens."

A Reply.—The Providence Post publishes—in such a manner as plainly to endorse it—the following effusion of the Albany Argus:—

The convention of Unitarians, held in Springfield, Mass., has just resolved, that "while as Christians, we are peace-makers, we cheerfully offer our own lives, and those of our children, for the perilled life of the nation." It shows how little accustomed this class of men are to mean what they say, that not one intends to join the army or send his son. By "our lives and those of our children," they refer exclusively to their neighbors' households.

To this the Providence Journal makes the following reply, which will answer not only for the Unitarian, but for various other denominations:—

Yes; and it shows how little knowledge, sense, charity, or veracity these co-journalists have, when they say, as with miraculous insight, "not one intends to join the army or to send a son," that, in fact, the clergyman who presided over this convention has sent two sons to the army as common soldiers, one of them dying in the service; that twenty or more of the other ministers and laymen present had made similar contributions and sacrifices; and that nearly half the speakers on that occasion, when duty to the country was discussed, were returned chaplains or soldiers, some of them going back, and all of them ready if needed. Verily, truth is a jewel, as well as consistency.

☞ A beautiful monument has been erected in the new cemetery at Pittsfield, Mass., to Governor George Nixon Briggs, by his family. It is a cenotaph of granite, representing a sarcophagus at the base, bearing inscriptions of the date of his birth and death, surmounted by a marble cross, Bible, &c. The west side of the monument has the following inscription: "A member of Congress twelve years; Governor of this Commonwealth seven years; one of the Justices of the Court of Common Pleas six years."

Wm. Savery, of Biddeford, is published in the list of non-responding conscripts as a "deserter." A letter received from his father desires to have it stated on our columns (and we cheerfully accommodate him) that his son is not a deserter, but has been and now is in the service of his country; that he is a member of Co. A, 12th Mass. Regt.; was wounded at Antietam; fought and was captured at Gettysburg, and is now a prisoner at Richmond, Va.—He is therefore, as he has a right to be, exceedingly sensitive to the charge of desertion.—Portland Press.

— There was a disturbance in Dublin a few days ago, caused by depredations in a pond, the trout in which are forbidden by law to be disturbed at certain seasons of the year. The Dublin people resisted the depredators, and suits at law have been instituted.

— The Deseret (Great Salt Lake City) News publishes accounts of a riot at Washoe and the jailor's monthly report for Virginia City, with this comment: "We feel thankful that we are yet some distance from civilization, high toned honor and morality."

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of Time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar attachment, and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be sold up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Opinions of the claims of any Patent furnished, by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services more moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast amount of valuable information and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full acquaintance with the practice in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as ample and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at as reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, SEVENTEEN of which he decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.

The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that real

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,

when made as it ought to be, from WHEAT, RYE AND CORN, is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of this article a specialty in his business, he has accepted the Agency for the

General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky, and in future will sell, under the brand of

"Golden Sheaf,"

PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.

This celebrated Whiskey will be put up in case containing one dozen each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and also kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in bond, for immediate sale.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St, Boston.

Each bottle is enclosed in a neat pasteboard box, to ensure its safe transportation.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and air-tight heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of a current of air through the firepot, which fills them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, adhering to the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus endangering, while it increases the curtion of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will have from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Portsmouth, Aug. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL,

Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER, as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet costs only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.

Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.

Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!

He is fully prepared to use the perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being that of an exhilarant, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient rising as well, and usually better, than before inhaling the Gas.

He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results, to call and be convinced.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. Tenney, Dr. Boardman, Dr Olivers and Dr. Berry, for particulars in regard to extracting Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's teeth will receive particular attention.—The whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

THE DECISION AGAINST THE CONSCRIPTION ACT.—The decision against the Conscription Act by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania was the act of three judges, viz: Woodward (late Copperhead candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, and defeated), Lourie (also a Copperhead and candidate for re-election to the bench, but defeated in the late canvass), and Thompson. Judges Reed and Strong dissented. Judge Woodward's opinion is published, and is based on the idea that the Conscription levies upon, takes and destroys the Militia of the States, and in spite of the States. He makes the following points:

1. That the power of Congress to raise and support armies does not include the power to draft the Militia of the States.

2. That the power of Congress to call forth the Militia cannot be exercised in the forms of this enactment.

3. That the citizen of Pennsylvania cannot be subjected to the rules and articles of war until he is in actual military service.

4. That he is not placed in such actual service when his name had been drawn from a wheel, and ten days notice thereof has been served upon him."

The whole decision is based on the doctrine of supreme sovereignty in each individual State; and would undoubtedly be reversed in the Supreme Court of the U. S., if it ever got there. It is not probable that it will get there; for Judge Lowrie will go out of office this month, and his place will be filled on the 1st day of December by Judge Agnew, who will construe "the Constitution as it is," and not as the rebels and traitors would have it.

MILESOVER LONDON.—Mr. Pliny Miles, ("Communipaw") recently travelled in an upward direction in London—the only direction he had not before travelled extensively,—in a balloon, accompanying Messrs. Coxwell and Glaisher, aeronauts, on a very delightful excursion, an account of which he gives in the New York Herald. We are also indebted to Br. Miles for English papers containing accounts of the trip up. Hon. Robert J. Walker was also of the party, which numbered six. The ascension was merely a private affair, for the amusement of the party, and but a mile or two of altitude was gained, yet enough to secure a view of great beauty—the commercial capital of the world spread out beneath like a map, and for once, in an atmosphere as pure and clear as a sunset on Lake Superior.

So distinguished a party had not neglected the comforts which make hilarity, and they had a high time. Toasts were drank complimentary to the Queen, President Lincoln, the Emperor of Austria, (a Count of whose was present,) the Press and the Ladies, with an extra for "Julia—," which were duly responded to. The party descended in Hartfordshire, on a hill, forty eight miles from London.

A SYNOD IN HOLLAND.—A correspondent of the London Weekly Review gives an amusing account of a visit to the Reformed Secession Synod of Holland. On entering the church, fumes of smoke darkened the air. A long table stretched along the place where the women had sat during preaching the evening before, which was lined on either side by members and ruling elders, while at the head of this there was a transverse table, at which sat the moderator, the professor, and other official men. Every man was smoking or preparing to smoke. The moderator held a pipe in one hand, and a wooden hammer, with which he called attention, in the other. The clerk wrote and puffed too, while on the table, from one extremity to the other, boxes of lucifer matches, plates of tobacco, paper, pens, &c., were mingled in most admirable confusion. Despite the smoking, the correspondent states, the proceedings were carried on in a most business-like manner.

A REASON FOR THE RESULT OF THE MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.—The Newark, N. J. Journal says that the falling off in the Democratic vote in Massachusetts is accounted for by the fact that a war candidate for Governor was placed upon a strong war platform. The Democrats discovered the plot and refused to vote the ticket.

EYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of Dr. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CURSLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her feet or limbs, and had by day or night, applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to walk quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISAAC CURSLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mar26w

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The Richmond Whig contains Charleston dispatches to the 13th. On Thursday the Yankees kept up a moderate fire on Sumter all day, from their mortar batteries and two monitors. One monitor and a wooden gunboat moved up to Sullivan's Island at noon, and shelled the batteries one hour.—The firing from their mortars and rifle pieces averaged two per minute all night, increasing and still going on in the morning.

An Atlanta, Ga., dispatch of the 13th says the firing between our [rebel] batteries and the enemy continues brisk. The enemy has made a movement from right to left, either with a view to a diversion in order to attack Lookout, or to send troops to Burnside.

The Richmond Whig also has the following:—

Gen. Imboden is in Alleghany county, co-operating with Gen. Echols. The report of his having a fight, and being wounded, is doubtless premature. The Yankees, under Averill, have advanced to Covington, Alleghany county.

The prize schooner Alma, recently captured near Charleston, with a cargo of salt and other merchandise, while attempting to run the blockade, arrived at Washington on Monday.

The Navy Department has received information of another capture off Wilmington, the particulars of which have not yet been received.

George T. Ayres, agent for the sale of Confederate bonds, has been sent from the Army of the Potomac, and committed to the Old Capitol Prison. Several other dangerous characters have been also sent to that place.

The government has received information that a few days before the capture of Brownsville by Gen. Banks, a large cargo of Enfield rifles was landed there. The N. Y. Herald has a letter from off Brazos, 5th, stating that the gunboat Tennessee had made a successful reconnoissance of the whole Texas coast, also of the mouth of the Rio Grande Passes, the bars, &c.; most valuable information as to the depth of water, &c., being obtained, as well as views of rebel works and forces off Sabine Pass and Galveston, Brazos River and other points. During the cruise, a small blockade runner, with arms, ammunition, &c., was captured, and another destroyed.

The Little Rock, Ark., Democrat of the 3d inst. says: Deserters report Marmaduke fallen back south of the Little Missouri river, and joined Price. The whole Southern force is six or eight thousand. Marmaduke's men are scouring the country, dressed in Federal uniform, to detect Union sympathizers, many of whom have been shot or hung.

The N. Y. World's Washington dispatch says it is quite evident that Gen. Meade's army is not going into winter quarters. A Chattanooga letter of the 13th inst., to the World, says that there were then rumors that the enemy had just engaged Gen. Hooker. Later accounts show that the rebels threatened to attack Hooker, but his strength and the position of his forces led them to abandon the project. The rebel battery on Lookout Mountain on the 16th fired into Hooker's camp, Mocassin Point, and the Chattanooga camps, but their fire was neither accurate nor effective. Gen. Sherman's entire corps joined Gen. Grant's right on the 16th.

RUM.—Some of the most remarkable geniuses of the world, as well as many of the most stupid dolts, have been victims of rum. Rum drinking did not give them the sparkle and brilliancy of mind that attracted the attention of mankind, but was the cloud upon their heavens. Coleridge, when he was limited for time to perform some literary labor, had to be confined from his cups, that it might be sure of completion; and when it was done he ran at full speed to the den where he could revel with the vilest of the vile. De Quincey was as much a slave of opium. Burns was less a brute, but a drunkard still; and so were Charles Lamb, and Byron who drew his inspiration from gin, and Steele the author of the "Christian Hero," himself the hero of a grog shop, and Douglas Jerrold, who loved brandy better than letters, and Poe, author of the Raven, whose mind was full of gloom from the effects of over drinking, and who died of delirium tremens. Thus the loftiest minds have given way at the time to the lowest vices; and those who soared to heaven in intellect were as low as the brutes in filthy habits.—Herald.

— A bill will be introduced into Congress, it is said, early in the session, to have the bounty of soldiers paid in monthly instalments, in addition to their monthly pay. This will make their stated pay $30 per month, instead of $13.

—— The Manchester Mirror makes mention of a new contrivance to light street lamps and gas burners in factories and elsewhere, invented by a Manchester man now resident in Charlestown, Mass.

— The name of S. S. Cox, of Ohio, is prominent as a Democratic candidate for the Speaker of the next House.

CONFEDERATE CORRESPONDENCE.—The rebel correspondence, by the Cornubia, is very interesting, as we judge by the statements in the New York papers.

A party was sent down from the Niphon on shore, who brought off three of her boats, which were full of luggage, and found a large quantity of diplomatic correspondence from Secretary Mason to the rebel government, which will be of great importance to our government.

Col. Thoburn, of the rebel army, was a passenger in her, but escaped capture.—The Lord Mayor of London, and said Col. Thoburn have entered into negotiations to furnish ammunition and ships of war to the rebel government. Papers were also found on the prize, in which it was stated that Mayor Wood, of New York, is going into a joint stock company with a firm, under the name of Tremaine & Co., to furnish vessels to run the blockade and supply the rebels with materials of war.

These dispatches show that the rebel agents despair of any practical benefit or assistance from England or France, and that Louis Napoleon has no intention of affording to them any greater aid and comfort than the English government is disposed to give them, and that while he will amuse them with ideas of a Mexican alliance, they have nothing of a practical or substantial character to hope for from him.

These letters and dispatches also contain many other discouraging statements and facts, which cannot fail to greatly damage the rebel cause. Copies are being prepared for publication by the Navy Department, and will be given to the press in a few days.

The recent numerous and important captures of blockade runners off Wilmington, N. C., must have a most damaging effect upon the rebel cause.

FOREIGN DIPLOMATIC ADVICES.—The New York Evening Post's Washington correspondent says:—

The latest advices at the State Department, both from England and France, are very encouraging. The English government will undoubtedly prevent the construction of any more iron vessels for the rebels, even if it is necessary to resort to additional legislation for that purpose. Public opinion throughout England is changing rapidly to our side, in reference to the great contest in which we are engaged; and the speeches of Mr. Beecher were exceedingly opportune, as they fell upon the ear of John Bull when he was disposed to hear the truth. The Liverpool meeting is spoken of especially, in private letters received here, as resulting in great good. The outrageous conduct of the friends of the South on that occasion converted thousands of respectable people to Unionism, for it is perceived that the brutal coarseness of the southern advocates on that occasion was characteristic of the rebels and their cause.

A BOSTON RIOTER RE-ARRESTED.—John West, one of the alleged conscription rioters of the 14th of July last, who was arrested several weeks since on process issued by the U. S. Court, charging him with assaulting David R. Howe, alleging Howe to be a U. S. officer, and who was discharged on that complaint, was re-arrested Friday night, on a warrant from the Police Court, for assaulting David R. Howe, on the 11th of July last, with intent to kill and murder. On this complaint West was before the Police Court Saturday, and in default of bail in $5000 was committed for examination Tuesday.

It is stated West was the first who struck a blow on the day of the riot, and that he not only assaulted Mr. Howe, but also Officer Ostrander. Mr. Howe at one time so far recovered from the effects of the assault committed upon him as to be able to ride out, since which time a relapse has taken place, and he is now confined to his bed at the Hospital, the physicians of which institution consider him in a very critical situation.

☞ From Baltimore on Monday, the 16th, another consignment of provisions, consisting of 26 barrels of mess beef, 24 barrels of pork and 4 barrels of flour and meal, were sent by C. C. Fulton to the Libby prison and Belle Isle from the Baltimore Relief Fund, making $1700 worth sent within a week.

☞ At Liverpool, Nov. 3d, one of the Mersey iron-clad rams had been towed out of the dock and placed under the guns of the guard ship Majestic. The other ram remained in an unfinished state in the graving dock, with a gunboat watching her at the entrance of the dock.

— The Venezuelan Government has made a bid for the Alexandra, the Barings guaranteeing the transaction, but the Government declined sanctioning it.

— The Federal steamer Kearsarge was at Queenstown, and was expected to visit Southampton. It was rumored that the Niagara and the rebel steamer Georgia were also looked for soon at that port.

— The advance of the Bank of England discount to 5 per cent. failed to check the efflux of gold. A further advance was considered possible.

— The ship Amazon, from London for New York, has been totally destroyed by fire off Margate. The passengers and crew were saved.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Diptheria is prevailing to an alarming extent in Ellsworth. There have already been nineteen deaths, and about as many more are now sick. Others are convalescent. Ellsworth is a small town containing only about 70 voters.

—— At a meeting of Alumni of Dartmouth College, (thirty gentlemen present) convened at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, November 13, 1863, a preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted; in which they say, "we regard the appointment of the Rev. Asa D. Smith, D. D., to the Presidency as an eminently fit and wise selection. We congratulate the Trustees, Faculty and Students on the accession to that high office of one who, by mature experience, scholarly habits, genial temperament, and habitual sympathy with whatever is healthful and good in the progress of the age, as well as by his recognized administrative wisdom and tact, is so qualified to preside over the education of young men."—They speak highly of the Dr. as a Christian minister, and, while they regret to lose him from their own circle, express their good wishes for him and the college.

"SAXE PIKE."—In the whole Army of the Potomac there was never such a Drum Major as Pike, who swung the baton over the Band of the First New-Hampshire Regiment. No one could vie with him in the force and grace of the gestures with which he at once marked the time of the music, and beckoned the regiment on to victory and glory. No one in a similar position seemed to have so adequate a conception of the dignity of the office. He was not, however, altogether pleased with the outfit first provided for him by the State, and made complaint in due form to the Adjutant General. "See here," said he, "for mercy's sake, what kind of a State will people at Washington think New Hampshire is, to see me, the principal man in the regiment, wearing this little hat, and carrying this stick, with a brass andiron head upon it." Fortunately for the credit of the State, the Adjutant General saw to it that the Drum Major had a suitable costume. He was provided with a regular sky-scraper of a hat, and a baton, with a silver globe upon it which might well have represented the sun in the orrery at Cambridge Observatory.—Statesman.

—— The Nashua Manufactory has contracted to furnish the government 315,000 army drawers.

—— At North Conway, on Monday night, 9th inst., the boarding house and stable of Stephen Mudgett were destroyed by an incendiary fire—the third that has taken place in that locality within four days. Mr. Mudgett lost most of his furniture, two horses, seven neat cattle and six hogs, fifty-two tons of hay and straw, a lot of harnesses, farming tools, &c. His whole loss will amount to $5000, and none of it was insured.

—— Mr. George H. Bellows, formerly of the 17th N. H., has been commissioned by Gov. Pierpont of Virginia, Adjutant of the "Virginia Rangers," an independent battalion of cavalry, and ordered to report for duty at Point of Rocks.

—— On Thursday evening at Keene, as we learn from the Union, an old gentleman named Ira Gay met with a singular and fatal accident, and was found dead on Mechanic street the next morning. Returning home late the previous evening, he stumbled head downward into a post hole, dug by the side of the street, where premises were undergoing repairs. Unable to extricate himself, he was not discovered till daylight, when he was quite dead. He was an industrious shoemaker, and his age about sixty.

—— From the same source we learn that the Keene people have several young Africans sent from Dixie, and that they are adopted by wealthy families for pets, or to do chores and run of errands, and it is hoped to bring them up to intelligent and useful members of society.

—— We see it stated, unofficially, that there is to be a State Union Convention Jan. 6, at Concord.

—— The house of Richard Melvin of Derry was broken into last Friday night, and robbed of $200 in money and a gold watch valued at as much more. The servant girl heard the noise, arose and came to the stairs, where she saw a person thoroughly muffled, with a club in his hand, who threatened violence if she raised an alarm, and immediately fled.

☞ From the Pennsylvania Coal Mines we learn that about 70 of the Buckshots have been arrested and sent to Reading. The murderer of A. K. Smith has also been arrested and identified. The 10th regiment of New Jersey volunteers are also stationed in the district where the disturbances were, and the rioters are being arrested and forwarded to Reading for trial.

☞ It is related that a short time since some two hundred mules, packed near Gen. Hooker's lines, broke loose and charged furiously across the field toward where a Georgia regiment was stationed. Thinking it was cavalry, or something else, the regiment broke in confusion and ran, leaving one thousand Enfield rifles of the best description behind them, which Gen. Hooker has to show in proof of the incident.

MISSOURI ELECTION. — Ninety-one counties, including the soldiers' vote, give the radical ticket 593 majority.

☞ Speaking of the late strike at Charlestown Navy Yard, the Boston Journal says:

It is estimated that the recent strike cost the laborers at least $50,000. The loss of wages is estimated at an average of $10 per man, and other extraordinary expenses with the temptations to spend money consequent upon idleness, probably increased the amount to $15. Yet the strike, we have reason to believe, was entirely needless. We have been informed that a commission appointed by the Commodore before the strike, to ascertain the hours of labor outside the yard, had reported that the bell should not be rung until an hour after sunrise, and an order to that effect would have been issued as soon as the approval of the Secretary of War could be obtained. This fact was communicated to the Chairman of the Workingmen's Committee when the strike was talked of, but the information was withheld by him from the working men.

☞ Henry Ward Beecher at home, is somewhat more welcomed to day, because of what he has said and done abroad. A New York item of the 16th says of him,—

Mr. Beecher's arrival yesterday morning was unexpected, and no public demonstration was made. A paper is circulating, and has been extensively signed by our most eminent and patriotic citizens of all political creeds, asking Mr. Beecher to deliver, at his convenience, an address to the citizens of New York on the subject of his observations in Europe, with special reference to matters connected with the rebellion. Very extensive preparations have been made by the Plymouth Sabbath School and congregation to give their pastor a suitable reception, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Mr. Beecher has accepted the invitation of the Brooklyn War Fund Committee to deliver an address at the Brooklyn Academy of Music on Thursday evening next.—The proceeds will be devoted to the benefit of our sick and wounded soldiers.

☞ A despatch to General Schenck from Gen. H. H. Lockwood, dated Drummondtown, eastern shore Virginia, Nov. 15, reports that a small party of rebel raiders landed on the Chesapeake shore last Saturday, but before they could get into the interior, they were met and captured by the coast guard. They belong to the gang of the notorious Capt. Beall, of the rebel army, and numbered 60 men, with 8 commissioned officers. They are all prisoners.

— No doubt the prevalent conviction of the overpowering strength of the nation to contend with and destroy the rebellion, is well founded. But it should be accompanied by another conviction, that it concerns every body to see to it, that this acknowledged strength is brought out and used in all its fullness.

— As the wife of Francis Jessup of Westport, Conn., was recently on her way home she saw the barn of a neighbor burning, in the direction of her house, and meeting some boys, inquired what building was burning. The boys replied, Frank Jessup's house. Mrs. Jessup fell and died immediately.

— Barnabas Young, a young man, shot himself in Gloucester on Tuesday morning and died almost instantly. Dissipation, and a love disappointment it appeared on the inquest, disgusted him with the world, and prompted him to make his exit by his own hand.

— A steamer is reported to have foundered in the gale in Saginaw Bay—all on board being lost.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To prevent any attention to long catalogues of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHITIS and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from the highest respectability; and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

☞ Hon. John. P. Hale will, by invitation, address the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity at the Temple this Wednesday, evening, at 7 1-2 o'clock. Ladies are invited to attend.

☞ On Tuesday, after nearly a fortnight of silence, occasioned by a derangement of the wheel, the North bell rang out its usual notes of warning, noon and night.

(Communication.)

Messrs. Editors:—We see that a street is to be laid out from Richards's Avenue westward; all very well so far; we should like a lot, but for those slaughter houses; they are death on enterprise in that vicinity, even if they do make the land rich.—We are not very vindictive; but we feel as if we could do our part in building twelve shanties for those twelve jurymen, with one door and one window facing the slaughter house. If they were compelled to live there through one term of dog days, if the dog star did not rage, we believe they would unitedly wish their verdict set aside. A walk through the avenue in winter is hardly endurable, but we tremble when we think of dog days. Is there no help for so prominent and intolerable a nuisance?

(Communication.)

THANKSGIVING.—We learn that the Choir of the Unitarian Church are in rehearsal of Farmer's Mass, in B flat, a portion of which will be sung at the Stone Church on next Thanksgiving Day, as a part of the services for that occasion. We have no doubt that this talented choir, assisted by the skillful organist, and with such a noble instrument for an accompaniment, will render this beautiful Mass in a style that cannot help pleasing all lovers of music of so high an order.

☞ We have been having, since Saturday evening, a most copious fall of rain. A gentleman from Rochester, arriving here on Monday evening, says the streams in that direction are unusually full, and the waters were so high at Great Falls as to create some anxiety about the safety of the works.

Blockade running is getting to be rather precarious business, and we are glad of it. As soon as the blockade runners find it don't pay, they will stop. S. C. Pearson, an Englishman, who has been largely in the business, has come to grief. He has failed, and the exhibit of his affairs shows claims against the United States Government for alleged illegal captures of $87,000 sterling, and $93,000 sterling against the confederates for refusing to fulfil their contracts. That is getting badly slipped in: both wings. Glad of it, old fellow—better have kept out of the unlawful business.—Argus.

— An exchange paper copies and commends the words of old Father Byles, of Boston, in Revolutionary times, against political preaching. Byles was a patriotic royalist, and it was the patriotism of the pulpit of that day, and its zeal for a free government, that prompted his conservatism.—Nevertheless, Mather Byles preached and prayed more politics than any of his neighbors, only his were on the opposite side.

— John M. Griffin, who was charged with the murder by poison of three different masters of a New England vessel, the Betsey Williams, while in a foreign port, with the object of assuming her command, was tried this week in New York, a second time, for the triple murder, and acquitted.

— By direction of the President, Major Charles J. Whiting, of the 2d U. S. Cavalry, is dishonorably discharged from the service for using contemptuous and disrespectful words against the President of the United States.

— George B. Phetteplace, who was arrested for a murderous assault on Ambrose Nichols, of North Providence, R. I., has been committed to jail, in default of $5000 bail, to await his trial.

— It seems that Capt. Reuben Sawyer of Bath, Me., was not shot by a conscript or deserter. The Detroit Tribune says he was taken suddenly ill Friday, and died on Sunday morning.

It has been finally determined to continue the issue of the new fractional currency without alteration or improvement.—Ex.

Under the present circumstances, they could not do better. And if the people would keep them smooth and clean, in a small pocket book or portemonnaie, they would be more convenient than when crumpled or twisted into little wads or rolls.

THE INCENDIARISM IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—We have heard many conflicting stories in the way of surmises about the severe losses by incendiary in Conway, N. H. One is to the effect that an arrested incendiary declared himself to be a Southern man and a rebel,—one of the band whose headquarters are in Canada, and whose object is promiscuous arson. But the thing is hardly plausible.—Portland Adv.

☞ It is said that a French physician, a free-thinker, has cured the Pope of erysipelas, which had troubled the Holy Father in a very sore leg.

A joker on hearing that certain persons were mutilating the copper cent, by cutting out the head and wearing it as a breastpin or badge, at once suggested the following definition: Copperhead—one who outrages the good cents of the nation.

RELIGIOUS MUSIC.—Let me suggest, in this connection, the very great importance of the cultivation of religious music. Every family should be trained in it; every Sunday or common school should have it as one of its exercises. The Moravians have it as a kind of ordinance of grace for their children; not without reason, for the powers of feeling and imagination, and the sense of spiritual realities, are developed as much by a training of childhood in religious music, as by any other means. We complain that choirs and organs take the music to themselves in our churches, and that nothing is left to the people but to bear their undistinguishable piping, which no one else can join, or follow, or interpret.—This must always be the complaint till the congregation themselves have exercise enough in singing to make the performance theirs. As soon as they are[] able to throw in masses of sound that are not barbarous but Christian, and have a right enjoyment of their feeling in it, they will have the tunes and the style of the exercise in their own way, not before. Entering the great church of Jesus in Rome, when all the vast area of the pavement was covered with the worshippers on their knees, chanting in full voice, led by the organ, their confession of penitence and praise to God, I was impressed, as never before, with the essential sublimity of this rite of worship, and I could not but wish that our people were trained in a similar exercise.

The more sorrowful is it that in our present defect of culture, there are so many voices which are more incapable of the right distinction of sound, than things without life, and which, when they attempt to sing, contribute more to the feeling of woe than of praise.—Rev. Dr. Bushnell.

☞ See Mr. Wendell's advertisement of auctions for to-day—sales morning, afternoon and evening. Also, notice that he will have regular similar sales each Wednesday and Saturday hereafter.

Also, special sale this morning, of nice Furniture at house 17 Court street.

☞ It will be seen that tickets may be had at Mr. Head's Bookstore for the half term of Mr. Davis' Singing Schools (Juvenile and Evening) both commencing this day. One would judge, from the state of public singing in the city, that Mercantile Hall ought not to hold all who need such social practice in vocalism. The school is very interesting to all who enjoy such things.

NITROUS OXYD GAS.

Having had fifteen teeth extracted while under the influence of this Gas, by Dr. Goodall, without the least pain or bad effect, I would recommend the Doctor and his Gas to the afflicted; the Gas is perfectly safe in all cases, and the Doctor is sure to remove all the old teeth and roots while the patient is under the influence of the Gas. The Gas manufactured by him is perfectly pure, as he always makes it through fresh water.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fire is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook:

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—dust need scarcely enter into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ Carlo Armellina, formerly one of the Roman triumvirate, in conjunction with Mazzini and Saffi, died a few days since at Brussels, at the age of 87. He had already obtained distinction as a lawyer, when Pio Nono, soon after his accession to the Papacy, in June, 1846, entrusted to him the preparation of the reforms which were effected between 1846 and 1848. Armellini was decorated for his services with the Order of Merit, and made pro Senator or Chief of the Municipal Council of Rome.—He supported and encouraged the Pope in his liberal views. When in March, 1848, a constitutional government was proclaimed by the Pope, Armellini was chosen deputy by several constituencies, and afterwards made Vice President of the Chamber.—When subsequently the Pope fled to Gaeta, Armellini was made minister of the interior, and on the proclamation of the republic he was ominously fixed on as one of the members of the triumvirate. Rome having submitted after the well-fought day of the 30th of June, 1849, to the French troops, Armellini retired to Brussels, where he was held in universal respect. His body was followed to the grave by politicians of distinction, by savans, by artists, and exiles of all countries. He was based by Cardinal Antonelli, but was held in high esteem by all who could appreciate a noble character and a generous disposition.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars, combining the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and will handle accordingly.
Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (as per act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions. Inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THIS PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of business kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him who, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twenty rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.
The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now feels from the experience that real

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,
when made as it ought to be, from
WHEAT, RYE AND CORN, is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be made. Having determined to make the sale of this article a specialty in his business, he has accepted the General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky, and is future will sell, under his brand of
"Golden Sheaf,"
PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.
This celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in barrels, half barrels and kegs.
Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St. Boston.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, by the weight being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for persection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With this extension (top) there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as many of our families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of by other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some promising but little more attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every sim fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

UNSEEN.

How do the rivulets find their way?
How do the flowers know the day,
And open their cups to catch the ray?

I see the germ to the sunlight reach,
And the nestlings know the old bird's speech;
I do not see who is there to teach.

I see the hare from the danger hide,
And the stars through the trackless spaces ride;
I do not see that they have a guide.

He is eyes for all who is eyes for the mole;
All motion goes to the rightful goal;
Oh, God! I can trust for the human soul.

—[CHARLES G. AMES.

He prayeth well who loveth well
Both man, and bird, and beast:
He prayeth best who loveth best
All things, both great and small;
For the dear God who loveth us
He made and loveth all.

THE MONEY ARTICLE of the Boston Post is usually interesting and always valuable. The Post of Monday, in its review of finance and business for the previous week, has those items:

American gold and the foreign exchanges have fluctuated daily, keeping pace with each other, and have been influenced by the requirements for duties at the custom-house and for remittances to pay for imports from the other side of the water, apart from the speculative action which has been brought to bear upon specie as an article of commerce, since it has ceased to be vaunted as currency. One good effect of the high price of gold is to check importations of foreign goods and to superinduce at the same time, and for the same cause, the exports of domestic products, which go forward more freely when exchange drawn against them rules high, than when it is low.

The demand for the popular loan has naturally fallen off to some considerable extent, in consequence of the temporary scarcity of legal tender notes, made so by the previous purchases amounting to a large aggregate in a short space of time. The currency thus withdrawn from the banks and from circulation will soon be paid out again from the Treasury, for the public service, and become more plentiful. After the disbursements for the army and navy work back into the channels of active motion, a fresh inquiry for the Five-Twenties will doubtless follow. At present the Treasury needs no money and can well afford to wait for a return of financial ease before disposing of the remainder of the scrip, which at par, interest payable in gold, and principal also at maturity, is the safest, cheapest and most desirable solid security in this or any other market. * * Over-trading on a paper currency will be certain to incur reactionary consequences, although not to the same extent as would follow a similar excess under a system of specie payments, such as formerly acted as a safety valve, &c.

No despondency is seen in these extracts, which, with the whole article, form a strong contrast to the mischievous croakings of ignorant editors and correspondents.

☞ Hon. Benjamin C. Clark, an eminent merchant of Boston, died there on Saturday, aged 63. Mr. Clark was well known in mercantile circles, having been for many years engaged in the Haytien trade, and was greatly respected for his integrity in all the relations of an active business life, as well as honored for his general intelligence and worth as a man. He was an active friend of Hayti, of which nation he was for several years the Commercial Agent.

The Boston Post contains a very excellent obituary notice of Mr. C., in which it is said:—

"As a true friend of Hayti, he is entitled to the lasting gratitude of that nation. He did more to infuse a correct knowledge of their government, their actual condition, embarrassments and capabilities than any writer or speaker within our recollection, and the final acknowledgment of Haytien nationality by our government was more owing to his exertions than to the efforts of any other individual."

Every word of this is true; and yet this independence would never have been acknowledged by the United States, if the slave power herein had not met with a political defeat and committed suicide.—When these things happened, Mr. Clark could have influence in Congress,—but not before.

EYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1845. "I hereby certify that my daughter has been afflicted with dizziness for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. I do not know of one can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1863.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating, and all medicine failed to give me relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
Dr. SWETT.—Feeling it to be my duty and I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in Boston, in 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I attribute our medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or bottles of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with them, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to Dr. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Our forces were still firing on Sumter on the 15th. From Thursday morning, until Saturday at sundown, 1440 mortar shells and rifle shots had been fired at Sumter.

The N. Y. Times' Army of the Potomac dispatch says of the cavalry reconnoissance of the 15th that although the enemy exposed some infantry it is believed that there is now only a strong picket line on the Rapidan, and that Lee's army has fallen back to some other position. The World's dispatch says it is understood that Gen. Meade not only is to advance to the Rapidan, but that he is to cross it before the close of the week, and obtain battle if possible. And the Richmond Dispatch says that there is no doubt that Meade is advancing on our (the rebel) forces with the view of bringing on a general engagement, which will probably not be declined when the proper time arrives. Gen. Meade has already established his headquarters at Culpepper, while his whole army is known to be south of the Rappahannock.

Gen. Butler has gone to North Carolina to inaugurate the policy which he has commenced to administer at Fortress Monroe. Before leaving he began work on a plan for enlisting and organizing the blacks in the Virginia portion of his department.

INTERCEPTED REBEL CORRESPONDENCE.—There is no more piquant and interesting reading than that furnished by the rebel mail bags which fall into the hands of our government by capture, every little while.

Among the papers recently captured with the blockade runners, is a letter from E. DeLeon, a rebel agent, addressed to Jeff. Davis, dated Paris, Oct. 1st.

Mr. DeLeon speaks of causing "various publications to be made in England, on the topics of cotton, slavery, the oath of allegiance, federal fabrications, and keeping up a running fire through the English press." This accounts for a great deal of the "running fire" in favor of the rebellion, and in slander of our government and the North, which has characterized a large section of the independent press of England.

DeLeon says:—

If Mr. Seward acknowledges Maximilian's empire, the grounds on which our action seems to have been predicted is cut away from beneath our feet. We are all groping in the dark at this moment. God grant that I may be unduly suspicious and distrustful, and that we may get more substantial aid and comfort from Napoleon than I either hope or expect.

In another part of DeLeon's letter he says:—

I am working hard and incessantly, personally and by proxy, and am enlarging the sphere of my operations as the exigencies of the hour demanded. France wants money. Literally and not figuratively they are a more mercenary race than the English, and we must buy golden opinions of them if at all.

There are many letters, official and otherwise, directed to rebels high in authority, concerning building vessels, and furnishing ordnance stores, &c. The tone of all, however, is desponding, particularly in regard to the lukewarmness of England.

☞ A Buffalo despatch states that a gentleman from Toronto reports that Hon. Joshua R. Giddings has been arrested in Montreal, and held to bail in $30,000, charged with kidnapping.

The Montreal correspondent of the N. Y. World states that a man named Redpatche was recently arrested there, taken to New York, found to be the wrong man, subsequently released, returned to Montreal and has taken legal steps for redress. Consul Giddings was mixed up in the affair, and has written an explanation to a Montreal paper, by which it appears that his action in the premises was merely of an advisory nature, and that was given under misapprehension.

☞ Brownsville, the destination of Gen. Banks' expedition, is situated at Fort Brown, on the left bank of the Rio Grande, fifty miles above the Gulf of Mexico, and nearly opposite Matamoras. It is a flourishing town, and boasts several churches two newspapers, and 4000 to 5000 inhabitants. It has reaped a rich harvest out of the rebellion, as a depot for contraband goods.

— The Mobile Register thinks there should be no distinction as to color, when men are ready to fight for their country. It regards the negroes as showing so much patriotism in coming forward in defence of Southern rights that they will advance in Southern estimation.

— The Canadian border excitement has died out, and the troops sent to protect Johnson's Island and other places are about to be sent home.

— Five girls, dressed in male attire, arrived in Louisville the other day, in a party of 300 rebel prisoners.

— A foot of snow and fine sleighing in Eastport, Me.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Hon. Mason W. Tappan, Lyman D. Stevens Esq., of Concord, and John S. Walker, of Claremont have been commissioned by Gov. Gilmore to represent the State at the consecration of the national cemetery at Gettysburg, on Thursday, 19th inst.

—— Several public-spirited citizens of Hillsborough, not waiting to call a town meeting, advanced the money to pay the bounties to volunteers from that town under the last call, and on the evening of Nov. 16, 22 of the 24 men required had been obtained.

—— Mr. John W. Butterfield of Concord, was admitted to practice in the courts of this State, by the Supreme Court, last week.

—— Monday a party of five men got into the cars at Hooksett and started on their course southward. Something in their appearance attracted the keen eyes of conductor Noyes, who informed Mayor Abbot and Justic Spear, Esq., of Manchester, who were aboard the train. As three of them answered the description of some skedaddlers, and their appearance indicated they were such, the Mayor had them made fast, and on reaching Lawrence, they were locked up in the lobby. One succeeded in breaking out and getting clear, but the other two were taken to Manchester and confined over night, and by order of Gen. Hinks, taken to Concord.

—— The citizens of North Weare are making extensive arrangements for a grand levee at Kelly's new mill, on Tuesday evening next, the proceeds to go to the Sanitary Commission, for the benefit of our soldiers. Hon. Daniel Clark and other distinguished guests are expected to be present, and a great time is anticipated.

—— The Patriot says it is stated that the Methodist Biblical Institute, established in Concord some years ago, is to be removed to Chelsea, Mass., and that land and money for the construction of buildings there, have been contributed.

—— Rev. H. Hill, chaplain of the 3d N. H. regiment, and formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Manchester, arrived in that city on Thursday from the army.

—— The Friends' Meeting House at Centre Sandwich was consumed by fire on Saturday evening, 14th inst. It was the work of an incendiary: loss from six to eight hundred dollars.

—— Rev. A. D. Smith, D. D., was inaugurated as President of Dartmouth College, Wednesday. Gov. Gilmore and staff, members of the judiciary, and many of the Alumni were present. The College buildings were to be illuminated in the evening.

—— Towns in the second district are doing well in filling their quotas. It is said that New Ipswich was the first town in New England to enter her apportionment under the last call.

MURDER IN LOWELL.—On Sunday evening, about quarter past eight o'clock, Philip McGovern was killed in a street, by Michael McDonald. McGovern was on his way home, and stopped to speak with some acquaintances. During the conversation, McDonald came across the street, and stabbed young McGovern in three places, with a knife, the largest and most dangerous one being in the right groin, and about two inches long. McGovern was conveyed home, but he died in a short time from loss of blood.

Several arrests were made by the police soon after the murder was committed, but it was not till about one o'clock that the real murder was arrested. His name is Michael McDonald, he is about twenty-six years of age, and has a wife and three children. He was found at home, and gave himself up without resistance. He admitted the facts given above, but says that he acted in self-defence, though he supposed the man whom he stabbed was another person with whom he had some trouble recently. He threw the knife away. McDonald was brought before the Police Court, and ordered to be committed to jail to await examination.

☞ The Bath Times says that a letter was received in that city last week directed to Mrs. Thomas G. Knight. It was mailed at the Bath office July, 1858, for Davenport, Iowa, and was found in the bottom of a mail bag at Washington, D. C., that was laid aside for repairs, making five years and four months before it was delivered. Mrs. Knight at that time lived in Davenport, Iowa.

SPRUNG A LEAK.—On Sunday, in the cellar of W. W. Whipple, Adams' Block, in Portland, a new fountain suddenly opened which threatened an overflow of the premises. The Fire Steam Engine Cumberland was at work all of Tuesday, discharging the water at the rate of a hogshead a minute, and just keeping the cellar free. The water is perfectly clear, but whence it comes is not so clear.

— Official returns in Illinois, are said to exhibit the remarkable fact that Egypt has given a handsome majority for the Union emancipation ticket.

THE MAINE CHARITABLE MECHANIC ASSOCIATION was incorporated in 1815, its headquarters being Portland, then containing 5000 people. Their Apprentices' Library was begun in 1820, and now numbers nearly 3000 volumes of choice and valuable works.

This Association early took ground upon the subject of Temperance. They saw that the use of intoxicating liquors was one of the great drawbacks to the success of the Mechanic, and therefore in the year 1829, before the subject had been very generally brought before the people in its true light, the Association appointed a committee of five, including Neal Dow, to recommend some plan by which the custom of furnishing journeymen and apprentices with ardent spirits might be done away. The plan was presented and accepted by the Association by a vote of fifty to one. Ardent spirits were banished from their festivals, and a standing committee appointed to advise and admonish any member who might be inclined to the seductive path which leads so directly to the ruin of themselves and families.

In 1857 the Mechanic's Building was commenced and completed early in the year 1859: all the various departments of labor were done entirely by members of the Association, and the building is an enduring monument of their skill and industry as well as of the public spirit of the men who favored the enterprise and urged it forward. The cost of this edifice was $40,000. In 1861 the State of Maine granted a township of land to the Association, the proceeds to be applied to the educational interests of mechanics and their improvement in the arts and sciences. The land was sold for $11,000, which has been invested, to be used in conformity with said resolution.

The Association has been increasing in membership until it exceeds five hundred, and new members are constantly joining.

☞ The following are the sums awarded the officers and crews in the case of steamer Memphis. It will be seen that these sums are almost princely in some instances, and with the splendid chances for prize money here indicated, our navy should not longer suffer for men. The Memphis was captured by the U. S. steamer Magnolia, Acting Volunteer Lieut. Wm. Budd:—

To "Blowers!"

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

Having been repeatedly informed, by various persons, that some of the "trade in our neighborhood have sought diligently and by various means (such as experimenting, analysing, &c.) to discover the ingredients and dry down the merits of my

Lightning Hair Dye.

Thus demonstrating it to be a good article, (for we never knew a poor article to be counterfeited) now, to all such persons, "or any other man," I hereby issue the following

Challenge.

I will deposit in the hands of any honorable, disinterested person, the sum of a like amount being deposited by the competing party; if I fail to color in less time, in better shape, and the dye to wear longer and with less inconvenience to the person operated upon, with my Lightning Hair Dye—they using their own, or any other dye they choose—the longest, thickest, heaviest and hardest whiskers that can be produced; then the winner shall receive the One Hundred Dollars.

This Challenge will remain open one week. If not responded to within that time it will be withdrawn, and all jealous and evil-disposed persons requested forever after to hold their peace; although I would have it distinctly understood that I attach no importance to their statements, as I can produce testimonials from some of the MOST RESPECTABLE PERSONS, (not miles away, with doubtful names, but at home in our own city and neighborhood,) of the superiority of over all other preparations, combinations and abominations termed

HAIR DYES:

and I would take this opportunity to inform ALL PERSONS

that I keep constantly on hand and can furnish in any quantity—from one drop to a tierce, from one cent's worth to any amount of dollars—

The Lightning Hair Dye.

Local.

HON. JOHN P. HALE'S address on National Affairs, at the Temple last evening, was marked by that rare power of apt illustration for which his public speeches are ever noted; while ever and anon passages of marked power and beauty broke in upon the continuous flow of the close and convincing argument, thus rendering the address doubly pleasing to the crowded audience. He was felicitously introduced by Ex-Gov. Goodwin, and was received with cheers. He traced out to an absurdity the legitimate effect of admitting the right of a State to secede, showing how futile it would be to attempt to prevent towns even from following the precedent; inquired into the justice of the complaints against the draft, alleged arbitrary arrests, &c.; referred in terms of scathing rebuke to the real object of the 4th of July convention in Concord, as revealed especially in the speech of Ex-President Pierce, and showed how effectually the glorious news from Vicksburg and Gettysburg prevented the attainment of that object; examined the claims of those who assert their ability to restore peace if they were restored to power, illustrating those claims by an amusing account of their utter inability to keep the peace during the closing months of the last Administration, or even to preserve themselves from a family quarrel terminating in an open rupture at Charleston; and asserted that the loyal people of the North would consent to no peace which did not leave us national life and national honor. Of the future he was hopeful, believing that with a cordially-united public sentiment at the North the rebellion would be speedily and effectually suppressed.

Many other points were ably presented but we cannot refer to them in this meagre report. The Temple was densely crowded and for nearly two hours Mr. Hale held the close attention of his audience. An attempt to break up the meeting shortly before 9 o'clock by raising a false alarm of fire in the vicinity, signally failed. The meeting adjourned with enthusiastic cheers for our Senator, our Country, and our Soldiers.—The audience included many ladies.

☞ It will be seen by a card from Mr. Nathan Jones, that the Catholic Priests do not wish to father the horse-trot on the Greenland Road last week, as credited to them in this and other papers. We willingly publish the correction, and should exceedingly regret doing these gentlemen any injustice.

To the Publisher of the Chronicle,

SIR:—I observe that your paper, a few days since, contained a notice of a horse race said to have been conducted by the Catholic Priests of Portsmouth and Exeter. This is entirely a misrepresentation; and the account in your paper does injustice to these gentlemen, and the ladies also, who had nothing to do with the race except that they were accidentally present and witnessed it. The fact is the race was got up between Mr. Robinson of Exeter, and myself, with no stakes beyond the expense of a supper. Nobody bet one hundred dollars or any other sum, to my knowledge, and nobody had any concern in the race but Mr. Robinson and myself.

N. JONES.

Portsmouth, Nov. 18, 1863.

☞ Mr. Henry R. Stoddard, well known in this vicinity as a horseman and a clever fellow, has become partner in the American Stables, which are now owned by N. Jones & Co. The premises have recently been much enlarged and improved, by fitting the old Cameneum building as a part of the same; and you may travel many a day without finding better stable accommodations.

☞ Remember the auction by Mr. Wendell, of elegant furniture at house No. 17 Court street, at 10 o'clock this morning—postponed from yesterday.

☞ All the "blowers" alluded to therein, should read Mr. Leverton's notice this morning, concerning the Lightning Hair Dye, &c.

☞ Gas fixtures are being introduced in the Episcopal Church, in this city.

— The mate of a vessel in Boston was obliged to make his way from a den in North street to the wharf where his vessel was lying, robed in an empty and headless flour barrel, every rag of his clothes having been stolen save his shirt. The Herald says his appearance in the streets created quite a sensation, and some police officers looked at him with wistful eyes, but there was no law under which he could be arrested.

— A large warehouse, at Wilmington, N. C., used as the Custom House, was destroyed by fire on the night of the 14th. The loss, which is heavy, consisted of cotton, clothing, and part of the cargo of the steamship Advance, belonging to the State of North Carolina.

— The English iron-clad Prince Consort was nearly knocked to pieces in a recent Channel gale.

— As soon as we have clear nights, it will be time to look out for the November gambol of meteors.

CHANGE OF SENTIMENT IN MARYLAND. A Baltimore correspondent of the N. Y. Post, relates the following, among other incidents, to show the change which has taken place in public sentiment in Maryland in regard to slavery:

"For the last three years a Quaker in Hartford county has stood indicted for circulating Helper's Book. Recently he was present at an emancipation meeting in that county, and there saw his informants and persecutors listening to and applauding an abolition speech by that old 'Black Republican' Judge Kelley, who, you know, has a way of taking right to the point. Our Quaker friend is in ecstacies, and says it was glory enough for him, retaliation enough for all his outrageous wrongs, to witness that spectacle."

— The steamer Glasgow, from Memphis, 12th, brings news of the loss of the steamer Sunnyside, opposite Island No. 16. She had a large passenger list and a heavy freight; 1380 bales of cotton were destroyed. The boat caught fire from sparks from her chimney. She was run ashore, and her engines were kept working to hold her to the bank. The exit from the boat being insufficient, many of her passengers were obliged to jump overboard, several of whom were drowned. Of 13 female passengers, only four escaped; and of eight children 6 were lost. About 30 passengers in all were drowned or burned.

☞ Four school girls in Boston took it into their heads to run away. One of them stole money enough from her mother to pay the cost and they all started in the cars for New York. On arriving at Worcester, their thoughts turned towards Boston, they became homesick and went back to see their mammas.

— A Waterville correspondent of the Portland Press states that Edward Noyes has settled his defalcation with the Maine Central Railroad, for $38,168.34.

☞ We learn that Mr. Henry C. Barnabee, formerly of this city, and other singers from Boston, will sing at the opening Lyceum Lecture at Dover.

NITROUS OXYD GAS.

Having had fifteen teeth extracted while under the influence of this Gas, by Dr. Goodall, without the least pain or bad effect, I would recommend the Doctor and his Gas to the afflicted; the Gas is perfectly safe in all cases, and the Doctor is sure to remove all the old teeth and roots while the patient is under the influence of the Gas. The Gas manufactured by him is perfectly pure, as he always makes it through fresh water.

Volunteers for the Army should not leave the city until supplied with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT. For sores, scurvy, wounds, small pox, fevers and bowel complaints, these medicines are the best in the world. Every French soldier uses them. Only 25 cents per box. 211

To every barrel of Flour you can make thirty pounds more Bread or Biscuit (and much better) by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, than by yeast fermentation or any other Salaratus.—It is perfectly healthy, will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs, and cure dyspeptic persons. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try one paper, and you will be convinced. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 119 Liberty Street, New York.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. Housecooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In turn, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.

We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

Morning Chronicle.

A PICTURE OF NEW YORK LOW LIFE. John Cusick, a Copperhead politician in New York city, was shot in a rum-hole in Madison street, on Wednesday morning, it is supposed by one James White, who belonged to a rival faction of the same party. From the report in the N. Y. News, it appears that the murderer and his victim were both leaders of parties; that they led each a party into the porter house between 2 and 4 o'clock in the morning; that a "quarrel ensued between them in regard to their respective candidates for Aldermen and their own personal fighting qualities. The party had been drinking pretty freely, and as the quarrel progressed pistols were drawn and pointed."—In other words they were all drunk or partly so; and the result was that White, between 4 and 5 in the morning, shot Cusick dead on the spot.—White is in jail for murder, and Tom Brown as accessory. Brown and White say they were born in Ireland; Cusick was a native of New York city. White was the keeper of a drinking shop: and the whole party appear to be conservatives of the most approved modern brand. One man who lived on the premises testified that he saw the pistol fired, saw the man shot, and closed his eyes: he says,—"I am under the impression that White was under the influence of liquor at the time; the crowd appeared to be generally tight; there was a crowd in the back room previous to the shooting."

What a picture is here, of politics and morals: a crowd going from one den to another all night. How fit they are for "treason, strategem and spoils."

U. T.

VICTORIA AND EUGENIE.—These are now the most influential ladies in the world. The one rules a great people by virtue of the organic law of a realm; the domain of the other is the empire of fashion. Victoria is upper-most in the affections of the British people; Eugenie, excluded by the Salic law from becoming a sovereign, is nevertheless a ruler whose dominion is as wide as the dwelling-places of people of fashion.—The foreign influence of Victoria is in the moral world—that of Eugenie in the palaces of European monarchs and in the mansions of wealth, taste, and beauty on both sides the Atlantic.

The lady sovereign of England—a mourner whose sorrow is so profound that the remembrance thereof will never pass away—a few days ago so far appeared in public as to be present in Aberdeen, when a recently prepared statue of her husband was first uncovered. Eugenie, at last accounts, was at Biarritz—the arbitress of fashionable apparel at that favorite summer and autumnal resort of herself and Louis Napoleon.—Catherine de Medicis, wife of one king and mother of three, exercised great power in the state, but Eugenie surpasses her in the empire of fashion.

After these ladies are no more, a long period will probably pass away before two of their sex will occupy corresponding positions. The influence of both is quiet as sunlight, and if not as pervading is nevertheless felt over two continents. The power of Victoria outside the realm, is that of a pious sovereign—the central star in a court where vice was once gilded with splendor, and the wife of a king was eclipsed by women who stood in higher favor than herself. The power of Eugenie is discerned in the apparel of women both in the courts of Europe, and in the mansions of wealth and the gay streets of our Atlantic cities. The only garment which is understood to have been given to the world under the auspices of Victoria was the Balmoral skirt, while Eugenie regulates the apparel, even to the bonnet strings, of her sex wherever the devotees to European fashion have their abiding places. The moral influence of Victoria is not confined to the realm of which she is the legal head, while Eugenie has only to move her wand, and the garments of millions of women have gone out of fashion. Victoria reigns in the affections of her people—the empire of Eugenie is the domain of fashion.—Concord Statesman.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to preserve all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere. We at present think as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (ten years.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to prosecute inventions in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished. By remitting One Dollar, Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, to prosecute their claims and their applications in view to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to secure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.

The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that we

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,

when made as it ought to be, from
WHEAT, RYE AND CORN,

is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of this article a speciality in his business, he has accepted the

General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky, and in future will sell, under the brand of

"Golden Sheaf,"

PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.

This celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and also kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in barrels, half barrels and kegs.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St, Boston.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and tea iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, which can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, a number of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the great est amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the smoke pipe of into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot escape, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which gives them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

PERLEY.—Ben Perley Poore, the well known Washington Waif correspondent of the Boston Journal, has just begun his waifs for the winter season. He says:

There was found on the Rappahannock, among the papers of a quartermaster in the rebel army, a letter with two invoices which show that Boston has traitors among her "solid men." For obvious reasons it is not advisable to now publish the evidence calculated to implicate those who—under pretense of shipping to the British Provinces—have been furnishing supplies to the rebels.

Secretary Seward announced in conversation the gratifying intelligence that our foreign relations are in a more encouraging position than they have been since the commencement of the rebellion. The government of Great Britain has been compelled by the British people to see that the cause of freedom receives no harm, and Louis Napoleon evidently has his hands full, without taking up the cause so adroitly presented by Slidell and his creole associates. Lord Brougham may assert that Mr. Sumner "is laboring under a delusion," but the Senator's arguments have produced the desired effect in Great Britain, and their translation at Paris can but be productive of good.

Times have changed since the first "waif" was written, and the Southern portion of the bold and bad demagogues who then ruled are now in open rebellion, while their Northern associates desire a dishonorable peace, that the Democratic party may be re-constructed. In their places we have good and true men, (with a few exceptions) busily engaged in fanning the sacred flame of freedom, which is spreading over the whole land, consuming the decaying remains of much that is worthless, purifying our political system, and strengthening the foundations of our glorious Union.

It is not many months since "abolitionist" was associated here with such terms as infidel, atheist, traitor or murderer! Bloody insurrections were its objects, and affrighted mothers hushed their babes asleep with the terrible epithet, as the Saracen matrons are said to have done theirs with the name of Richard Cœur de Lion. Now "abolitionist" is a power in the State, and I have, since my arrival, a few hours since, heard an ex-member of Congress from Kentucky declare that the days of slavery are numbered in that State, as they are in Maryland. Truths that were but recently proclaimed in the ear, and perhaps to escape peril in the confidential ear only, are now proclaimed on the house-tops. The simple word "freedom" has become the rallying cry for the people, and the test for politicians—those who strive to stifle it, or to smother it under compromises, will waste their strength for nought, and in vain.

☞ A singular accident, with a remarkable escape from death, occurred on board new schooner Hattie E. Sampson, at Freeport, Me., last week, while the vessel was on the stocks. The masts had both been raised and the shears were being lowered from the foremast, when it fell with a tremendous crash, with two men at its head. One of them landed on the deck was not injured save by the jar, which did not disable him. Mr. Harper had his left arm broken only.

☞ Mrs. Dow, widow of the famous 'Lorenzo, died a few days ago at Montville, Conn., leaving this singular will: She gives the whole of her estate ($6000) to the town of Montville, for the purpose of building four stone arch bridges in specified places in the town. The town, in its meeting, has refused to accept the gift, and the amount goes to her heirs-at-law.

☞ The Waterville Mail says that since horse jockeys are disappearing, a class of men properly called sheep jockeys are taking their place. Some kinds of sheep are changing hands at fabulous prices. In such trades men often get the wool pulled over their eyes.

have been sold in its native town, and not a single instance of its failure is known.

12 MINENT PHYSICIANS,

who have used it in their practice, and given it the pre-eminence over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough, but too often it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most

STUBBORN COUGH.

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being

ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, a and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

Please Look at This.
RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. OSIAH JENNESS.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without any natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISAIAH CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav20o

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Longstreet is reported to be moving in the direction of East Tennessee, and some skirmishing has already occurred between Gen. Burnside's outposts and Longstreet's advance. The exact position of Gen. Burnside's outposts is not known. Some doubts are expressed in Washington as to the appointment of Gen. Foster in place of Gen. Burnside, especially as no orders to that effect appeared in Tuesday's official Army Gazette.

The Providence Journal is informed that a private dispatch from Gen. Burnside reports that he was attacked by the enemy on Monday, but his men stood up nobly, and the rebels were repulsed. He expected to be attacked again the next day.

The N. Y. Times' Washington dispatch says Lee is falling back to Hanover Junction with one half of his army as a protection to Richmond; the other half has gone toward Lynchburg to reinforce or protect the force sent against Burnside.

A Fortress Monroe letter states that the rebel torpedo designed to blow up the frigate Roanoke, was lately captured.

A letter from off Mobile dated Oct. 27, to the N. Y. Herald, says the flagship Colorado and the Gunnessee had an engagement with the "Ladies' Ram," a vessel presented by the ladies of Mobile to the rebels. The Gennessee fired two shots and the Colorado three, when the ram almost immediately put back under Fort Morgan. The rebels have one iron clad, two steamers, and a floating battery, but they are useless.

FOREIGN.—Napoleon has issued letters inviting the sovereigns to a European Congress.

The war in New Zealand is progressing unfavorably to the Maovis.

The privateer Georgia captured some time before her arrival at Cherbourg, ship John Watts, from Maulmain for Cork, and Bold Hunter, from Dundee for Calcutta.—It is not stated what she did with them.—As she is reported to have boarded upward of ninety vessels shortly before arriving at Cherbourg, it is supposed that she captured more than is stated above.

The Laird iron-clads have been valued by order of the Government, as follows: El Tousin at £196,000, and the El Mounssin at £80,000. It is said the English Government wishes to buy them.

Nov. 7, the Confederate loan was at 63 a 65c.

— Connecticut pays the same bounty to colored as to white recruits, and is enlisting them in New York, where they are not recognized as the "friends of the governor," before his mind. O, what a lesson for those who have more than does them good, or they know what to do with. What might the boy not have been, if the man had taken him into his carriage and carried him to his home.

The distinguished senator from Maine, General Fessenden, took seven such children into his family—not having children of his own—and when he shall lie in the home for all living, what shall the honors of the Senate Chamber be, compared with the esteem felt for the man, when these seven, and their posterity, shall tell the story of their benefactor. What is the use of wealth unless it is used for a good purpose, and it would seem that its possessors had better see it done while they are living. B.

☞ The Naval Retiring Board is again in session at the Brooklyn Marine Barracks, under orders from Secretary Welles. It began business on Monday; and it will examine all cases of officers ordered before it for some months. At present the case of Commodore Porter is before it. The following are the chief officers of the Court: Admiral Storer, Com. Stringham, Com. Mervine, and two or three members of the medical profession.

SUCCESS OF AN AMATEUR DETECTIVE. A Boston gentleman recently had an overcoat, nearly new, stolen from his residence. With but slight hopes of regaining it, he resolved to visit the second-hand clothing stores in the city, and among others he called at one where he was shown several garments, and among them his own coat, valued at $25. This he tried on, and altho' "it fitted him," as the vender remarked, "as if it was made for him," the gentleman said it was not heavy enough, and he would look further. He immediately went to the nearest police station, and stated the case, requesting the aid of an officer. Returning to the store, he said he would look at the coat again, and after getting it on he stepped to the door, and beckoned to the officer, who came in. Turning to the astonished Israelite, the gentleman said, "As this is my own coat, I will take it with me now," at the same time handing the vender his card, in case he should wish for redress. The latter afterwards called, and stated that he had bought the garment for $10.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—The steamer Dover discontinues her trips on the Lake the present week. The Lady of the Lake hauled off some weeks ago.

—— Mr. Gilman, residing in the northerly part of Sandwich, recently caught two bears in one night. They were an old one and a cub. The former weighed 150 pounds.

—— At the meeting of the County Legislative Convention, at Nashua on Tuesday, a resolution authorizing the County Commissioners to complete the jail at Manchester, and empowering them to raise ten thousand dollars for the purpose, after a sharp discussion was passed by a vote of 32 to 16. The question of rebuilding the outbuildings at Amherst was indefinitely postponed.

ARMY SHOE MANUFACTORY AT DERRY, N. H.—A little more than a month ago we noticed the removal of S. Sylvester & Co., from Danvers, Mass., to new quarters in Derry, N. H. As this is the only manufactory in the United States exclusively devoted to the manufacture of army bootees by machinery, a short description of its working will be interesting to our readers. Derry is reached by the Manchester & Lawrence Railroad, and is 13 miles from the latter city. The shoe manufactory of Messrs. Sylvester is only a few rods from the depot, built of wood, and three stories above the basement, the dimensions being 80 feet long and 45 wide. In the basement is the sole leather department, and here is placed an English eight horse power engine, which furnishes heat for the building and motive power for 14 Bates & Mackay sole leather sewing machines, and 11 wax thread sewing machines, for closing uppers, &c.

In the sole leather department, everything is done by machinery. The bootees are all made double soled. The leather is first stripped into pairs for each size, after which it is wet and put through heavy rollers; it then goes into the cutting department, where it is cut by dies exactly in the shape required. The next operation is called the packing of the soles, which consists of tacking the out and middle soles together, after which two grooves are made on the out soles as a guide for the stitches. In this room the heels are also packed and shaped. The soles are now sent up to the lasting establishment, where the uppers are put on the lasts and soles tacked on. The upper leather department, including the packing and drying rooms, is in the second story. In the third are the sewing machines and lasting department. The operation of the sole leather sewing machines is worth going miles to see. With 14 machines this establishment can turn out 2000 pairs in 10 hours, which is 200 pairs an hour, or over three pairs per minute. To make 2000 pairs per day requires about 220 hands.

The firm have shoe contracts ahead, sufficient to keep the manufactory running to its fullest capacity for three months to come. They make a speciality of this business, getting out nothing but machine sewed army bootees. The cost of making these is but little less than hand sewed work, as a better grade of stock has to be used, and the repairs and stoppages are a constant bill of expense. The breakage of needles amounts to an average of one cent to a pair of shoes.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

TRADE SALE OF CARPETINGS IN NEW YORK.—The last sale of the season took place on the 11th inst., John H. Austen being the auctioneer. It was made up of Velvets, Tapestries, Dundee, and various other grades of imported goods. Also 3-plys, and ingrains of American. The sale was well attended by carpet merchants from abroad, and went off with apparent satisfaction to both sellers and purchasers. Prices ruled a little higher than at previous sales. The New England Carpet Co. of Boston were large purchasers, sweeping off entire lines, when the prices were a little under the usual rates.

☞ A novel proceeding recently took place at the session of the court in Warren county, Pa., which proves that the dry desert of the law is row and then enlivend by an oasis of fun not laid down in the chart of Coke and Littleton. The members of the bar of that county presented to the court, Judge Johnston presiding, a petition asking the court, in consideration of the fact that legal business had become dull, to select two members of the Warren bar to attend to the business of the profession, while the rest of them should be assigned some respectable and useful employment; and that a tax should be levied on those who should be assigned employment outside of the bar, for the support of the two who should remain. The matter was taken under consideration.

CRANBERRIES.—The Barnstable Patriot publishes lists of the names of the cranberry growers on the Cape, with the quantities they have raised and sold during the past season, and the prices received. The aggregates show that Harwich produced 5697 barrels, which sold for $26,934.50; Brewster 611 barrels, sold for $60.31; Dennis 423 barrels, sold for 4054.75; Chatham 168 barrels, sold for $16.40. Total, 8899 barrels at the aggregate value of $38660.25.

— The Massachusetts Legislature was prorogued by the Governor, Wednesday, at eleven o'clock. The soldier's Bounty Bill has received His Excellency's signature, and has become a law.

— The Press states that the quantity of rain that fell in Portland between Saturday night and Tuesday night, was six and six-tenths inches.

SAMSON OUTWITS DELILAH ONCE.—There have been many accounts published in the newspapers, relative to the practice, by some Union officers, or calling upon Secesh ladies in the South, and while in their presence divulging movements, plans, &c. Not a few officers have been severely denounced in the public prints for their carelessness in this respect. But the advantage has not always been on the side of the rebels, and a gratifying incident of this kind we heard of a day or two since.

It seems that there is a certain New Hampshire officer now in service in Virginia, and that there is there also a certain beautiful and fascinating young lady, who, notwithstanding her strong sympathy for the rebels, found favor in the eyes of the Union officer, insomuch that he frequently called upon her at her house. During one of these pleasant interviews she incautiously acquainted him with the fact that her father had half-a-dozen fine horses concealed. Where they were she refused to reveal, but after much urging she told him he was with them in the mountains. It was a slight clue, yet the officer soon after selected six men and started on a raid for the horses into the mountains. By some unusual good fortune he was led to the very place where the paternal had his horses, and not only six horses but a mule beside.

The transfer of ownership was made with but few words, when the officer claimed the equines as his own. And the officer being greatly pleased with the capture, magnanimously told his men that it would be no more than fair that they should draw lots for the animals, and each take the one that should fall unto him. Accordingly this was done, and the mule fell to the officer, each of his six men taking a horse. They mounted and started back towards camp.

But it seemed hardly in accordance with military usage for an officer to bestride a mule, while beneath his men were fleet and beautiful horses. However, the officer concealed his chagrin, and watched his opportunity. At length it came. As they were riding along they met another horse bearing on its back a young lady. A strong attachment immediately sprang up between the officer and the horse, and he suggested to the lady that they should "swap steeds." Now the lady couldn't see the advisability of the act, but as the officer was somewhat urgent, she at length yielded with as good a grace as possible, and rode off on the mule. The officer, with his seven horses and six men, returned to camp, and is now fond of telling how much the young ladies of the south are doing for the Union cause.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for December, is a splendid Christmas number, and completes 33 years and a half of the publication. Besides multitudes of fashion plates for ladies, brides and bridesmaids, there are two superior steel engravings, viz: "The Daily Governess," a beautiful plate, and an Emblematic Title, containing five distinct pictures—"Telling Christmas Stories," "Gathering Christmas Greens," "Juvenile Amusements," "Youth," and "Old Age."—The new volumes will begin with January number.

— The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company is about to add two hundred coal cars to its equipment, in order to meet the demands of the trade.

— It is announced by authority that from this date to the opening of Congress the President will be unable to receive visitors, his time being fully occupied by the public business.

— A suit brought by the Middlesex Horse Railroad Co. against the City of Charlestown, Mass., to recover taxes amounting to several thousand dollars alleged to have been illegally assessed, has been decided in in the Superior Court, in favor of the city.

— The Lewiston Journal says a Miss Hilton was severely if not fatally injured on Tuesday morning, by falling through the elevator of the Hill Mill, a distance of two stories. It is feared that she has sustained severe internal injuries. It was dark in the mill when the accident occured, and the young lady mistook her whereabouts.

— Late foreign advices report that the Federal steamer Kearsarge was ordered to leave Cork harbor within 24 hours, but refused, and was watching blockade runners.

SEIZURES.—Marshals Heald, Hawkes and Wentworth seized between twenty and thirty barrels of poor liquor at the store of O. P. Howard, in Westbrook, at Morrill's Corner, recently. A small quantity was also seized at the McClellan House.—Portland Adv.

Local.

☞ On Wednesday afternoon, about half past four o'clock, two boys, sons of Benjamin Bailey and Benjamin Willey, of Bailey's Island, were drowned while crossing the river that runs up behind the island. One of them fell overboard, and the other sprang after him, which resulted in the loss of both lives. Measures were taken to recover the bodies on Thursday. Young Willey was about 17 years of age, and the Bailey boy was about 11. The body of Bailey was recovered on Thursday forenoon.

☞ On Thursday morning last, as one of the boats of the workmen were arriving at the Navy Yard, Capt. John Clark, of this city, in attempting to make his exit over the bows of the boat, missed his foothold and fell into the river. Fortunately, those present prevented his sinking, and the Captain escaped with a severe ducking. It was evidently a cold bath, for we saw him some four hours after, and he shivered then, undoubtedly at the remembrance of it.

☞ It will be seen by the advertisement that the Citizens' Lyceum course of lectures will commence on the evening of Tuesday, Dec. 1, when B. P. Shillaber, Esq., will read an introductory poem, and Judge Thomas Russell, of Boston, will deliver a lecture. A gratifying feature of the course will be the music which will be given at each lecture.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—Now that the cold weather is approaching, the following anecdote, told to the writer by a gentleman of this city, may not be inappropriate. A wealthy man, having abundance, and more than did him good, was riding along, and a little boy, barefooted, ragged and cold, took off his hat and extended a pale and trembling hand, which the inhuman monster unheeded as he passed along, showing his contempt for beggars. The next morning, as he sat in his luxurious parlor reading his paper, he came to a paragraph mentioning the death of a small boy, found by the roadside, supposed to have come to his death by exposure and destitution. The description came so near the one that he saw the day before, that he inquired and found it the same; he went and looked upon the dead child, and, as might be expected, was struck with horror not at what he had done, but what he had neglected to do: he pondered upon himself, and from that day became an altered man, and said to the day of his death, that pale, trembling hand was ever

[For the Chronicle.]

The great changes that have been wrought within a few years in the mode of conducting what may be called the sedentary pursuits of our people, call loudly for a revision of the habits peculiar to them,—and to be very definite and plain, we need, as the writer believes, a legalized weekly holiday—say Thursday, as being the most convenient, near the middle of the week.

It certainly presents a revolting aspect of our life to contemplate men of the best of abilities, and who should so order their habits of life as to wield an extensive genial social influence—harnessed, as it were, to a round of unceasing devotion to the mere machinery of life—to what end or use no one can tell, unless it can be proved that it requires the whole energies and time of all the faculties of soul and body to supply our wants. Not such was the doctrine of Franklin, whose idea was, if I recollect rightly, that four hours per day of labor by every man and woman would banish want from the human family.

Now, while chattel and negro slavery is receiving due consideration, is the time to make perfect efforts in this direction by instituting all needed reforms in all other directions,—and as is believed, there are plenty of arguments in favor of the movement: let the ball be set rolling for the establising of a legalized National Weekly Holiday. x.

SECESSION SPIES.—The Worcester Spy states that the county commissioners of Worcester have received a notification from the United States Marshal to receive, and keep in close custody, at the jail in Fitchburg, some ten or twelve female secession spies, now held by our government as prisoners.

A gentleman 75 years of age, residing in Rhode Island, recently lost his wife by death. A venerable lady, a neighbor, nearly five score years, was asked if she had called on her old friend since he had lost his wife.—"Why," she answered in almost indignant surprise, "no! indeed! It would not look well for a widow like me to call on him now as he is a widower."

— A California Court has decided that a person signing his name to a subscription list without limitation of time, to pay the salary of the rector of a church, is bound to continue paying such subscription so long as the rector holds his office.

— The 12,000 Federal prisoners are being removed from Richmond to Danville, and 2500 have already gone.

Having had fifteen teeth extracted while under the influence of this Gas, by Dr. Goodall, without the least pain or bad effect, I would recommend the Doctor and his Gas to the afflicted; the Gas is perfectly safe in all cases, and the Doctor is sure to remove all the old teeth and roots while the patient is under the influence of the Gas. The Gas manufactured by him is perfectly pure, as he always makes it through fresh water.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when desired.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.

We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

HOPE—FAITH—LOVE.

Fair as buds at opening morn,
Hope, fair sister come!
Come to cheer a heart of grief,
Whose sad path no flowers adorn—
Come to bring it quick relief—
Hope, fair sister, come!

Bright as beams of sunlit day,
Faith, bright sister, come!
Waken blindness, deep in night,
With a soul-illuming ray—
Kindled from celestial light—
Faith, bright sister, come!

Sweet as harp at twilight hour,
Love, sweet sister, come!
Pour in gentle Pity's ear
Strains of sympathetic power—
Haste to soften Sorrow's tear—
Love, sweet sister, come!

The age is dull and mean. Men creep,
Not walk; with blood too pale and tame
To pay the debt they owe to shame;
Buy cheap, sell dear; eat, drink and sleep
Down pillowed, dead to moaning want;
Pay tithes for soul-insurance; keep
Six days to Mammon, one to Cant.

EMANCIPATION IN RUSSIA.—The enemies of liberty have had much to say about the sympathy of Russia for us in our struggles. But the following extract from a letter written by a gentleman now travelling in that country, shows that with them as well as with us, the work is mightily progressing.:—

"The emancipation of the serfs is no sham,' but a great and noble reality, carried through with a caution and courage that do equal honor to the head and heart of the Emperor. It is scarcely possible to measure the grandeur of this peaceful revolution, by which nearly 40,000,000 of people are raised from a condition closely akin to slavery to the level of free men of other civilized States. This great act is consummated with comparatively little suffering and large prospects of future advantages to the nobles and proprietors of land, save only those whose estates should come under an incumbered estate act.—The emancipated serfs are already displaying a degree of intelligence and industry that surprises their former owners; establishing schools, laying out boarded money on lands and tenements, and in many other respects showing great intelligence and sagacity."

Under these circumstances, the sympathy of the Russian empire with freedom in America is seen to be no mere selfish expedient. The truth is, God is at work renovating the nations. The rights of man are beginning to be understood and appreciated, as never before. The problem of man's ability to govern himself is solved, and no combination of despots can stay the advance of the noble cause. When Russia in the East and America in the West, shall have shaken off the incubus of slavery, truly we may exclaim, what hath God wrought.

ENGLISH IRON-CLADS IN A GALE.—According to a despatch in the London Times, the new English iron-clads are of little value in a gale. A correspondent writes:

"The iron-clad frigate Prince Consort, Capt. Vesey, is lying off Kingstown greatly disabled, having encountered a fearful gale in the Channel. She has sprung a leak, and is nearly filled with water. But for the great exertions of her officers and crew, it is said, she would have sunk in the Channel. All her boats, guns, &c., are in confusion, and several of the crew have been seriously injured. She put in this morning, and soon after anchoring parted her cables, and was obliged to drop a second anchor, by which she now rides, about a mile and a half from the East Pier. There were seven feet of water in her yesterday. The pumps have only gained an inch."

☞ The Bangor Whig says that on Monday a seafaring man named Robert Crawford, said to belong in Quebec, was killed by another seaman named Charles Davenport, belonging in Philadelphia, at a small grocery and liquor shop. It cannot be ascertained whether the men had any serious quarrel or not. They both boarded at a seaman's boarding house near by, and Crawford seems to have been trying to get Davenport to go to supper, against his will, taking him by the arm to get him out of the shop, whereupon Davenport drew a common sailor's sheath knife and stabbed Crawford three times—the last blow penetrating the heart, and the man died in a few minutes. Coroner Wilson called an inquest, which after viewing the body, was adjourned till next morning.—Davenport was arrested by the police, and taken to the lock up. Liquor was probably the cause of the deed.

☞ A friend lately asked Uncle Toby why it was that the late Grand Jury did not find a bill of indictment against the black man who was charged with assaulting a soldier of the invalid corps. The answer was that he did not pretend to know what passed in the jury room,—but he had learned that the soldier, as soon as he became sober, blamed himself for making the assault,—and that neither he nor his officers blamed the black man for defending himself; and so, nothing appearing against him, the complaint died and justice was satisfied.

It is proposed, at the next session of the New York Legislature, to abolish the Supreme Court of New York city, of which McCunn has been elected Judge. It is said to be a useless tribunal under any circumstances, but with McCunn for Judge it is worse than that.—Exchange.

— A master recently took his negroes from Mississippi to Georgia, but found when he got there that he couldn't hire them out even for their victuals and clothes. So remaining until all his money had been expended, he sold one of his negroes, and with the proceeds brought the remainder of his servants home.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to perform all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of burning meat is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, this Stove be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this city for the manufacture and valuable Furnace, would ask those intending remodelling or erecting building to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat by the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating apparatus have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure in use. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed, which is the objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases, or any part of them, and if a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. SATURDAY NOV. 21, 1863 NO. 123

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every lam fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

A COUPLE OF ART INCIDENTS.—The curiosity of many of those who attended the recent organ exhibitions at the Music Hall to hear the celebrated "Voz Humana" Stop, so interestingly described by Dr. Holmes, found rich and ludicrous expression at one of the concerts, in the inquiry made to a musical individual by one from the rural districts, who occupied a neighboring seat. Slightly apprehensive, as the performances drew to a conclusion, that he should not get his three dollars' worth, and with a little evident confusion in his mind in regard to organ nomenclature, he leaned forward to our artistic friend with, "say, Sir, when are they going to perform on the nuz vomica?"

During the exhibition of Bierstadt's "Rocky Mountains," in one of our New England cities, it was visited by an individual from the extreme suburbs, of a panoramic taste and passion, who, after paying his quarter, entering, and gazing indifferently at the picture,—a decided impatience in his manner gradually manifesting itself,—suddenly started for the doorkeeper, and indignantly demanded, "Why don't the durned thing begin to move?"—Transcript.

LITERATURE IN BATH.—All literary merit is not monopolized by the Atlantic Monthly, nor is all poetry confined to Paradise Lost, the Book of Job, or Longfellow's Hiawatha. The Bath Times contains a card of thanks from Mr. Denney Kelley, whose house and store stand in close proximity to the scene of a late fire in that city, in which he "tenders his sincere thanks to the ladies and gentlemen of Bath for their prompt and efficient efforts in expelling that hated monster of destruction, that fiery crest, open mouthed and gnashing teethed beast which burst through my unguarded windows on its errand of ruin, but who was driven back in fair fight by our brave members of the Fire Department, and laid low, not in the dust, but in its own heated ruins."

☞ It is well known that in the Hartz mountains, Germany, there is occasionally seen the image of a man reflected on the clouds, the illusion being the effect of reflection from the person of the spectator.—We observe, in reading an account of Mount Mansfield, in Vermont, that the Rev. Dr. Kirk, of Boston, was recently treated there with a spectre of himself, so that we, too, have our mountain illusions.—Dr. Kirk states that one afternoon he saw the form of the Nose (an elevated point of the mountain) distinctly shadowed on a passing cloud. It suggested itself to him that he might become a part of the sky picture; so, ascending to the top of the Nose, he saw his own image, but of monstrous size. Spreading his arms enveloped in his cloak, two mighty wings, seemingly, spread out in the sky. The peculiar position of sun and cloud which produced this does not often occur; hence the phenomenon is rarely seen.

☞ On the day after Christmas there will be a gathering of young women in St. George's-in-the East, London, for the purpose of drawing lots for a marriage portion of £100. The candidates must be twenty-two years of age, have been educated in Raine's charity school, and have continued members of the Episcopal Church. This sum was left by Mr. Raine to be devoted to this purpose, many years ago, and it is said that all the girls who have been fortunate enough to obtain it have married well.

— A child four years old, attending the public school in Twenty-fourth street, New York, was "kept in" last week because she "neglected her studies," and was so frightened that she fainted away and never recovered. The idea of punishing a four-year old infant for neglecting its studies, is an atrocity that deserves indictment.

AN ANCIENT LAWSUIT.—The supreme tribunal of Madrid has just given final judgment in a suit which had been under litigation 240 years, and which involved the succession to the inheritance of Francis Pizarro the famous invader and conqueror of Peru in 1532.

— The sailor Davenport, who killed another seaman, Crawford, with a knife, at Bangor, has been fully committed for murder.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—that it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his HUMOR WASH, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress in my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previ ous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above mentioned. ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of DR. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26o

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The Chattanooga Rebel, of Nov. 10, admits that Bragg cannot take Chattanooga without greater loss than the South can sustain. It is confident that the movement into Tennessee will be successful in driving Burnside from Knoxville, thus relieving Bragg, and preventing further retreat into Georgia.

Longstreet crossed the Tennessee on the 14th, and was attacked in the afternoon by Gen. Burnside, who drove the rebel advance guard back near the river's edge.—On Sunday forenoon, Longstreet having crossed all his troops, advanced in force.—Gen. Burnside at first advanced slowly, the rear guard skirmishing heavily with the enemy, and our troops handsomely repulsing three desperate charges during the night. On Monday, the rebels continuing the pursuit, Gen. Burnside turned, and a fight ensued, resulting in the rebels being driven back to the river. In the afternoon another battle was fought, closing at nightfall with our troops in possession of their own ground. Subsequently Gen. Burnside fell back with his trains to Knoxville, where it was thought a fight would take place on Wednesday. Our loss is stated at 500; the rebel loss being much greater, owing to the severe fire of our artillery.

None of our forces have crossed the Rapidan. There is no truth in the report that the enemy is retreating further South; he was in his intrenchments on the Rapidan on Wednesday, in full force and in plain view.

ANOTHER VICTIM.—In August, 1860, Mr. Winthrop Norton, of Norridgewock, Me., a young man who had just completed his course at Bowdoin College, went to Texas, and opened a high school in Sterling, Robertson county. As a teacher he was successful, and he still remained there in April, 1861. Letters were received from him after the assault on Fort Sumter, stating that he was still in charge of his school. The commencement of the war by the rebels, and the consequent cessation of intercourse between the two sections, prevented his friends in Maine from hearing from him again until after the close of the Peninsular campaign. A letter was then received from him, stating that he was a member of the 4th Texas regiment, and had passed safely through all those battles. As the letter was sent unsealed, by flag of truce, it of course was very guarded in its expressions; yet it was quite evident from its tone that he had been pressed into a service which at heart he abhorred, and was still loyal to his country and his flag.

Nothing more was heard from him until about two weeks since, when a letter from an officer of the regiment informed his brother in Rockland, Me., that Mr. Norton was wounded and died on the field of battle at Chicamanga, Tenn., Sept. 20th.—This is all his friends may ever know of him,—of what he suffered during these two long years of compulsory service in the armies of traitors to their country. But a fearful account must some day be rendered by those ambitious men of the South, who foolhardily inaugurated and have basely continued this terribly destructive war. The blood of the murdered thousands will call out from the ground against them, and eternal justice must yet bring them their merited reward.

☞ The rebel authorities, after all, permit Union prisoners to receive the supplies sent by our Government. 48,000 rations sent by the Secretary of War last week had been received, and a letter to the Government from Gen. Neal Dow states that they had been distributed. The contrary report was caused by the fact that the rebels would not permit the officer in charge to accompany the rations farther than City Point.

☞ In London the Rev. Mr. D'Kane has sued for a divorce from his wife, and the Right Hon. Viscount Palmerston is the respondent. The proof seems to be quite conclusive, the particulars of time and place being very specific. So common and notorious had the facts become, that pictures of the frail and fair one were sold in the streets.

☞ Last year, in New York State, Gov. Seymour had 10,752 majority. This year, by the official returns, the Union candidate for Secretary of State has 29,505 majority; a net Union gain on majority of 40,257. The whole vote this year is 599,979; last year it was larger by 3,167. The Union gain on last year's vote is 18,545; and the opposition loss 21,712.

— It is now stated that the resignation of General Burnside will not be accepted by President Lincoln, and that General Foster has not been ordered to succeed him. One rumor is, that Gen. Foster has gone West to take command of the Fourteenth Corps, at Chattanooga. Gen. Palmer was assigned to the command of this corps, but is said to have declined the appointment.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By UNCLE TONY.

Mission to Canada in 1795—Indian Depredations—Peace with the Indians.—The good effect of this mission to Canada were soon visible. One of the Indian hostages who had been detained at Boston through the whole war, together with one who had been taken, were allowed on their parole, to visit their countrymen; and they returned with a request for peace. Commissioners from both provinces went to St. George's, where a conference was held, which ended in a proposal for a further treaty at Boston. In the mean time, some of the enemy were disposed for further mischief.—Those who had been concerned in taking Hanson's family at Dover, in a short time after their redemption and return, came down with a design to take them again, as they had threatened them before they left Canada. When they had come near the house, they observed some people at work in a neighboring field, by which it was necessary for them to pass, both in going and returning. This obliged them to alter their purpose, and conceal themselves in a barn, till they were ready to attack them. Two women passed by the barn, while they were in it, and had just reached the garrison as the guns were fired. They shot Benjamin Evans dead on the spot; wounded William Evans and cut his throat. John Evans received a slight wound in the breast, which bleeding plentifully, deceived them, and thinking him dead, they stripped and scalped him. He bore the painful operation without discovering any signs of life, though all the time in his perfect senses, and continued in the feigned appearance of death, till they had turned him over, and struck him several blows with their guns, and left him for dead. After they were gone off, he rose and walked naked and bloody, towards the garrison; but on meeting his friends by the way dropped, fainting on the ground, and being covered with a blanket was conveyed to the house. He recovered and lived fifty years. A pursuit was made after the enemy, but they got off undiscovered, carried with them Benjamin Evans, junior, a lad of thirteen years old, to Canada, whence he was redeemed as usual by a charitable collection.

This was the last effort of the enemy in New-Hampshire. In three months, the treaty which they desired was held in Boston, and the next spring ratified at Falmouth. [The commissioners sent from New-Hampshire, and who were present at the formation of this treaty, were from the council, John Frost and Shadrach Walton, and from the house, John Gilman and Theodore Atkinson. Those appointed to attend the ratification of it, were George Jaffrey, Shadrach Walton and Richard Wibird of the council, and Peter Weare, Theodore Atkinson and John Gilman of the House.] A peace was concluded in the usual form Dec. 18, 1725: which was followed by restraining all private trade with the Indians, and establishing truck-houses in convenient places, where they were supplied with the necessaries of life on the most advantageous terms. Though the governments on the whole were losers by the trade, yet it was a more honorable way of preserving the peace, than if an acknowledgement had been made to the Indians in any other manner.

None of the other colonies of New England bore any share in the expenses or calamities of this war; and New Hampshire did not suffer so much as in former wars; partly by reason of the more extended frontier of Massachusetts, both on the eastern and western parts, against the former of which the enemy directed their greatest fury; and partly by reason of the success of the ranging parties, who constantly traversed the woods as far northward as the White Mountains. The militia at this time was completely trained for active service; every man of forty years of age having seen more than twenty years of war. They had been used to handle their arms from the age of childhood, and most of them, by constant practice, had become excellent marksmen and good hunters. They were well acquainted with the lurking places of the enemy; and possessed a degree of hardiness and intrepidity which can be acquired only by the habitude of those scenes of danger and fatigue to which, they always were daily exposed. They had also imbibed from their infancy a strong antipathy to the savage natives; which was strengthened by repeated horrors of blood and desolation, and not obliterated by the incourse which they had with them in time of peace. As the Indians frequently resorted to the frontier towns in time of scarcity, it was common for them to visit the families whom they had injured in war; to recount the circumstances of death and torture which had been practised on their friends; and when provoked or intoxicated, to threaten a repetition of such insults in future wars. To bear such treatment required more than human patience; and it is not improbable that secret murders were sometimes the consequences of these harsh provocations. Certain it is, that when any person was arrested for killing an Indian in time of peace, he was either forcibly rescued from the hands of justice, or if brought to trial, invariably acquitted; it being impossible to impanel a jury some of whom had not suffered by the Indians, either in their persons or families.

DELAWARE ELECTION.—Smithers, Republican, for Congress, has 4008 majority in Newcastle county. Returns from other counties indicate his election without opposition.

A BEAUTIFUL SET OF FURS AT A SMALL PRICE.—See Shute & Son's advertisement, Boston.

— Adm. Shubrick fell ill Friday night. Under the treatment of his physicians, he has rallied, and is now presumed out of danger, though requiring great care. He entered the Navy in 1826, and, though on the retired list by the operation of the law of 1861, he has been continued in active service, and is now President of the Lighthouse Board.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Council which was held in Dover on Tuesday last, to consider the request of Rev. E. H. Richardson for a dissolution of his connection with the First Congregational Church, voted, to grant his request. Mr. Richardson goes to Providence, R. I.

—— Amos Richardson, of Cornish, had left hand so shockingly mangled by the premature discharge of a gun on Tuesday of week before last, as to require amputation. He was taking the gun from under a wagon seat, and carelessly took hold of it at the muzzle.

—— On Wednesday night as the express train from Concord, was on its way from Manchester to Nashua, one of a drunken gang of conscripts, who had passed examination at Concord, and been given a short furlough, without provocation made an attack upon a passenger, Hon. Geo. V. Hoyle, President of the Ogdensburg Railroad.—The gentleman instantly grappled, and threw him on to the floor of the car, but was then attacked by others of the party and considerably bruised before he could be rescued. Conductor J. M. Jones, succeeded, with the assistance of the brakeman, in securing the ringleader. The scoundrels were all ejected from the cars at Nashua.

—— The Mirror states that on Tuesday a young man named Lucius Johnson, of Manchester, and employed in a mill at Moore's Ferry, in attempting to stop some machinery which was running at a slow rate, by catching a belt, had his left arm caught and was thrown three times round the shaft, which was six or seven feet from the floor. His hand was torn off and his arm broken in several places, requiring amputation just below the shoulder.

THE GETTYSBURG CEMETERY.—The ceremonies attending the dedication of the National Cemetery at Gettysburg, commenced on Wednesday by a grand military and civic display under command of Maj. Gen. Couch. The procession marched through the principal streets to the Cemetery, where the military formed in line and saluted the President. The President and members of the Cabinet, together with the chief military and civic dignitaries, took position on the stand. The military then formed a line extending around the stand, the area between the stand and the military being occupied by civilians, comprising about 150,000 people, and including men, women and children.

After the performance of a funeral dirge by the band, prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Stockton; and Mr. Everett then delivered the oration, which was listened to with marked attention; after which the President delivered the following dedicatory speech:

Four score and seven years ago, our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and dedicated can long endure. We are met on a great battle field of that war; we are met to dedicate a portion of it as a final resting place of those who have given their lives that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this, but in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our power to add or deduct. The world will not long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here.

It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work that they have thus so far nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion, that we here highly resolve that the dead shall not have died in vain. That the nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom and that the government of people by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth. (Long continued applause.)

After the delivery of this address, the dirge and the benediction closed the exercises, and the immense assemblage departed.

— Rev. Henry Ward Beecher arrived at Boston in the Asia on Saturday night.—He passed Sunday at the residence of Mr. M. P. Kennard, in Brookline, his usual place of abode when in this vicinity. He took the evening train for New York, and consequently did not lecture in the Fraternity course at the Tremont Temple Tuesday night.

At the time of this writing, Wednesday afternoon, the river is very high and rapidly rising, and many scattering logs are floating past the city, indicating the breaking of booms and an extensive clearing of the falls and all the hitching places up river. Piles of lumber on the wharves here are afloat, and have been bounded in with rafts and logs.—Augusta Journal.

— A letter from Bombay says that, in consequence of the pirate Alabama having been spoken upon the coast, charterers there refused to look at American vessels at any price. The U. S. ship Vanderbilt was at Mauritius Sept. 16th, probably in pursuit of the Alabama.

—We have 34,000 rebel prisoners in our possession.

— There are 40,000 negroes armed, and in the service of the Government.

— The steam mill of I. T. Hobson & Co. of Wiscasset, Me., saws 30,000 logs a year, making about 150,000 box shooks, 100,000 pairs headings for hogsheads, and a large quanity of merchantable lumber.

—Mrs. J. T. Gilman, of Farmington Falls, Me., for several years a cripple, has spun three hundred and twenty-five skeins of woolen yarn, since the 20th of July last—all done while sitting in her chair. She is 57 years old.

— The freight trains over the Somerset & Kennebec and Kennebec & Portland Railroads have for some time been carrying very large freights of lumber, sugarbox shooks, short lumber and cattle.

To "Blowers!"
TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
Having been repeatedly informed, by various persons, that some of the trade in our neighborhood have sought diligently and by various means such as experimenting, analyzing, &c.; to discover the ingredients and cry down the merits of my
Lightning Hair Dye,
Thus demonstrating it to be a good article, (for we never were a poor article to be counterfeited) now, to all such persons, "or any other man," I hereby issue the following Challenge.
I will deposit in the hands of any honorable, disinterested person, the sum of
a like amount being deposited by the competing party; if I fail to color in less time, in better shape, or the dye to wear longer and with less inconvenience to the person operated upon, with my Lightning Hair Dye, than any other dye, or any other dye they choose—the longest, thickest, heaviest and hardest whiskers that can be produced; then the winner shall receive the One Hundred Dollars.
This Challenge will remain open one week. If not responded to within this time it will be withdrawn, and all jealous and evil-disposed persons requested forever after to hold their peace; although I would have it distinctly understood that I attach no importance to their threats, as I can produce testimonials from some of the MOST RESPECTABLE PERSONS, (not miles away, with their real names, but at home in our own city and neighborhood,) of the superiority of
over all other preparations, combinations and abominations termed
HAIR DYES:
and I would take this opportunity to inform that I keep constantly on hand and can furnish in any quantity—from one drop to a tierce, from one cent's worth to any amount of dollars—
The Lightning Hair Dye.

LADIES' SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETY.

A year ago the 4th of August, a meeting was called of all the ladies in the Unitarian Society who were interested in relieving the sufferings of those, who, far away from their homes, became sick or were wounded in our nation's struggle. The result was a very full attendance, and a society was regularly organized to make garments, procure cast-off clothing, stores, delicacies, or any articles which could be converted into comforts for them; and committees were appointed to attend to the various departments, as well as to solicit subscriptions to sustain the society in its efforts. After the trial of this plan for several months, a regular subscription paper was thought advisable, in which all should pledge themselves to pay a sum monthly toward the object.—This was carried into effect, and sixty-nine ladies enrolled their names as members of the society. A sum of money was raised among the gentlemen at about this time and a portion of it has been kindly contributed to our aid.

The meetings in the early part of the year were very fully attended, but as the novelty wore off the numbers have gradually decreased, until most of the work is accomplished by a few whose patriotism is too deeply implanted to need any unnatural excitement to stimulate it. We have no room for discouragement, however, for in addition to our own circle, the ladies of Hampton Falls volunteered in the month of June to aid us if we would provide material. Their services have proved most valuable, and so far we have been able to supply them regularly. We will trust in the future, that a true patriotic feeling for a country which has bestowed so many blessings upon us, may keep our hearts earnest and warm, and our purses open to sustain an object so eminently useful.

The whole sum of money we have received to the present time is $1026.29, and we have expended about $1023. The number of boxes and barrels dispatched is 32. We have purchased about 617 yards cotton cloth, 504 yards print and de laine, 707 yards flannel, 163 yards toweling, 171 yards burlap, and 55 lbs. yarn,—all of which has been made into the following articles: 309 pairs socks, 221 shirts, 242 towels, 145 drawers, 40 dressing gowns, 97 slippers, 318 handkerchiefs, 36 bed sacks, 24 comforters, 22 pr. mittens, and 1 quilt. We have had contributed about 243 bottles of cordials, syrups, wines, &c., and we have sent besides about $100 in purchased delicacies. COM.

☞ Lieut. Com'r Montgomery Sicard is detached from ordnance duty, Portsmouth, N. H., and ordered to the Ticonderoga.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Rev. Joseph H. Gilmore will preach at the Baptist Church to-morrow.

The second of Rev. Mr. Patterson's Course of Lectures to the Young will be delivered in the Universalist Church, to-morrow (Sunday) evening—commencing at 7 o'clock. Subject—Habits of Life.

☞ The Bangor Whig reports that the European and North American Railway Company propose to commence work this winter upon their line of road from the termini of the Maine Central Railroad at Bangor, crossing Kenduskeag stream, that divides Bangor, at its mouth, and proceeding along the bank of the river to connect with the Penobscot Railroad to Milford. The road thus commenced is to be continued onward from Milford until it shall connect with the railways east, the whole to be operated, as fast and as far as it shall be completed, by the Maine Central Railroad. This movement revives a long cherished enterprise of our eastern friends. It is understood that the bridge over Kenduskeag stream is to be built the coming winter.

— It is estimated by Mr. Goodale, Secretary of the Maine Board of Agriculture, that two hundred thousand dollars worth of cheese is annually brought into that State for the consumption of its people.

It is pleasant to know that the Copperhead assaults on the finances of the country have been as unavailable as their attacks on the government. So sound is the intelligence as well as the patriotism of the people, that falsehoods and fallacies have in vain been expended to mislead their opinions and inflame their passions. The Copperhead defeat at the polls is not more encouraging than the Copperhead failure to create distrust of the national debt.

— Thirty indictments were found against liquor dealers in Knox county, Maine, by the Grand Jury recently in session in Rockland. Some have paid their fines, and others have put off the day of settlement.

The Union Men

OF WARD ONE will hold their Caucus in the WARD ROOM on Elm Street, on SATURDAY EVENING at half past 7 o'clock. Per order.

LOST—On Tuesday afternoon or evening, between the Customhouse and Deer street, a small old leather POCKETBOOK or Wallet, containing about $20. The finder, on leaving it at the Chronicle Office, shall be liberally rewarded. n20

NITROUS OXYD GAS.

Having had fifteen teeth extracted while under the influence of this Gas, by Dr. Goodall, without the least pain or bad effect, I would recommend the Doctor and his Gas to the afflicted; the Gas is perfectly safe in all cases, and the Doctor is sure to remove all the old teeth and roots while the patient is under the influence of the Gas. The Gas manufactured by him is perfectly pure, as he always makes it through fresh water.

Dr. GOODWIN.

Volunteers for the Army should not leave the city until supplied with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT. For sores, scurvy, wounds, small pox, fevers and bowel complaints, these medicines are the best in the world. Every French soldier uses them. Only 25 cents per box. 211

To every barrel of Flour you can make thirty pounds more Bread or Biscuit (and much better) by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, than by yeast fermentation or any other Saleratus.—It is perfectly healthy, will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs, and cure dyspeptic persons. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try one paper, and you will be convinced. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

CITY COUNCIL.

On Thursday evening a Bounty ordinance was passed, repealing that passed last week. The provisions of this new ordinance are as follows:

A joint committee of five of the City Council is appointed, consisting of Aid. Adams and Rider, and Councilmen Whittemore, Nowell and Hadley, who are authorized to negotiate with persons wishing to volunteer—the city not fixing the amount to be paid,—this committee having authority to advance money to volunteers, who may resign to the city their whole claim for State and U. S. Bounties. To meet the contingency the amount of money not raised on the Conscript Loan Bill is transferred to use for this purpose. This sum is about $45,000.

A Resolution was passed, authorizing a joint committee to negotiate for the purchase of Pierce's Island to be used as the location of a U. S. Hospital for sick and wounded soldiers. A board of U. S. Officers having examined sites for the same, and requested propositions from this city.

LYCEUM.—We are pleased to see such a movement as we trust will result in a pleasant and interesting course of Lectures to occupy one evening of each week for several months. The half hours Concert each evening while the audience is collecting, or are in the occupancy of their seats, will be quite a relief. It will be seen that Mr. Shillaber will add to the interest of the opening lecture, by an introductory Poem.

As the tickets will doubtless be all taken up, it will be wise to secure them at once.

Morning Chronicle.

NEVER AGAIN.

Broken the golden chord,
Severed the silken thel
Never again will the old days come,
Darling, to you and I.
Dead the beautiful Past:
Scattered around its bier
Pale thoughts lie thick and memories
Of days that were so dear.
Memories? Fold them up—
Lay them sacred by,
What avails it to dream of the Past?
The future for you and I.
Broken the silken chord,
Severed the golden chain,
Linking us with the beautiful days
That never can come again!

WHENCE COMES SUCCESS?—Not unfrequently it is said, even in our own day, that "Providence is on the side of the strongest battalions." Yet the Lord says, "The battle is not to the strong," i. e. always. Even the ablest generals admit that success often turns on some little event which no human wisdom could foresee or provide for. In general, results are according to the means used. Yet there is a wide range in which Providence operates, and by which very unexpected issues are secured. Hence the unspeakable value of seeking God's favor, after even the most careful preparation of means. One of the most cogent practical testimonies on this point was given by Fred. William III., King of Prussia in Napoleon's time. He said:

"On God's blessing all depends; I hold to that truth firmly; I know it, and have experienced it. In the years 1806, 1807 and 1808, a heavy curse was on us, and everything miscarried. In the years 1813 and 1814 God's blessing returned, and everything succeeded. Even the errors then committed, the repulses we experienced, the mistakes that occured, fell out, through a marvellous combination of fortuitous circumstances, to our advantage, and led to the most unexpected and favorable results, so much so that we were surprised and astounded. The important victory at Culm, so beneficial in its consequences, common report—indeed, historical works—have attributed to my insight and orders; but the truth is quite otherwise. My ally, the Emperor Alexander, and myself had taken our stand on the day of battle, on the castle hill near Toplitz, whence we could survey the whole field of conflict. The balance fluctuated, indeed, was inclining, towards the French; when at mid-day, at the very decisive moment, Gen. Von Kleist appeared on the heights of Nollendorf with his corps which insured us the victory. His arrival was by no means part of an arranged plan, but a providential circumstance; for in reality he was in full flight from the unfortunate affair near Dresden, followed by the French, and had chosen the route through Bohemia for his retreat towards Silesia; that it was which brought him to the right spot at the right time. We knew nothing of him, nor he of us; nothing was agreed upon. That he did not make his appearance earlier, nor later, nor more to the left, nor more to the right, but at the eventful hour, in the right place for deciding the battle, was help and salvation from God. My thankfulness and joy were therefore more inwardly pure; and I do not feel inclined to have such sensations disturbed and spoiled by having attributed to me that which I had no part in. To God be the honor and praise!"

THE GREAT ERICSSON GUN.—The great gun which has been for some months in course of construction for the navy by Mr. John Ericson arrived in New York a few days ago, and is now at one of the iron works being prepared for service. It is one of the most marvellous inventions of the time, and if successful, will revolutionize naval ordnance. Mr. Ericson contracted, some time since, to construct some thirteen-inch smooth bore guns, which are to have a much greater initial velocity than any now in use. He is to receive nothing for them unless they burn over fifty pounds of powder; for every pound of powder beyond fifty Mr. Ericsson is to receive $5,000. He is confident of being able to burn one hundred pounds, and is certain of burning seventy-five pounds. The solid shot will weigh 220 pounds.

The English 68-pounder (of 12,250 pounds) said by his royal highness the Duke of Cambridge to be the most powerful gun in the English service, with 16 pounds of powder, (nearly one-fourth of the charge) has an initial velocity of 1,860 feet per second, and therefore a punching power against iron plates of 27,500,000 pounds. The rifled guns, with charges of one-tenth to one-twelfth of the shot, and the 15-inch gun, with a charge of 35 pounds to its shot of 425 pounds, have velocities varying from 1,100 feet to 1,400 feet per second. The 300-pounder parrott has, therefore, a punching power of 42,000,000 pounds, and the 15-inch gun of 55,500,000 pounds.

The new gun, with 75 pounds charge (one-third of the weight) will have as great a velocity as the 68-pounder, and its punching power will be 55,000,000 pounds, or exactly double that of the English gun. With 100 pounds of powder its velocity should be raised to 2,000 feet, and its punching power will be 68,000,000 pounds. It will thus be by far the most formidable gun yet constructed. The great superiority of our new guns to those in use by foreign powers will readily be noticed.

— Senator Hammond, of South Carolina, on the 4th of March 1858, in a speech on the slavery question, delivered on the floor of the Senate, said:—

There must be a class to do the mean duties, and perform the drudgery of life; that is, a class requiring but a low order of intellect. * * It constitutes the mud sills of society. * * The man who lives by his daily labor, and scarcely lives at that, and who has to put his labor in the market and take the best he can get for it—in short, your whole class of laborers and operatives, as you call them, are slaves.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight, showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any persons desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, before they go far, as superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the ventilation top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this highly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable,—and in none of the air which comes in contact with the pipe is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objections aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases from fresh fuel, by gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and it truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

BY THE SEA.

The caves of the sea have been troubled to-day
With the water which whitens and widens and Ellis;
And a boat with our brother was driven away
By a wind that came down from the top of the hills
Behold! I have seen on the threshold again
A face in a dazzle of hair!
Do you know that she watches the rain and the main
And the waves which are moaning there?
Ah! moaning and moaning there!
Now turn from your casements, and fasten your doors,
And cover your faces, and pray, if you can;
There are wails in the wind, there are sighs on the shores
And alas for the fate of a storm-beaten man!
Oh, dark falls the night on the rain-rutted verge
So sad with the sound of the foam!
Oh, wild is the sweep and swirl of the surge;
And his boat may never come home.
Ah, never and never come home!

—T. B. HOYT.

Portsmouth, July 4, 1863. tf

A correspondent of the New York Times writes from the headquarters of the Army of the Potomac that the discovery of the debris of canned meats and fruits, found in the deserted camps of the rebels, does not imply that there had been a system of smuggling there articles across the lines in previous operations, as they were beyond a doubt the effects of luckless sutlers. The cans and bottles bore Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia manufacturers' label, according to accounts.

All within the bounds of possibility.—But some of the sutlers may also possibly have been smugglers. We have seen statements that some sutlers of the army of the Potomac have been captured with their wagons two or three times by the rebels, and lost all their goods,—yet found means some how to fit out another wagon and go again. Perhaps some of the cans got there in this way.

A REMARKABLE CASE.—The Boston Courier states that "the much abused Democracy of New York withheld their votes from Judge McCunn, as an official who had proved himself unworthy of their suffrages, and he is probably defeated."

We presume it is quite safe to say that no republican voted for him: and we have certainly seen great rejoicing exhibited at his supposed election, in many papers which call themselves democratic. If Judge McCunn and Ben Wood and Fernando are to be read out of the party in New York City, the world is coming to a strange pass.—If they do not lead the democratic party in New York, city, it is doubtful who does lead it. Judge McCunn and Judge Woodward would probably agree generally, in deciding every possible case against the government. Those who rejoice at the defeat of the one, ought not to weep over the other. U. T.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—Now that the cold weather is approaching, the following anecdote, told to the writer by a gentleman of this city, may not be inappropriate. A wealthy man, having abundance, and more than did him good, was riding along, and a little boy, barefooted, ragged and cold, took off his hat and extended a pale and trembling hand, which the inhuman monster unheeded as he passed along, showing his contempt for beggars. The next morning, as he sat in his luxurious parlor reading his paper, he came to a paragraph mentioning the death of a small boy, found by the roadside, supposed to have come to his death by exposure and destitution. The description came so near the one that he saw the day before, that he inquired and found it the same; he went and looked upon the dead child, and, as might be expected, was struck with horror not at what he had done, but what he had neglected to do; he pondered upon himself, and from that day became an altered man, and said to the day of his death, that pale, trembling hand was ever before his mind. O, what a lesson for those who have more than does them good, or they know what to do with. What might the boy not have been, if the man had taken him into his carriage and carried him to his home.

The distinguished senator from Maine, General Fessenden, took seven such children into his family—not having children of his own—and when he shall lie in the home for all living; what shall the honors of the Senate Chamber be, compared with the esteem felt for the man, when these seven, and their posterity, shall tell the story of their benefactor. What is the use of wealth unless it is used for a good purpose, and it would seem that its possessors had better see it done while they are living. B.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her from walking or even sitting at her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was noised more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomiting up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your SOLACE and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26o

THE REBELLION.

A rebel report from Sumter states that four Monitors passed up the channel on the 17th. The rebels believed that they carried heavy weights suspended below the water to ascertain if there was a passage for vessels of a certain draft.

Advices from New Orleans state that Gen. Banks's expedition to Texas has been a great success. Brazier's Island, Brownsville and Point Isabel were captured, and are now in our hands. The enemy threw away their guns and fled to San Antonio. No details of the operations have been received.

It is reported in Missouri that Quantrell is on his way to that State with a heavy force of guerrillas.

Gen. Blunt instead of being in danger of being attacked by a large rebel force, and losing the train which he has taken into Arkansas, has met with no serious obstacle, and at last accounts did not consider himself in any danger.

A private letter from Morris Island, received in Hartford, Conn., this week, says that the 7th Connecticut Volunteers was under light marching orders for an assault on Fort Sumter.

It is intimated that Gen. Sherman is marching to the relief of Gen. Burnside.

☞ The N. Y. Herald's New Orleans letter of the 14th says: "Yesterday the United States Marshal and his Deputies seized all the cotton now in New Orleans. Rumor says the seizure was made on information derived from secret parties that most of the cotton now in store, in transitu for the North and West, was purchased from disloyal parties. Before it can be released the present owners must prove that the parties from whom they purchased are loyal to the U. S. Government.

☞ The latest instance of the insane policy of stopping a newspaper because one number contained an article that was displeasing, was that of Miss Sophronia Jones, at the West, who ordered her subscription to "The Pioneer" to cease, because the editor of the sheet had not independence enough to refuse to publish the marriage of her old sweetheart to Amanda Brooks. It was bad enough Sophronia thought to lose her beau, but to have his marriage to another put in her paper was more than Western flesh and blood could stand.

☞ The Oxford Democrat says that two prisoners sentenced at the late term of the Court held in that county, put in the plea of intoxication, in mitigation of their crime. Judge Appleton said the plea of intoxication was no excuse for the commission of an offence; and added, that from one end of the State to the other he found that the use of intoxicating liquors was the cause of nine-tenths of all the crime committed.

— A letter in the Guardian (London) complains that candidates for holy orders from St. Aldan's College, Birkenhead, appear profoundly ignorant of the New Testament—one of them did not know what were the topics of St. Paul's preaching to the Athenians, of the 1st Epistle to the Ephesians, or of the 1st Epistle of St. John, &c. The reason assigned is: "We have few lectures on the New Testament, our time is so much taken up with Paley and Butler."

— A tugboat, arrived at the Washington Navy Yard, has brought a torpedo of two sections, containing about forty pounds of powder, and provided with a friction time-fuse and piston. It was found floating down James River. The tin canisters are new, and owing to the peculiar construction of the machine, it was doubtless intended to accomplish its work by striking against some Federal vessel.

— A Chattanooga letter says there are at Whiteside, in that vicinity, several excellent coal mines, which are shortly to be worked on Government account. The seam crops out perhaps five hundred feet above the valley and is from four to eight feet thick.

☞ It is said that the recent capture of blockade runners at the mouth of Cape Fear river has so frightened the North Carolina rebel State authorities, that they have given up the business and farmed out the privilege of importing contraband goods to private parties.

— The Aroostook Times learns that many of the men who skedaddled across the line into Canada are becoming tired of their self banishment, and to blot out the "eternal disgrace," would be glad to enlist in the volunteer service.

— A correspondent of the Paris Patrie writes from St. Petersburg, that the famous engineer of Sebastopol, Gen. Todleben, is actively engaged in strengthening the defences of Cronstadt.

— Lawrence Todd, who died in Illinois in 1859, has devised all his estate, amounting to about $25,000, to the President and trustees of the Girard College.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Wm. H. Hadley, of Peterborough, picked this fall, from a small sized apple tree on his premises, twenty-five bushels of apples, all sound and fair.

—— Alonzo P. Carpenter, Esq., of Bath, has been appointed by the Governor and Council Solicitor of Grafton county, in place of Henry W. Blair, resigned.

—— Two widow ladies, who were next door neighbors to each other and had been intimate friends for nearly twenty years, died in Nashua on the 9th inst., in the same half hour.

—— The Methodist Society at Hillsboro' Centre having completed their new church edifice, opened it for religious services on Wednesday, Nov. 11th. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. W. F. Hatfield of Brooklyn, N. Y.

—— Saturday, Nov. 14, John Nudd, a lad of about 12 years of age, and son of Mr. Benjamin Nudd of Canterbury, fell from a loaded wagon which he was driving, the wheels passing over him, breaking both legs below the knees, beside badly crushing the bones of one.

—— The great fall of rain and sudden rise of the Merrimack which followed, caused so much back water as to seriously interfere with the operations in the Manchester mills. Work in the machine shop was suspended Wednesday, and several of the mills also stopped.

—— The first cotton mill in New Hampshire was built in New Ipswich on the Seehegan in 1804. The second was built on the same stream in 1808 and by an act of the Legislature they were exempted from taxation for five years. In the next three or four years mills were erected in Peterborough, Exeter, Milford and other towns.

—— A day or two ago, A. W. Sawyer and Wm. Vincent, of Nashua, shot an eagle on Butler's Hill, in Pelham, which measured nearly seven feet from tip to tip of wings. They both fired at the same time, and neither heard the report of the other's gun.

—— The Laconia Democrat, speaking of the incendiaries at Conway, says—"The burning of buildings of quiet people is sufficient cause to string up the guilty villain without trial or question." What? by Lynch law? If so, what becomes of Habeas Corpus writ? Where is the Constitution, and all that? Wouldn't it be almost as bad as martial law?

—— As Mr. Hamilton Osgood, of Boston, and Miss Abby Barrows, of Bernardston, were amusing themselves in a skiff upon the mill dam at Ashuelot Village, on Friday afternoon, 13th inst., the skiff went over the dam, plunging under water, and striking against a rock, without, however, seriously injuring the persons in it, but thoroughly wetting them and giving them an important lesson by way of caution.

— The Androscoggin river is higher at Brunswick, Me., than it has been since 1827.

— Portland is to give a Thanksgiving dinner to the soldiers at Camp Berry.

— The bakers of Richmond have raised the price of the pound loaf of bread from 25 to 50 cents.

— The great ram Missouri, built at Shreveport, La., is a failure. She cost the Government half a million of dollars.

— Report says General Meagher is to be made a Major General, and is to command the old Irish and Excelsior brigades.

— The Russian Admiral and fleet leave New York on Monday, for Fortress Monroe, where they expect to pass the winter.

— Partial returns from the late Idaho indicate the election of Gov. Wallace, the Union candidate, for Delegate to Congress, by a handsome majority.

— Owing to the spread of small pox among the colored population in Washington, orders have been issued, sending all the contrabands out of the city.

— Cotton is arriving at Cincinnati in considerable quantities. A cargo of three hundred and fifteen bales from Memphis arrived on Friday last, and another of five hundred bales the day previous.

— Capt. Massey, who ran away with Miss McTavish, a Montreal heiress, an event which created much excitement some months ago, has been divorced by his wife, and was married to Miss McTavish in Scotland last month.

— Mr. Isaac Keene, of Camden, Me., apparently in good health, was in a field looking at some stock, when raising his arm to point out some distant object, he fell back and expired. It was probably a disease of the heart.

— A Washington letter says proposals have been issued for 75,000 set of cavalry equipments, which shows that the mounted force is to be increased. Horses are becoming scarce, and the price is to be raised to $150, for which price, it is said, a large number can be imported from Canada.

— The house of Joshua Hobart, 13 Eden street, Boston, was entered by burglars, Wednesday night, and robbed of a safe containing $3500, consisting of three $500 bills on the Waltham Bank, one $500 Treasury note, and two promissory notes of $500 each.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.

NORWICH, VT., Nov. 18th.

The inauguration of Rev. Dr. Smith as President of Dartmouth College, took place on Wednesday, Nov. 18th, at 11 o'clock.

The students and graduates, with the Lebanon Brass Band, escorted "Rev. Dr. Smith, Ex-President Lord, His Excellency, Gov. Gilmore, members of his staff, Secretary of State, and others," from the College buildings to the Church, where the exercises were opened by the band. Gov. Gilmore next made an address, which was answered by Rev. Dr. Smith. The Scriptures were then read by Rev. Dr. Noyes. Prayer by Rev. Dr. Barstow.—Music by the choir.

President Smith then delivered an address. He opened by thanking the trustees for the honor they had conferred upon him,—that he should treat of his subject under four different heads. 1st, The Family—2d, The State—3d, The College, and 4th, Religion. He dwelt particularly on the duties of a College towards its members, and gave his opinion of how the various branches should be taught. He then spoke of the bright roll which old Dartmouth could print; spoke in eloquent language of Webster and Choate, and remarked that we find graduates of this time-honored institution in every walk of life—the Senate Chamber, the Bench, the Pulpit, and, in fact, everywhere. He alluded most touchingly to the death of Prof. Putnam, and closed by saying, "When I remember that I have so learned a faculty to assist me in my duties as President of Dartmouth, I receive willingly the keys from your hands." Upon finishing, he was greeted with loud applause. Hanover was beautifully illuminated in the evening. C. E. W.

The reporter for the Boston Journal says, speaking of Pres. Smith's address:—

The theme of the speaker was, "The College in its Proper and Legitimate Functions." In commencing, he asked the question, how shall this institution be made the most advantageous and effective? He answered it demonstratively, by giving it a completeness that rejects all fragmentary and broken ideas; by combining moral and intellectual training; by having distinct and separate professorships; by a true conservatism that reveres not the old dross but the old gold; by ample college endowments, and by making the institution Christian in the great issues of evangelical truth.

He then paid a brief but highly fitting tribute of respect to the memory of the lamented Professor Putnam, and closed with expressing the wish that the prosperity of Dartmouth might increase until its radiance should be blended with the glory of a noontide civilization.

President Smith, on taking his seat, was heartily applauded. Music was then given by the band, followed by a closing prayer and benediction by Ex-President Lord.

HORRIBLE MURDER.—An old man by the name of Edes, living in Temple, Me., was brutally murdered last Monday afternoon, by one Varnum alias Richardson.—Edes went with his son to Varnum's house to protest against Varnum's burning his fences. Varnum, who has an uncontrollable temper, began an attack on the old man with an ax, cutting through his breast bones and penetrating his lungs, causing death in two hours. Varnum has been arrested.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—The December number has been received from the publishers, Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, Boston. This number closes the 12th volume. The articles are of unusual interest. The new volume will commence with the January number, when the publishers announce that among the contributors will be Robert Browning; Hawthorne, with his new romance; Longfellow, with his new translation of Dante; Mrs. Stowe, with a new series of capital sketches; and J. T. Trowbridge, with a new novel.

— Wilmington, N. C., apparently is not quite closed up, as the blockade-runners Dundee, Flora, Banshee, Syren, Alice, Advance, Hosea, Beauregard, Antonica, Despatch, and Scotia have arrived there.

— The vexed question as to whether a man has a right to recruit in one town for the quota of another, has been settled. In a case of this kind, which came up in Portland, the Adjutant General was appealed to by telegraph, and he decided, over his own signature, that the men so enlisted could be counted on the quota of the town for which they were recruited, and that the other town had no claim to them. So says the Portland Argus.

— The New York World says the War Department has at last hit upon the only practicable plan for securing a perfect enrollment of all the able-bodied men liable to the draft. The names of those already enrolled are to be printed in alphabetical order, and the lists are to be left in places where they can be inspected by the public, and corrected. It will, of course, be the interest of every one already enrolled to add to the list all who are legally liable.—This airing of the lists will purge them of all the bogus and non-liable names. All who are not liable on account of disability, alienage or non-residence, are to report to the board previous to the 20th of next December.

REBEL ATROCITIES.—The Knoxville Whig gives an account of outrages perpetrated on Union men in East Tennessee.—Since the Union army has taken possession of East Tennessee, very many Union men have been cruelly murdered by the rebels in arms. In the upper counties they have shot down and otherwise murdered unoffending men, neither respecting age nor infirmities, and the soldiers have robbed families of all in their houses and on their farms, and where they were unable to carry off all they found, have destroyed it, burning private property and destroying all before them. They have within a few weeks past murdered old men in the presence of their families, committing cruel and infamous atrocities that would disgrace wandering Arabs. The Whig says:—

In Washington county they murdered Rev. Mr. Bowman, of the Dutch Church, in cold blood, upon no other pretext than that he was a Union man. In the counties of Blount, Monroe, Hamilton and Bradley, below Knoxville, they have recently committed atrocious murders. They marched an old man named Smith out from his house, in Blount, and shot him down in the road. The only charge was that he was a Lincolnite. They cruelly murdered Rev. Levi Carter, and one of his sons, in Bradley, and the charge was that he was a Lincolnite Methodist preacher. They cut the throat of Rev. Mr. Blair, of Hamilton county, a Baptist preacher, in the presence of his family, and his offence was that he was a Union man. They murdered F. Carter, of Bradley county in like manner, as refugees from that quarter report to us. They are said to have murdered two of the Carsons, in Monroe county, for no provocation whatever. They murdered Rev. Hiram Douglas, of the Presbyterian Church.—They shot down a man named Coseart for no other offence than that he was a Union man.

And these are only items in the long list of wrongs and cruelties daily perpetrating. They have had, and still have, in the hills and mountains of Sevier county, 400 Cherokee Indians, under the command of Col. Thomas, of Western Carolina. These savages are robbing houses and scalping innocent citizens.

☞ The Newburyport Herald has recorded within a few days three deaths in the family of Mrs. Margaret M. Mahaffe. On the 15th, Susan M. died. The next day Martha W. H. died, the latter aged 14 years. On Wednesday Margaret M. followed her sisters. A brother now is very sick, with little prospect of recovery. The mother within a few hours has taken her bed; and thus of a family of five, which a few weeks since was happy and apparently had as favorable a prospect of life as any other in the city, three have deceased within three days, and the two remaining members are prostrate in the hands of friends, who have come in from the neighborhood to take care of, and nurse them. Susan M. and Margaret M. were twin sisters, 18 years and 8 months old. The malady was the old type of typhus fever, terribly malignant and often fatal.

— The City Council of Richmond have appropriated $60,000 to purchase a family residence for Gen. Lee.

To "Blowers!"
TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
Having been repeatedly informed, by various persons, that some of the people in our neighborhood have sought diligently and by various means (such as experimenting, analyzing, &c.) to discover the ingredients and cry down the merits of my
Lightning Hair Dye,
Thus demonstrating it to be a good article, (for we never knew a poor article to be counterfeited) now, to all such persons, "or any other man," I hereby issue the following Challenge.
I will deposit in the hands of any honorable, disinterested person, the sum of
FIFTY DOLLARS,
a like amount being deposited by the competing party; if I fail to color in less time, in better shape, or the dye to wear longer and will less inconvenience to the person operated upon, with my Lightning Hair Dye—they using their own, or any other dye they choose—the longest, thickest, heaviest and hardest whiskers that can be produced; then the winner shall receive the One Hundred Dollars.
This Challenge will remain open one week. If not responded to within that time it will be withdrawn, and all jealous and evil-disposed persons be silenced forever after to hold their peace; although I would have it distinctly understood that I attach no importance to their statements, as I can produce testimony from persons of the MOST RESPECTABLE PERSONS, (not miles away, with doubtful names, but at home in our own city and neighborhood,) of the superiority of
over all other preparations, combinations and abominations termed
HAIR DYES
and I would take this opportunity to inform ALL PERSONS that I keep constantly on hand and can furnish in any quantity—from one drop to a tierce, from one cent's worth to any amount of dollars—
The Lightning Hair Dye.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK,

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A chimney draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either stove, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.

We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

REPLY TO THE REBEL CLERGY.—The Edinburg Scotchman says:

"A reply has been prepared to the manifesto of the clergy of the Confederate States, and has already received the signatures of many of the most distinguished ministers, and their signatures are daily coming to hand. The reply takes at once in firm terms the high ground that over all christendom the time for discussing the question of slavery is past, and that wherever selfish cupidity does not interfere to modify opinion, slavery is accursed and doomed.

From the Journal

STOCKS may be considered individual surplus wealth, invested—the interest only being necessary for the support and extra use of the investors. In addition to the almost incalculable amount of State Stocks, Bank, Mineral, and other investments, Government calls for fifteen hundred millions, extra, to put down a wicked rebellion, and the individual rush at 6 per cent. is at the rate of millions a day. The last batch of five hundred millions offered, is nearly exhausted. The payment of the interest in gold, at its present price, is unquestionably a present inducement, but the resumption of specie payments at the pleasure of Government, will at once reduce this to a nominal advantage. The great annual production of our mines ensures this result at no very distant day.

COTTON, will have to come down from its present kingly throne, in regard to price. The receipts at New Orleans alone for the first twenty two days of October was 11,294 bales. This is at the rate of 185,000 per ann.; showing that there is still a large amount on hand here, in addition to the greatly increasing receipts from other countries. The crop has been small the last season, but a small proportion of that and the two preceding years has probably either escaped the blockade or been burned. In the event of our "only holding our own," or the suppression of the rebellion altogether, the business of raising cotton will be gone into extensively in 1864. The crop of 1863 is now coming in.

That a bold attempt was in progress in Canada, by the thousands of refugees from the Southern States, and devotees, able bodied men, to surprise and liberate the prisoners on Johnson Island, Lake Erie, (opposite Sandusky,) and even to destroy or lay under contribution Buffalo and perhaps other defenceless cities, is now pretty well established. The first information Government received was from Lord Lyons, who communicated to Mr. Seward the information he had received. Such precautionary measures have been taken now, as probably to thwart the whole concern. It is said steam armed vessels were to be prepared near Prescott, to sail up Lake Ontario, and enter Lake Erie thro' the Welland Canal.

Since the above was prepared, we learn through the Montreal and Canada papers, that the plot was a real one—that under the pretence of sending prisoners from a Southern climate to cold Erie, purposely to have them die by inches, vessels had been fitted out at Wilmington, N. C. with 88 officers and 300 men for Halifax. Here they were to arrange and carry into effect the bold scheme. They were to release the prisoners and convey them to Canada, and then commence other operations. Those men did arrive—but our detectives were on the alert. Government was timely informed, and the whole has become a grand failure. The Detroit papers expressed no little alarm as they had information that their city was in danger. Gen. Dix was commissioned to proceed to Buffalo. The garrison has been augmented, and gun boats guard not only the island, but are cruising off the entrance of the canal. A dispatch to Gov. Todd of Ohio, caused him to stop a train of 2000 persons on their way to the island, and in lieu of it ordered the troops at Camp Cleveland to proceed to the Island with a battery of six Parrott guns,—and thus saved the North from a rebel raid.

Our starved prisoners in Richmond have now been deprived of even the scanty allowance of meat hitherto allowed. The excuse is that they have been obliged to deprive the army of the usual meat ration. If so, there is ample cause why the rebels should lay down their arms, or in the alternative that our brave soldiers should at once occupy Richmond—to save our prisoners, and rescue the helpless and suffering thousands who, with sabre suspended over them, are awaiting the pleasure of the authors of the war.

No. 88.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH.

In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three.

AN ORDINANCE providing for Bounty to Volunteers.

Whereas, the President of the United States has called upon the Governor of this State for 3,763 men as the quota of the United States to that, the 1st day of November, and has given notice that so many of said men as are not raised by volunteering before the fifth day of said November, will be raised by draft in the various districts of the State; and whereas the Adjutant General of the State has notified the Mayor of this City that the number assigned from Portsmouth is one hundred and fifty. Therefore,

Be it enacted by the City Council of the City of Portsmouth, as follows:

Sec. 1. There shall be a joint committee of two from the Board of Aldermen and three from the Common Council, who shall be authorized to take such measures as they may deem expedient, to raise volunteers under the above call, and to pay to such volunteers as shall be received into the service of the United States as a part of the quota of this city before the fifth day of January next, such bounty out of the Treasury of this city as may be necessary for that purpose; and the said committee is hereby further authorized, if arrangements can be made with the authorities of the United States and the State of New Hampshire, to advance to such volunteers out of the city Treasury any bounty or part thereof which may be authorized by order of said authorities.

Sec. 2. The city Treasurer under the direction and approval of said committee is hereby authorized to negotiate a loan on the credit of the city for a sum not exceeding Thirty Thousand Dollars and issue City Bonds for the same, payable in not more than twenty years, with coupons attached for the interest, at a rate not exceeding six per cent, payable semi-annually, which bonds shall be approved by the Mayor, and countersigned and entered by the City Clerk, to be appropriated to the payment of bounties to Volunteers under the order under the before mentioned call.

Sec. 3. Any portion of the bonds authorized to be raised by an ordinance passed Aug. 13, 1863, entitled, "An Ordinance for the relief of Drafted men in the service of the United States and their families," which may not be needed for the purposes specified in said Ordinance, shall be and hereby transferred and appropriated to pay the Bounties mentioned in consequence of said arrangement, and shall be raised by said Loan for said purpose.

Sec. 4. Ordinance No. 87, passed Nov. 12, 1863, is hereby repealed.

Passed Nov. 19, 1863.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time pieces only once, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month and day of the month; including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the ware larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for pastry and baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. Hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your building.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cheever, Esq.,	Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged—its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

ARCHBISHOP PURCELL.—The Roman Catholic Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati, having been bitterly attacked by the Copperhead press, for voting the Union ticket at the recent election in Ohio, has taken occasion to defend himself. His remarks are reported as follows:

Archbishop Purcell modestly, yet pointedly, answered his accusers, and with open and manly candor vindicated his right and duty to vote as his conscience dictated. He followed the defense with an unreserved declaration of his opposition to the division of the country, under any circumstances, and closed by recording his belief that slavery is an unchristian evil, opposed to the just freedom of mankind, and to the growth and glory of a republican country.

He had voted against the Democratic ticket, not because he desired to wound the Democrats of his acquaintance, nor because he desired to propitiate their opponents, but because the attempted withdrawal of Ohio soldiers in the field, with Rosecrans, would ensue, and that the State of Ohio would be tossed with revolutionary opposition to the war policy. He feared that raids would be invited, the parallel of which might be found in Quantrell's barbarous and inhuman invasion of Kansas.—'This may all have been fancy, said the speaker, 'but it was my honest opinion, and who, in God's name, could ask me to cast my vote for the inauguration of such anarchy and such atrocity.'

We cannot have a divided empire. Mr. Pugh said to him the other day, that the Southern people would consent to permit our steamboats to traverse the Mississippi River, but that they would never trade with us, and it would be vain for us to endeavor to make them strike hands with us as of old. He (Archbishop P.) could see no argument in this. The question was one of right, not of expediency, and, for one, he was determined to work for and pray the right, until, with God's blessing, it was established in all its beneficence.

He had heard that there was a dread among many laboring men, that if slaves were liberated they would come to our Northern cities and displace thousands of honest, hard-working white men. For himself, he did not anticipate any such result. He had always wished to see every man, no matter what his color, free. The Catholic Church has ever been the friend of human freedom. It was Christ's mission to set men free, and Christian people disregard his precepts and example, when they seek to uphold or perpetuate involuntary human servitude.

☞ Some of the papers are publishing an extract of a private letter from Mr. Vallandigham, in which he prophesies dreadful evils to befal Sec. Chase by-and-by, when Mr. V. will be in high honor. He also refers to a time when Mr. C. was in great danger from a [pro-slavery] mob in Dayton: a most unfortunate reference, for him to make;—as it shows how strongly the popular current sets now, to have overcome such a heap of obstacles as then stood in Mr. Chase's way.—The Deluge has swept them away, never to be restored. U. T.

— The enterprise of filling up the flats belonging to the State of Massachusetts, upon the Back Bay, after several years of unremitting labor, both by day and night, approaches completion. Only about eight acres remain to be filled up. The flats belonging to the Water Power Company are also being filled up with great rapidity.—The old Mill Company own a considerable extent of flats in this region, and there are several individual owners.

☞ The Pope's Censor thus speaks of a book submitted to him, which calls attention to the prevalent inhumanity to animals in Rome:

"The little work has many inaccuracies. It supposes that humanity toward animals is a divine precept. It supposes that there exists in animals a light which man ought to respect, and it supposes that to be a good Christian one ought to be compassionate toward the beasts." The mode in which the author proceeds to prove his theme, makes manifest that he has recourse only to the Bible, and this interpreted according to his caprice."

— It is estimated that the wool clip of Minnesota the present year will not be less than five hundred thousand pounds.

New subscribers will receive the numbers for November and December, in addition to those for 1864.
N. B.—The proprietors have purchased a new Strawberry, which they call the "Agriculturist Strawberry," and it appears to far excel, both in size and intrinsic value, anything ever before produced. We intend to distribute about One Plant to each subscriber, if they can produce enough, and if there be not enough, then as far as they go, beginning in the order of those who pay first for 1864.
The cost of packing and postage will be 5 cts.—so that the club price, including the Strawberry, will be 35 cts., and if you want the Strawberry, the money must be sent on soon.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the nasal rheum for a number of years, which has at times so far as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum has been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for nonpareille Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were satisfied, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since. I have not an agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I commenced using DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined to a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker. I at last commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine as the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

A Knoxville (Tenn.) letter of the 7th to the N. Y. Herald mentions the fight between the rebel and Union North Carolinians on Broad River, in which the latter whipped the former. During the fight many of the rebel regiments skedaddled to the Union ranks, and poured their fire into their former comrades.

The 13th Army Corps, lately operating in the Teche country, embarked at Brashear City for some unknown point in Texas on the 13th.

Bad roads again in Virginia,—but the storm ceased on Saturday.

The Washington Chronicle and the Republican both make the announcement that the army of the Potomac moved at an early hour Monday morning, with 10 days' cooked rations.

The number of deserters from Bragg's army is so large that the rebels have stationed a commissioned officer at every picket post or point where it is at all easy for a man to desert. The other night a sergeant with the whole of his picket post reported to our lines. It is said that Bragg is preparing to resume offensive operations.—Some of the deserters, however, report that the Union cavalry, a few days since, made a raid on the railroad between Bragg's army and Atlanta, tore up the track in several places, burnt 5 important bridges, and cut off Bragg's supplies. This story is repeated by several different parties. It is said that an important movement just made by some of our troops has prevented flank movements in East Tennessee.

An officer on Gen. Banks' staff writes that a large quantity of cotton was captured near Brownsville, and expeditions had been sent up the river to get all they could find. The cotton which will be thrown into the market by our occupation of Texas will be 250,000 bales. The amount stored on the Rio Grande line is immense.

A letter from Wilmington, N. C., says that about the 20th ult., 3 vessels, loaded with Blakely guns, saltpetre, and 50,000 Enfield rifles succeeded in running the blockade at that port. The writer says two or three iron clads north of Cape Fear river would stop this business.

The Harper's Ferry correspondent of the N. Y. Herald says the recent victory over Imboden was quite gratifying. The property captured is worth over $100,000 to the government. 34 rebels were captured, and about 20 killed and wounded. We lost 2 killed, 5 slightly wounded, and 6 captured. It is the 3d time the 1st N. Y. cavalry have had the pleasure of driving Imboden away from his camp and capturing it.

A letter from an officer at Port Hudson states that it has been positively ascertained that a Lieutenant and 20 privates of a colored regiment, captured by the rebels two months ago, were all hanged within 24 hours afterwards.

The rebel steamer Banshee, from Nassau for Wilmington, with a cargo of great value, was captured on the 21st.

The rebels are not closely investing Knoxville, Tenn. It is intimated that Gen. Thomas is about to take advantage of the movement of a portion of Bragg's forces against Gen. Burnside.

☞ Considerable excitement was caused on Saturday in the villages of Rouse's Point and St. Albans, Vt., by reports that a body of secessionists in Montreal had planned to seize Fort Montgomery, destroy the draw bridge at Rouse's Point, and plunder Plattsburg and Burlington. Information of such a plot reached Governor Smith and Collector Clapp of Burlington, on Friday. They immediately took steps to communicate with the officer in charge of Fort Montgomery, who soon had its guns manned and ready to give the renegades a warm reception. This scheme was probably linked with the Johnson Island project. Ample preparations have been made by Gov. Smith to repel any attack which may be made on the border.

☞ The Cincinnati Enquirer announces that the resignation of Chief Justice Rodger B. Taney is now in the hands of the President. It also learns that the resignation of Mr. Chase, Sec. of the Treasury, is in the hands of the President. Mr. Chase, it is understood, will take the place of the Chief Justice shortly after the meeting of Congress.

—Mr. D. Travers, Milltown, St. Stephen, within a short period has lost by diptheria seven children, six boys and one girl, between the ages of ten and nineteen. Another daughter was attacked with the disease and recovered, but has lost the use of her limbs.

— Some of the ladies in Hartford appear in the streets without hoops, but with dresses that come only to the ankle, disclosing balmoral boots and striped stockings. One of the Hartford papers thinks this a "pleasant reform."

☞ A writer in the Cincinnati Commercial states that the U. S. Naval squadron of the Mississippi river consists of 86 vessels, of all descriptions, in commission, with a complement of over 1600 officers and 40,000 effective men. Many of these vessels are of the most formidable class, and heavily armed. The vessels of this squadron are divided into several classes—the iron-clads, the tin-clads, despatch vessels and auxiliary vessels. The iron-clads, which are the most effective, are thirteen in number.—Added to these, is a new iron-clad just built at St. Louis, and the Indianola, which will soon be got off and repaired. Five more are in process of construction, two of which will be launched at Cincinnati, in the spring, thus making the total number of iron-clads nineteen. The tin-clads, another class of vessels, so named because they are not so heavily plated, are also a very effective class of steamers. The number of these so-called tin-clads in the Mississippi, Tennessee, Cumberland and White rivers is thirty-three. Most of these are stern-wheel boats altered into gunboats, only a few being side-wheel. There are three despatch vessels, and seven auxiliary vessels, employed for carrying the mails, the conveyance of stores and passengers, and as hospital ships. The "Ram fleet," as it is called, consists of five or six vessels. The whole number of vessels of this river fleet in commission and building, amounts to 101. Most of the officers of the Mississippi Squadron are acting volunteer officers, many of them having been appointed from river men, such as captains, pilots and mates of river steamers. Others have been appointed from the lake trade. There are eight divisions of the Mississippi fleet, each division being commanded by a Lieutenant Commander of the regular navy, by this means keeping up that discipline in the fleet so much needed, and which could not be carried out by volunteer officers alone, simply because they were not schooled in discipline. The whole is under the command of Rear Admiral David D. Porter.

SAN FRANCISCO.—The growth of this city is most remarkable, even among American cities. Although it is still in its teens in point of age, it now ranks as the third city in the United States in the amount of duties paid upon imports. The Southern Rebellion, with its attendant piracies upon the Atlantic Ocean, has greatly aided the commercial prosperity of San Francisco.—One of the principal Government officials on the Pacific coast has recently estimated that the Custom House revenue of the Golden City will in a few years exceed that of Boston, now the second city in the Union.

A new directory of San Francisco has just been prepared, from which it appears that the population of that city is now near 103,000; the adult male population has not increased as fast as women and children; the increase of children for the year has been about 6000; the increase of adult female population during the past year has been greater than during any other period of like extent.

A PRETTY PLOT FOILED.—The New York Post states that one of the first fruits of General Banks' movements upon the Rio Grande has been the defeat of a French-Mexican conspiracy to bring Texas back under the Mexican flag. The plan was already in the process of execution under the joint auspices of the secessionists of Texas and the French party in Mexico, when General Banks nipped it in the bud. His arrival was no less opportune than that of the Monitor in Hampton Roads, when the Merrimac was making such havoc and quite as effective of good. But for that event the French flag would now be flying over Matamoras, and the United States would have had a new neighbor on her immediate flanks.

☞ There seems to be no doubt that the steamer Water Witch has been lost on Lake Huron, with all on board. The captain of a bark which arrived at Milwaukee last week, reports that, during a storm on Lake Huron, he saw the Water Witch capsize and go down; but, in consequence of the terrific nature of the gale, he was unable to render any assistance. The propeller is known to have had twenty German passengers on board, who, with the crew, are undoubtedly all lost. It is rumored that two other steamers have shared the same fate.

☞ Joseph Shuman and Edward Ladwick, privates in the 4th Maine Infantry, who were captured beyond Alexandria, have been tried, and convicted in Richmond, on the charge of "nigger stealing," and sentenced to three years' imprisonment in the penitentiary, where they are now confined at hard labor. The charge was without foundation, and the sentence unwarranted.

— The gas bill of one of the Parisian hotels and that of the city of Orleans, France, are equal—$26,000 per annum.

— Counterfeit Fives on the Adams Bank, North Adams, Mass., have been put in circulation. The general appearance of the bill is good and well calculated to deceive.

— Andrews, the New York rioter, is to tried by the State authorities.

— A dry jester thinks young ladies should be subjected to the conscription, they are so accustomed to "bare arms."

— The last British census showed that there were 201 persons of 100 years of age in England.

— The body-servant of the rebel Secretary Benjamin is now engaged on board one of the steamers plying between Memphis and New Orleans.

— One of the dishonest contractors, who furnished the soldiers adulterated coffee, has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the Penitentiary at Albany, N. Y.

— A letter from St. Augustine, Florida, says the government feeds about fourteen hundred residents of that place, most of whom are too indolent or too proud to work.

— In France the law obliges operators of threshing and winnowing machines to wear a veil as a protection to the lungs,—the dust producing diseases of the lungs and throat.

— The Gardiner, Me., Journal says that thousands of logs have been lost on the Kennebec by the late freshet. Most of the millmen had an unusually large number piled for winter use.

—As the correspondence of the agents for the exchange of prisoners has degenerated into personalities and loss of mutual confidence, a change of agents seems to be desirable.

— The vote of the Ohio soldiers promises to be larger than was anticipated. It is thought it will reach from forty to forty-two thousand. This will run up Brough's majority close on to 100,000.

— The total majority for the Union ticket in Wisconsin will not be less than 25,000.

In Illinois, seventy-seven counties show a Union gain of 36,516. The returns from Missouri insure a radical majority of about 2000, and it may go higher.

— The Indianapolis Journal publishes two columns of extracts from the Indiana county papers, all of which show that the enthusiasm for volunteering in that State has reached a very high pitch. There will be no draft in that State.

— Governor Ramsey, of Minnesota, has taken to Washington a treaty with the Indians on the borders of Red River, by which we acquire eleven million acres of land, and all the obstructions to traders from St. Paul are removed.

— Thomas B. Bryan of Chicago paid the Northwestern ladies' fair $3000 for the original manuscript of the President's Emancipation Proclamation, and has given assurances that it shall not leave the city of Chicago.

— Hon. N. B. Smithers, the newly elected Union member of Congress from Delaware, was a member of the Chicago Convention. The new House is now full, with the exception of a member to be chosen from Erastus Corning's district, to fill the vacancy occasioned by his resignation.

— The official returns elect Bosworth over McCunn for the Judgeship in New York as previously stated. But it is claimed that the police returns from one district elect him, while it is shown that those from another district, if allowed, would defeat him again.

— Acting Master Thomas H. Harris has been promoted to the grade of Acting Volunteer Lieutenant, for gallant conduct while in command of the expedition which destroyed the blockade runners Scottish Chief and Kate Dale, on the Hillsborough River, Fla.

— The stir in London occasioned by the stories circulated about Lord Palmerston, has somewhat subsided. It is now said there has been no suit instituted for divorce, and that the counsel who entered the case for the plaintiff is one of the pettyfogging lawyers who are prominent in black mail cases. Another report announces the withdrawal of the suit.

— On Friday night, at South Groton, Mass., a couple of burglars attempted to rob the house of Rev. John Lord. Mr. Lord and his wife were absent, leaving the house in charge of an Irish servant woman, who, hearing the "raiders," confronted them in their work, and managed to get out of the house to give the alarm, when the burglars finding "their game was up," fled, without securing any booty.

— A few days ago was recorded the safe arrival at San Francisco of the monitor Camanche, which was built in Jersey City, and was shipped on the ship Aquila for that distant point. The citizens had scarcely got over their congratulations upon the presence of an iron-clad in their harbor when a severe gale set in, during which, on Monday 16th, the Aquila, still having the Camanche on board as cargo, broke from her moorings, stove in her bottom, and sank, with her bow in forty feet and her stern in twenty feet of water. Every effort is making to save her cargo, (the monitor) and the latest dispatch expresses the opinion that it will be saved, and hopes are entertained also of raising the ship in condition to be repaired, though her hull is greatly damaged.

To "Blowers!"
TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
Having been repeatedly informed, by various persons, that some of the trade in our neighborhood have sought diligently and by various means (such as experimenting, sampling, &c.) to discover the ingredients and cry down the merits of my
Lightning Hair Dye,
Thus demonstrating it to be a good article, (for we never knew a poor article to be counterfeited) now, to all such persons, "or any other man," I hereby issue the following Challenge.
I will deposit in the hands of any honorable, disinterested person, the sum of
FIFTY DOLLARS,
a like amount being deposited by the competing party; if I fail to color in less time, in better shape, or the dye to wear longer and with less inconvenience to the person operated upon, with my Lightning Hair Dye, than any thing else, or any other dye they choose—the longest, thickest, heaviest and hardest whiskers that can be produced; then the winner shall receive the One Hundred Dollars.
This Challenge will remain open one week. If not responded to within that time it will be withdrawn, and all jealous and evil-disposed persons requested forever after to hold their peace; although I would have it distinctly understood that I attach no importance to their statements, as I can produce testimonials from some of the MOST RESPECTABLE PERSONS, (not miles away, with their real names, but at home in our own city and neighborhood,) of the superiority of
over all other preparations, combinations and abominations termed
HAIR DYES:
and I would take this opportunity to inform ALL PERSONS that I keep constantly on hand and can furnish in any quantity—from one drop to a tierce, from one cent's worth to any amount of dollars—
The Lightning Hair Dye.

Peremptory Sale
—OF—
Valuable Wood and Timber Lands.
I shall sell at Public Auction, by directions contained in the will of the late John Perley, deceased, on WEDNESDAY, the ninth day of December, 1863, at 10 o'clock A. M., on the premises—
One hundred and sixty-six acres of Land, situate in the towns of Auburn and Candia, N. H., about one mile from the station of the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad in Auburn, and five miles from the city of Manchester. This land contains a heavy growth of hard wood, interspersed with oak timber, and will be offered in two lots.
At 2 o'clock P. M. on the same day, after the above sale, will be sold on the premises, a Lot situate in Auburn, on the highway near the residence of Mr. Geo. W. Severance, about three miles from the Massabesic station of the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad. This lot is covered with a thrifty growth of chestnut, oak and pine, and contains thirty-eight acres.
Terms of the sale are cash. Ten per cent. of the purchase money will be required to be paid on the completion of the sale, and the balance within thirty days, within which time the deeds will be ready for delivery.
Plans of the lots may be seen at the dwelling-house of Mr. JOHN MOORE, in Auburn, and at the office of SAMUEL N. BELL, Esq., in Manchester.
The quantity and quality of wood and timber upon these lots, their distance from a manufacturing establishment, and the facilities for reaching good markets by the way of the railroad near which they are located, commend this as an opportunity seldom offered for a remunerative investment.
The sale being expressly provided for in the will of the deceased, and in accordance with his directions ordered by the Trustee, will be positive.
For further particulars inquire of MOSES DORMAN, Exeter, JOHN KILLAM and GEO. W. CHAPLIN, Georgetown; J. H. TOWNE, at Naumkeag Bank, Salem, Mass.; or of WILLIAM H. HACKETT, Auctioneer.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. 8pm

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered to the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other Paper.

☞ The Domestic Dyes prepared by Geo. H. Reed & Co. offer the simplest and most perfect means of dyeing household apparel ever presented the public. They embrace 40 different shades, and include all the new and fashionable colors—and are perfectly fast. Samples on silk and wool can be seen and the colors procured of THACHER. ja20

Local.

☞ The keel is laid, and part of the frame up, for the new steamer to be built by Tobey & Littlefield, at Noble's Island, for Boston parties. She is evidently to be one of the staunchest of craft; and we believe her length of 250 feet has never been equalled by any steamer built at our Navy Yard.

There is no other vessel on the stocks at any of our private shipyards at present; but we hear that Wm. F. Fernald is to lay the keel for another schooner, at the Raynes Yard.

☞ The New England Vocalists, who bear a good name elsewhere, will make their first appearance in this city, at the Temple on Thanksgiving evening.

INTERESTING TO PARENTS AND TEACHERS.—Messrs. C. H. Wheeler & Co., 5 and 7 Essex street, Boston, are agents for Munger's Liquid Slating for Blackboards—and they have a very interesting variety of goods slated with the same material. Their Leaf Slates are a beautiful article and worthy of notice. Send for a circular.

Volunteers for the Army should not leave the city until supplied with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT. For sores, scurvy, wounds, small pox, fevers and bowel complaints, these medicines are the best in the world. Every French soldier uses them. Only 25 cents per box. 211

To every barrel of Flour you can make thirty pounds more Bread or Biscuit and much better by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, than by yeast fermentation or any other Saleratus. If is perfectly healthy, will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs, and cure dyspeptic persons. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try one paper, and you will be convinced. Most of the grocers sell it. Depot 114 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

THE CLIPPER SHIP CHARGER.—This beautiful oak-built and copper-fastened ship which arrived at Boston a few days since from San Francisco, is the theme of admiration with all who have inspected her. She has been scraped and polished from the trucks to the water's edge, during the last voyage, and her internal arrangements have been so perfectly systematized that there is a place for every thing on board of her, connected with a ship, and every thing is in its place. She is well worthy of inspection by all who take an interest in shipping. Capt. Knowles, his officers and crew, are entitled to great credit for her excellent appearance.—Commercial Bulletin.

☞ The new Depot for the Eastern Railroad, in this city, is fast approaching completion, and will be at once a convenience and an ornament to our city, and a credit to the corporation. The new bell-tower, surmounted with the stars and stripes, presents a very beautiful appearance; and everything about the structure is in keeping with the requirements of business and good taste.

☞ On Sunday evening the Universalist Church was filled with a very attentive audience to listen to a lecture on the "Formation of Habits," being the second of Mr. Patterson's series of lectures to the young. Taking his text from Ecclesiastes, 6 ch., 1 v., ["There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is common among men,"] he delivered a very interesting discourse thereon, the principal portion of which was devoted to the evil habit of using tobacco; some of his remarks being very scathing, carrying one back to the days of King James' "Counterblast" against the vile weed. The third lecture, on "Chastity of Language," will be delivered on Sunday evening next, at 7 o'clock. I.

☞ On Sunday Rev. Mr. Richardson, of Dover, officiated at the North Church in this city. Mr. Richardson has recently accepted a call from the Richmond Street Church, Providence, at a Salary of $1800. By this decision the orthodox denomination in this State loses one of its most able preachers.

☞ The Portland Argus states that the U. S. gunboat Agawam will leave Portland for the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock. The four days' trial of her machinery at the wharf will end this (Tuesday) afternoon.

THE LYCEUM ORCHESTRA.—The following named gentlemen, members of this orchestra, are all well known in our city as efficient and talented musicians. They have recently formed themselves into an Orchestra Band, and have in rehearsal a National Overture arranged by their leader, and a programme of the most popular pieces of the day. No pains will be spared by these musicians to give the lyceum audience a rich musical treat on every lecture night.

Mr. John Knight, formerly leader of the Portsmouth Brass Band, is leader of the Orchestra and plays the first violin; Nathan Whalley, a member of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, second violinist; Mr. John F. Shillaber, for many years a member of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, is the performer on the clarionette and flute; Mr. John Harridan, late leader of the Portsmouth Brass Band and more recently leader of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, will perform on the cornet; Jeremiah Rathwell, a member of the Cornet Band and an accomplished musician, sustains the tenor; Mr. Wm. G. Joy, for years a member of all of the musical associations in the city and an active member of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, will perform on the double bass. The orchestra will be enlarged if sufficient encouragement will warrant the extra expenditure.

☞ Acting Master Henry R. Billings, U. S. N., has been ordered to the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

☞ We learn that Albert R. Hatch, Esq., has been nominated by the Democrats as their candidate for Mayor.

☞ Is it not about time to again agitate the question of getting a Town Hall. In every well regulated community such a building is to be seen. But in ours nothing of the sort. How can we ever hope to improve the public taste, without ever enjoying the facilities calculated for such work? Let all the croakers about taxes stop their gabble, and go for the pride and prosperity of the town, so far as to erect a first-class public hall.—Gloucester Tel.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

Morning Chronicle.

A LETTER TO PLYMOUTH CHURCH.—On Sunday morning an interesting letter, signed by a committee of distinguished English clergymen, was read in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, (H. W. Beecher's).—The writers, on behalf of the English sympathizers with the Union, congratulated the church on having a pastor who at home and abroad upheld so fearlessly the cause of universal emancipation and the rights of mankind. The letter closed with the expression of the hope that one who had done so much toward enlightening the public sentiment of the British masses would return to his native land with the cheering assurance that old England is anti-slavery at the core, and in sympathy with the North in the great struggle for liberty and Union.

SPIRITUAL ADVICE BY A PHYSICIAN. "Old Doctor C." was known as a skillful physician, blunt and downright, but not addicted to church going. Mr. S., the sick trader, sent for him. The pulse was examined, the pills dealt out, and the directions given. But as the doctor was taking up his saddle-bags, Mr. S. turned to him with a very pious look.

"I have a solemn request to make of you, Dr. C."

"What! of me? a solemn request of me?"

"Yes, sir; it concerns my salvation, and I hope you won't refuse it."

"Why, bless you, Mr. S., that don't come in my line; send for the minister."

"But hear me. I feel that I am a very sick man, and if at any time you see that I am going to die, I want you should let me know it at least three days beforehand."

"But what in the world do you want to know that for?"

"O, I don't know that I am prepared to die, and I want at least two or three days to prepare."

"O, well, make your preparation, make your preparation, Mr. S.; and if you don't die, it will not be long—to your customers!" Monthly Religious Magazine.

— A young man in California, whose friends had ceased to correspond with him, woke up their interest by sending letters to business men in his native place, inquiring the price of a tolerably-sized farm.—Seven affectionate letters came from the friends by return of post, and two or three a day have come ever since, including one from an old (and cold) sweetheart.

A PAIR OF "JAMS."—What dreadful things abolitionism and radicalism are we all know, for have they not caused the present war? But here is a pair of "jams" of different stripe. The first belongs to the Richmond Enquirer, which says:

"The Principle of Slavery is right in itself, and does not depend on difference of complexion. Slaves have been generally white."

The other is the Charleston Mercury's: "Slavery is the natural condition of the laboring man."

— King street, Alexandria, Va., is now being thoroughly repaired with cobble stones. The entire expense is paid from the liquor fines for violating the Provost Marshal's orders relating to the sale of spirituous liquors in that ancient but rebellious little town. This is a good way to use the "bricks" that men might have carried away in their hats.

A little fellow, not more than five years of age, bearing some gentleman at his father's table discussing the familiar line, "An honest man's the noblest work of God," said he knew it wasn't true; his mother was better than any man that was ever made.

— In the Ionian district, Michigan, there was taken up in the month of October last about 6000 acres of land under the Homestead law.

— A new paper to expound Union principles and support the policy of the government is about to be established in Louisville.

— One of the relatives of Aaron Burr has just applied for a pension due for services by Burr in our army!

— Blondin has gone into partnership with a wine merchant.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in need of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.
DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.
By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed in the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.
Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal taint, whether in the blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the zone of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Painful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Dr D.. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those complaints caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; confusion of ideas, weakness of the memory, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capottes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!
To Females in Delicate Health.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
In all cases, or No Charges Made.
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

☞ $5—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

BOSTON, April 7, 1862. eodly.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.
The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the over plate larger than usual. The oven is recovered with plater, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be confined day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, we feel sure be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The difficulty heretofore aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are forced by the ascension of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, and the ashing of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes. Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

[Communication.]

Messrs. Editors:—On farther inquiry I am informed that it was not Gen. Fessenden who adopted seven poor children; but the eminent and beloved Professor Upham of Bowdoin College. He not only adopted and educated them, but put them on the road to be eminent and as honorably useful in the world as himself.

That the moral may not lose its force, or receive an injury, will the Argus, whose locality may give it a chance to know, respond and say whether this statement, or any part of it, is apochryphal or not. We never yet intended to write anything but what was true, and if a statement should prove an error, we endeavor to correct it on the first opportunity. B.

SMUGGLING BY A MILLINER.—The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Press tells the following story:

The recent agitation of Custom House matters has brought to the surface some of the curiosities of the Revenue Department. The following incident, vouched for upon good authority, is not uninteresting. Some time since the baggage of a well-dressed, queenly-looking women was examined by an official, and, among other articles, were found several well-worn silk dresses, fully flounced with Honiton lace of the finest texture and yellowest hue. Now, as genuine Honiton, of this quality, is worth only about one hundred dollers per yard, the official's eyes dilated to the size of number four saucers. The queenly female suggested that she was wealthy and could afford such trifling luxuries of self adornment; still, the official was incredulous.

After much consultation, the trunks of my lady were carted off to the public store, and the whole matter fully investigated. The result, to employ the words of Young Sam, "was stunnin". My lady proved to be a well-known New York modiste, who was in the habit of purchasing honitons in Paris, and flouncing her dress therewith. Now, as a few stray countesses occasionally find there way to this port, with wardrobes of a gorgeous quality, this fraudulent sinner had, therefore passed her own most valuable collection beneath the noses of the officials without let or hindrance, by skulking in the shadow of the aristocracy. In this instance, however she was trapped, and, at the end of the investigation serenely handed over her check for ten thousand dollars, in payment of all demands for accumulated duties.

☞ The new iron-clad steamer Sangamon, which broke down two or three days since on the Potomac, en route for Charleston, was discovered on Saturday night to be sinking at the wharf. The fire engines were run out, and after three hours' hard labor the water was sufficiently lowered in her hold to allow the firemen to build a fire and start the steam pumps. As the vessel is perfectly new, no little sensation has been occasioned, and a commission has been appointed to investigate the circumstances at once.

— John W. Williams, of the U. S. Regulars, who has been brought from Richmond, received three wounds in the West in the early part of the war, but recovered and returned to his duty. At Chicamauga a piece of shell struck him in the face, passing beneath the bridge of his nose, cutting out his right eye and destroying the sight of the other. At the same battle his father and three brothers were killed, leaving of the family only himself and an aged mother, who resides in Philadelphia.

— It has been hinted in Paris that the visit of Eugenie to Spain has a semi-political object. Should the Austrian Archduke decline the proffered crown of Mexico, a Spanish prince may be accepted able to 'nche nephew of his uncle.' This would be flattering to the feeling of Spain, and perhaps secure the joint military guaranty which he has looked for in other quarters. Such an arrangement, it is thought, must involve the protection of Cuba in the event of a war.

— The payments for all branches of the public service for the fiscal year ending with the last of June were $903,000,000, of which amount $600,000,000 were for the army, and $66,000,000 for the Navy.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till your agent came to me with your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The Army of the Potomac did not move on Monday. The rebels, in the meantime, are strengthening and enlarging their works on the Rapidan.

A Morris Island letter of the 19th says, 19 shell were fired into Charleston on the 17th inst., falling into the most populous part of the city. On Sunday night a very heavy fire was continuously poured into our batteries from the rebel works. The rebels were building a bomb proof in the ruins of Fort Sumter. The bombardment still continued.

Morris Island letters state that Seabrook Island had been captured by our forces during a reconnoissance, but was afterwards abandoned. We now picket in the immediate vicinity of Charleston, in addition to Folley and Morris Islands, Long Island, Coles, Keawha, Seabrook, Black and Edisto. The enemy's pickets still confront us on John's Island. The works on Sullivan's Island are strongly garrisoned. During Sunday night the rebel water batteries on that Island opened with terrific violence on Batteries Gregg and Chatfield, but without damage to the forts or garrison. On Monday our batteries opened heavily. Four Monitors participated. The Montauk dismounted one of the heavy guns on Fort Moultrie, throwing it entirely from its carriage to a distance of several feet. Some time afterwards the Lehigh went aground. At the call of the Admiral, a number of landsmen from the Nahant volunteered, and in an open boat threw a hawser to some of the crew of the Lehigh, who came outside the turret to receive it. The hawser was made secure, and the vessel hauled into deep water. One shot struck immediately astern of the boat occupied by the volunteers, all of whom Admiral Dahlgren has promoted for their bravery to the rank of Quartermasters in the service. The rebels have developed a new battery by tearing down the Moultrie House, behind which they have been building it, flying the yellow flag in the meanwhile to shield their operations. It opened with heavy guns on Sunday night in conjunction with all the other rebel batteries, and also aided by a rebel ram. No damage was done.

A Natchez letter of the 14th inst. announces a fight near there between the 5th Mississippi colored regiment and Adams's rebel cavalry. At first, our forces fell back, but afterwards the rebels had to retire. Our loss was four killed and seven wounded.—The retreating enemy left several carbines and guns. They took several prisoners, all of whom escaped, except one, whom they beat to death.

A Newbern correspondent of the New Bedford Standard writes that the North Carolina (rebel) troops are coming into our lines in squads daily, and many of them enlisting under the Union banner.

A Washington dispatch states that highly favorably advices had been received from the West. The rebels had been foiled and a heavy defeat of the rebels was rumored in official circles. Other dispatches, previously received, state that the rebels were falling back, and that their artillery had been withdrawn from our front. 200 rebel prisoners had been taken by our troops, who charged up Orchard Ridge, carrying the rifle-pits under a severe musketry and artillery fire. A great battle between Grant and Bragg was expected on Tuesday.

MISSING SKIPPER.—Capt. John McMullen, of schooner Edward A. DeHart, of Georgetown, Me., is among the missing and it is supposed that he has absconded from Gloucester, Mass., with some thousands of dollars belonging to the owners of the vessel, although in the story, as it appears in the Cape Ann Advertiser, there is as much that indicates foul play as a defalcation.

☞ The Piscataquis Observer says that, on Wednesday a big freshet was in operation in Dover, Me., and the road at the Cove Bridge completely submerged, at least three feet under water; the Saw Mill shut down, the Factory and Foundry shut up; other water powers ditto. The editor, in his forgetfulness of the promise, accompanied by the "bow in the clouds," says the storm has but just one end to it.

— The commander of the post at Nashville has closed the distilleries in the counties of Stewart, Montgomery, Robertson and Cheatham, Tenn., on account of the scarcity of grain.

— A Washington letter to the Post says:

"The Government has determined that no further exchanges of prisoners shall take place until the rebel authorities will agree to an exchange without reservation. Colored soldiers and officers who commanded them, now in rebel hands, or at least captured by the rebels, must be accounted for."

— A vigilance committee has been formed in San Francisco, and five men have been hung.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD.—"This (well says the Transcript) is a road in whose prosperity the public has an interest no less than the stockholders, for it is one of the greatest passenger railways in the country, and travellers always associate success in the financial management of a railroad with safety and comfort to the passengers. We are glad, therefore, to learn that the Eastern has, during the past year, been doing an unusually large and profitable business; and certainly none who have travelled on it can have failed to notice the quiet efficiency of its management, and the masterly manner with which the thousand details of its superintendence have been conducted. The condition and popularity of the road reflect the highest credit on the President, Mr. George M. Browne, and the Superintendent, Mr. Prescott."

☞ John Minor Botts has written a letter to the Richmond Examiner, in which he contradicts all the reports of his having declared openly for the Union. He claims to be a very conservative man, having done nothing of which the Confederate Government need complain, though they did keep him eight weeks closely confined and solitary in "a filthy negro jail." Evidently he thinks the Confederacy no great shakes, while he thinks highly of the Union as it was. He closes thus:—

I cannot be induced to swerve one hair's breath from the line of conduct that my own judgment and conscience may dictate, which is to take no lot, part or share in the responsibility that rests upon those who have brought this whirlpool of desolation and ruin on my unfortunate country. But if to adhere firmly and consistently to the opinions and principles that I have maintained for 30 years, and if preferring to live as I did before the war to living as I have done since the war, makes me a traitor, then a traitor's life let me live, and a traitor's death let me die.

☞ According to information in possession of the Navy Department, the Banshee, captured on the 12th, was built at the yard of Jones, Quignan & Co., in Liverpool, and launched in the latter part of November, 1862. She is a paddle-wheeled steamer, and called a "steel boat," the plates used in her construction being of steel 3-4 of an inch thick, which are said to be equal to iron plates of an inch thick. She is 220 feet long, 20 feet broad and 12 feet deep. Her bottom is flat and her hull is divided into four water-tight compartments. Her engines are oscillating, of 120-horse power and so constructed as to be under the decks when fully loaded. She draws only 8 feet of water. She had a cargo of coffee, tobacco, dry goods, rope, &c.

☞ Intelligence from Nashville informs us that Major Geo. L. Stearns, of Boston, is organizing a negro regiment at Gallatin, another at Colombia, one at Murfreesboro', and one at Clarksville. He musters one hundred and two men into each company, including four experienced cooks. In six weeks he raised one full regiment, and six hundred men in another. Enlistments at Gallatin and Colombia, on the borders of Kentucky, somehow or other rope in a great many Kentucky slaves, and it is said to be quite difficult to distinguish them from the Tennessee article. Major Stearns is gradually being charged with the support of crowds of impoverished women and children, who come within our lines. His purpose is to put them on abandoned rebel farms around Nashville.

☞ The sentence of John K. Steeler to imprisonment in the Albany Penitentiary for five years, for a fraud perpetrated upon the Government, is an evidence that very stringent measures are to be adopted to check the evils which have been demoralizing the country. The convicted man, in this instance, was a contractor, who had agreed to furnish to the Subsistence Department pure coffee for the use of the soldiers. At first he furnished a pure article, but chemical analysis showed that he subsequently supplied an adulterated article, and upon trial and conviction he has been sentenced to share with others an ignominious fate, for having endeavored to enrich himself at the cost of the soldiers in the field.

—— Lieut. Gardner, Adjutant of 14th regiment, has been appointed Major.

—— The Dover city election took place on Tuesday; there was little opposition to the Republican candidates.

—— The Portland Press states that a young child of Mr. Jerey, in North Conway, was drowned near his father's house, by the rapid rise of the water, during the late freshet.

— There is no truth whatever in the Cincinnati Enquirer's statement that Sec. Chase's resignation is in the hands of the President, sent in view of the resignation of Judge Taney, and for the succession to his place on the Supreme Court Bench.

— Gold declined to 150 1-2 in New York on Tuesday.

EPIGRAM.

"What end shall I put to my poem," M. cries,
"A finale that all will admire?"
"I've read it with patience; the end I advise, is to put—it straightway in the fire!"

— It is stated semi-officially from Washington that we have 34,000 rebel prisoners in our possession.

— The County Canvassers have decided that Mr. McCann was elected Judge of the Superior Court, in New York.

— A letter from the headquarters of the Army of the Potomac says an order has been issued that all guerrillas captured are to be immediately shot.

— Mr. A. C. York, of Yarmouth, dropped dead in a depot in Portland on Monday, of disease of the heart. It is stated that a brother of the deceased was found dead in his barn a few days since.

— Rev. James Coyle, Catholic, died on Saturday morning, in Boston, at the age of thirty years. His disease was induced by exposure while laboring among the conscripts on Long Island.

— The avails of Mr. Beecher's address at the "welcome home," extended to him by the Kings County War Fund Committee, on Thursday night, at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, amounted to $2300.

— Shamrock, forty years old, the favorite horse of the late Col. Sam. Colt of Hartford, which was kept for many years past for the good done in earlier years, died on Friday. He was probably the oldest animal of his species in the country.

— A letter in the Chicago Tribune says that Jeff. Davis has signed a large number of blank commissions, and the rebel Secretary of War has boxed them up and sent a Colonel to visit Missouri to fill up the blanks with names of such persons as will engage to raise guerrilla companies.

A Card.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 23, 1863.

MR. MILLER:—Sir: Please insert the following in the Morning Chronicle:

During the first of the month the owner of the rowboat Gazelle challenged the owner of the Oliver to row a race from the Bassons to the middle of Portsmouth Bridge. The race was rowed on the 7th, and the Olivet beat the Gazelle 36 seconds, which was considered a fair heat by all concerned; but when the Gazelle came to the Navy Yard this morning, it was noticed by the crew of the Olivet that there was a Dunghill Rooster on the bows of the Gazelle, for what purpose is unknown to the owner or crew of the Olivet. Now we would ask those concerned in placing the Rooster there, if it was meant for a challenge to us to row again, or if it refers to anything concerning the race

If they are desirous to row again, we are ready and willing to oblige them; the arrangements to be made between the owners of the boats, as regards distance, time and the selecting the crews for the boats (of which you shall be duly informed).

If they do not wish to row, we hope they will be like their Rooster—show their heads, but stop their crowing. OLIVET.

To "Blowers!"

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

Having been repeatedly informed, by various persons, that some of the trade in our neighborhood have sought diligently and by various means (such as experimenting, analysing, &c.) to discover the ingredients and cry down the merits of my

Lightning Hair Dye,

Thus demonstrating it to be a good article, (for we never knew a poor article to be counterfeited) now, to all such persons, "or any other man," I hereby issue the following

Challenge.

I will deposit in the hands of any honorable, disinterested person, the sum of
a like amount being deposited by the competing party; if I fail to color in less time, in better shape, or the dye to wear longer and with less inconvenience to the person operated upon, with my Lightning Hair Dye—they using their own, or any other dye they choose—the longest, thickest, heaviest and hardest whiskers that can be produced; then the winner shall receive the One Hundred Dollars.

This Challenge will remain open one week. If not responded to within that time it will be withdrawn, and all jealous and evil-disposed persons requested (ever after) to hold their peace; although I would take it distinctly understood that I attach no importance to their statements, as I can produce testimonials from some of the MOST RESPECTABLE PERSONS, in this (not miles away, with doubtful names, but at home in our own city and neighborhood,) of the superiority of over all other preparations, combinations and abominations termed

HAIR DYES:
and I would take this opportunity to inform ALL PERSONS
that I keep constantly on hand and can furnish in any quantity—from one drop to a pint, from one cent's worth to any amount of dollars—

Peremptory Sale
—OF—
Valuable Wood and Timber Lands.

I shall sell at Public Auction, by directions contained in the will of the late John Parley, deceased, on WEDNESDAY, the ninth day of December, 1863, at 10 o'clock A. M., on the premises—

One hundred and sixty-six acres of Land, situate in the towns of Auburn and Candia, N. H., about one mile from the station of the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad in Auburn, and five miles from the city of Manchester. This land contains a heavy growth of good wood, interspersed with oak timber, and will be offered in two lots.

At 2 o'clock P. M. on the same day, after the above sale, will be sold on the premises, a Lot situate in Auburn, on the highway near the residence of Mr. Geo. W. Severance, about three miles from the Manchester station of the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad. This lot is covered with a thrifty growth of chestnut, oak and pine, and contains thirty-eight acres.

Terms of the sale are cash. Ten per cent. of the purchase money will be required to be paid on the completion of the sale, and the balance within five days, within which time the deeds will be ready for delivery.

Plans of the lots may be seen at the dwelling-house of Mr. JOHN MOODY, in Auburn, and at the office of SAMUEL N. BELL, Esq., in Manchester.

The quantity and quality of wood and timber upon these lots, their situation near Manchester, and the facilities for reaching good markets by the way of the railroad near which they are located, commend this as an opportunity seldom offered for a remunerative investment.

The sale being expressly provided for in the will of the deceased, and in accordance with his directions ordered by the Trustees, will be positive.

For further particulars inquire of MOSES DORMAN, Roxbury, Mass.; JOHN KILLAM and GEO. W. CHAPLIN, Georgetown; J. H. HOWNE, of Boston, Mass.; or of WILLIAM H. HACKETT, Auctioneer.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. 9290

CITY ELECTION.

Full boards of City and Ward officers for Portsmouth were elected on Tuesday, Nov. 24. The weather was favorable in the morning, but rainy and unpleasant in the afternoon and evening. The meetings were remarkably quiet, and, except in Ward 3, they were something like a Quaker meeting. The issue was National Politics; and the result is a very strong majority for the Union ticket, and for the support of the administration in putting down the rebellion.

Hon. Jonathan Dearborn is re-elected Mayor by an increased majority, having 854 votes; last year he had 705. Albert R. Hatch, Esq., his competitor this year, has 435; the Democratic candidate last year, Hon. John R. Reding, had 479, and there were 4 scattering votes. Mr. Dearborn's majority last year was 222; this year it is 419. The whole vote last year was 1188; this year, 1289.

☞ Mrs. M. E. A. Nowell, one of the agents of the New England Soldiers' Aid Society, has been on a tour through New England, soliciting funds for the support of this benevolent institution. Mrs. N. is a resident of Philadelphia, where this Society is located. During her stay in this city on Monday last, she visited the Navy Yard and in a couple of hours collected the sum of $136.65. The Commandant of the Yard responded with his usual liberality, as well as some other officers, and workmen, who are seldom slow in extending substantial sympathy towards all such charitable objects.

☞ We learn that several attempts to break into stores in New Castle have been made within a few nights past, but the burglars have been thus far unsuccessful in obtaining booty. It is said that the guilty parties are known, and are being watched.

[For the Chronicle.]

Messrs. Editors:—I am glad to see that a course of lyceum lectures is to be given in this city this winter. As a general thing, we have too much of the light class of entertainment and not enough of that which is instructive. A good series of lectures always leave their good influences on the public, and the audiences of a lyceum course will not go away without derived some benefit from the lectures they hear.—Chaste artistic music is also a gratifying addition to a lecture, and I see we are to have such in the proposed course. I trust every citizen will feel it his duty to help along this undertaking by purchasing tickets at an early day. D.

A lady living in a town near Portsmouth has lately given birth to two girls and three boys, and two each of both sexes are alive.—Nashua Gazette.

Query—Is the mother alive?—Exeter News Letter.

The above originated from a squib published in this paper some days since; and the attention of our friends of the Nashua Gazette, Exeter News Letter, et id omne genus is called to the original article in the Chronicle—and they will see that it did not state that the five children were given at one birth. We take pleasure in stating that the "mother is alive," and that the eldest child is 12 years of age, and the youngest 8 months. Query—Who is sold?

QUAKER.

☞ The New England Vocalists, who bear a good name elsewhere, will make their first appearance in this city, at the Temple on Thanksgiving evening.

INTERESTING TO PARENTS AND TEACHERS.—Messrs. C. H. Wheeler & Co., 5 and 7 Essex street, Boston, are agents for Manger's Liquid Slating for Blackboards—and they have a very interesting variety of goods slated with the same material. Their Leaf Slates are a beautiful article and worthy of notice. Send for a circular.

Volunteers for the Army should not leave the city until supplied with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT. For sores, scurvy, wounds, small pox, fevers and bowel complaints, these medicines are the best in the world. Every French soldier uses them. Only 25 cents per box. 211

To every barrel of Flour you can make thirty pounds more Bread or Biscuit (and much better) by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, than by yeast fermentation or any other Saleratus.—It is perfectly healthy, will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs, and cure dyspeptic persons. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try one paper, and you will be convinced. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

The Present City Government,

Overseers of the Poor, and the City Government Elect, and all others who feel an interest in the welfare of the poor of the city,—are respectfully invited to visit the Alms House on Thanksgiving Day, from 11 to 12 o'clock. LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes. The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.

We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

Morning Chronicle.

— The Copperheads, who make so much noise about soldiers being permitted to vote, seem to think that the only right of the soldier which they are bound to respect is the right to shoot and be shot at; and a man who is willing to die that his country may live, is unfitted to declare through the ballot-box who shall administer the precious legacy which he is to leave for his children, consecrated as it is by his blood, and glorified as it will be by his devoted patriotism.

— A breech-loading, eight-inch gun, weighing twenty thousand pounds, has been tried at the proving grounds in Trenton, N. J. It threw one hundred and fifty pound shot, loaded with sixteen pounds of powder. The experiments, it is said, establish the invention of this gun, as another triumph of American ingenuity. Nothing is said as to the means employed to prevent the expansion of the metal, which has, up to this time, proved disastrous to the practical use of breech-loading ordnance.

SENSIBLE JAPANESE.—The Paris Patrie publishes extracts from what purports to be a journal of the Japanese Embassadors, printed on their return to Jeddo. Speaking of the fair portion of the community, the Ambassadors say: "Of the French women some are very handsome, for example, the Empress. They are, however, in general, far less so than the American."

A Positive and Specific Remedy
For Diseases of the

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the APPETITE into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcerous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for Men, Women, or Children.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which medicine invariably removes, often follow IMPOTENCY, LUNACY, EPILEPTIC FITS, in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "dreadful diseases?"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION.
Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION, ONCE AFFECTED WITH ORGANIC WEAKNESS,

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to keep correct all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February on leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in need of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.
DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of this complaint, caused by secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by this habit of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Consumption, the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your complaint. Dr. Dow has also Dr. Le Franc's Capotites, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to it. Female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of a delicate nature, having by long and unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P S —Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.
BOSTON, April 7, 1863. eodly.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plates, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meat is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as the "MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for the failure, the combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

A NEW PROJECT.—The present high price of coal is suggesting many expedients for economizing its use. The Philadelphia City Councils have appointed a committee to inquire into the feasibility of warming houses from a central source, and supplying the citizens with heat as gas is now supplied.

Horses have to suffer starvation in war as well as the men. An officer, arrived at Chattanooga, inquired of a negro where he could find accommodations for his horse.—"Don't know, sah, 'bout the 'commodations. De fence rails is all gone, and dar ain't nothin' for 'em to eat any more, only a few barn doors, an' we want dem for the General's horses."

— Assistant Quartermaster Chapman gives notice through the St. Louis papers that the Government will no longer pay extravagant prices for hay. If a good article of baled hay does not come forward at twenty-five dollars per ton, the Government will seize it wherever found, send it to St. Louis or Cairo, and deduct the transportation from the above price.

— Stephen Wetmore of Perrysburg, Md., an old man of 72, was on his deathbed at the time of the late election, but was earnest to vote once more for the Union cause. On learning this, the judges of election took the ballot box to his bedside, and for the last time, he voted for the Union and for freedom.

— A remarkable petrification of an entire tree was lately discovered in the Baltimore mine, at Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania, by the miners, while blasting for coal. The piece of trunk taken out weighs five thousand pounds, and still there remain the roots and the top of the tree embedded in the coal.

— Minnesota promises to become a large wool growing State. One farmer reports his wool crop this year as follows: From one hundred and fifteen sheep he sheared seven hundred and three pounds of washed wool, being about an average of six pounds and two ounces a head. The sheep are mostly merinos. Immense flocks of sheep have been introduced into the State during the year.

— The order of General Schofield for the enlistment of colored men into the army is generally regarded in Missouri as the death blow to slavery in that State. The order is more stringent than that applied by the Secretary of War to Maryland and Delaware. It dispenses with the owners' consent from the first, instead of requiring the consent of loyal owners during the first month, and then dispensing with it, if necessary.

— The N. Y. Tribune, speaking of the report of the visit of Mrs. Lincoln's mother to the South, says: "The mother of Mrs. Lincoln died when Mrs. L. was a child only three years old, and the 'Mrs. Todd of Kentucky' is the step-mother of Mrs. Lincoln, and the mother of her half brothers, who have figured in the rebel army."

— Rev. Daniel Foster, writing an account of the battle of the Lookout Mountain, in which he participated, remarks that the rout of 2000 of Longstreet's veterans, behind strong entrenchments, by five hundred of our men, shows that we have learned the art of war. Each man fought as a way worthy of Bunker Hill.

— The friends of emancipation in the Missouri Legislature are maturing a bill calling a Convention for the purpose of recommending an alteration of the Constitution immediately abrogating slavery. Although opposition is expected in the Senate it is thought the measure will pass, and that the State Convention will be held in April next.

☞ A barn owned by Charles Elder, who resides at East Machias, Me., was burned Sunday evening, 16th inst., together with some five tons of hay, three cows, two oxen and a horse. Cause of fire unknown. Mr. Elder is at present in California.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1863. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1863.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26o

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1863.

THANKSGIVING.

In accordance with the request which has been made by the President of the United States, and by the Governor of New Hampshire, this day is set apart for a National and State Thanksgiving,—and the request is to be complied with in this city by the general opening of the churches, where it is to be hoped good congregations of earnest worshippers and thankful hearts will be assembled.

With our thanks to the Giver of all good, for a fruitful season and for national success in re-establishing order in many of our ports and cities, we must mingle our sorrows for many precious lives poured out; and our sympathies with bereaved families; and we should also add our fervent prayers for a speedy end of the rebellion, the establishment of liberty, and the restoration of peace.

The grand National Thanksgiving Hymn may be found on the fourth page of this day's paper.

THE REBELLION.

The rebels have again started their semi-monthly reports of Federal defeats in Louisiana.

A Knoxville letter of the 15th, to the Tribune, states that the rebels on Thursday surrounded Marysville and made prisoners of nearly all of the 11th Kentucky cavalry. The 1st Kentucky are also reported in rebel hands.

Gen. Thomas made a reconnoissance in force on Monday at Chattanooga, in which he took 200 prisoners, and occupied two high knolls in front of our left, half way between our lines and Missionary Ridge—a position of great importance.

Gen. Grant is at work. He officially reports that on Tuesday, Gen. Granger's and Gen. Palmer's corps, supported by Gen. Howard's, were advanced directly in front of our fortifications. They drove the enemy's pickets and carried his first line of rifle pits between Chattanooga and 'Citors' creek. On Wednesday, Gen. Hooker, carried the north side of Lookout Mountain with a small loss on our side, and a loss to the enemy of 500 or 600 prisoners,—killed and wounded not reported. There was continuous fighting from 12 o'clock until after nightfall, but our troops gallantly repulsed every attempt to retake the position.—Gen. Sherman crossed the Tennessee river Wednesday before daylight, and carried the north extremity of Missionary Ridge. The troops from Lookout Valley carried the point of the Mountain, and now hold the eastern slope and point high up. Our loss is not heavy. Gen. Hooker reports 2000 prisoners taken, besides which a small number has fallen into our hands from Missionary Ridge.

On Thursday night Bragg evacuated the summit of Lookout Mountain, and our troops occupied it. He still held the rifle pits on the base of Missionary Ridge. Everything was working to the best advantage for Gen. Grant at last accounts. Bragg, it was thought, was endeavoring to get away, but would probably be prevented by a flank movement. Gen. Grant has taken 2150 prisoners.

Everything is progressing as well with Gen. Burnside as could be desired. He has been able not only to hold his position without loss, but to keep open all his communications. It is reported that forces are being withdrawn from his front to reinforce Bragg.

—Gold fell 4 per cent. in New York, Thursday.

— Commodore Wm. S. Walker, U. S. N., died in Boston on Wednesday, aged 70.

—The city authorities of Biddeford, have appropriated $1000 for repairing its side walks, for which they will receive the thanks of all its citizens.

— A clergyman in New York has sued his aunt for $5,000 for hitting him in the back with a stone because he couldn't pay his board.

— Day's mill, on the Kennebunk river, was carried away with the bridge near it by the late freshets; the mill comprised grist, saw, shingle mill, &c.

— A Chicago man went home drunk, and found his wife drunk also. They had a free fight, and the result was a coroner's inquest on the woman's body.

— A contemporary recommends any great artist who wishes to get up a painting to be called the picture of desolation, to get the rebel Confederacy to sit for him.

— The N. Y. World's Washington dispatch says army circles in town are somewhat agitated over rumors of a defalcation on the part of a well known commissary official.

— The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser says that rumors are afloat that certain merchants of Boston and New York, who have been selling supplies, which they must have known were for the rebels, (although sent to Halifax or Bermuda,) are to be arrested and punished.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Concord, and other towns in the State, have filled their quotas.

—— In a street fight among some small boys in Manchester on Tuesday afternoon, one of them had his elbow fractured.

—— Twenty tons of poultry were shipped from Wolfborough for Boston, on Friday and Saturday of last week.

—— John B. Gough, Esq., will deliver a lecture before the Concord Ladies' Seamen's Friend Society, at Eagle Hall, on Thanksgiving evening. Subject — "Eloquence and Orators."

—— The publisher of the Concord Patriot wants $10,000 due him from subscribers. He says it is in the pockets of three or four thousand of them, in amounts ranging from one to ten dollars.

—— David Putnam, Jr., of South Lyndsborough, raised this season a pumpkin that weighed 112 pounds. Mr. Putnam calls it a pumpkin because it had the pumpkin shape, though in color it resembles a squash. It measures six feet around it one way, and five and a half the other.

—— The Grand Jury in Grafton County found a bill against Thos. Wier for the murder, on the 13th day of July last, of Elder Caleb M. Dyer, the head of the Enfield Shakers. At the request of the prisoner's counsel the case was continued until March next.

—— Perley telegraphs from Washington that the War office has declined the proposition of the Governor of New Hampshire, presented by Cols. Tappan and Head and L. D. Stevens, to raise two regiments, but will consent when the Granite State regiments in the field are filled, as New Hampshire has furnished more men in proportion under the late draft than any other state. Our regiments do not lack many men.

—— Sheriff Hanson Beede arrested at Holderness, on Saturday night, one Hubbard, a deserter from the 2nd regiment.—He was taken from his bed. While the sheriff was attempting to put him in a wagon, Hubbard dodged behind it, drew a pistol and fired at Beede. The ball just grazed his head, but did no serious injury.—Hubbard was subsequently secured, taken to the Laconia jail, and probably will be returned to his regiment. He is said to be a native of Warner, and enlisted at Boscawen.

☞ A gentleman who recently arrived in Vicksburg from Selma, where he had been employed in the arsenal which was removed some time since from Jackson, Mississippi, gives the following account of affairs in Alabama:

Since the fall of Vicksburg over thirty thousand muskets were brought to the arsenal for renovation, having been collected in the woods and country from Jackson to Meridian and beyond, where they had been thrown away from time to time by deserters from Bragg's and Pemberton's armies.

25,000 Austrian and Enfield rifles have been received at the arsenal from Charleston in the last two months, having run the blockade, and becoming rusty in the transit, were brought there for examination and repairs.

Three hundred and fifty workmen are now engaged in the arsenal in repairing and remodelling arms, and fifty others in making cartridges and filling shells.

The iron foundry at Selma is actively engaged in the casting of guns, from six-pounders to those of ten inch bore. About three are cast per day. A large majority of them, however, burst upon testing. Few can be fired over six or eight times with safety.

A majority of the negroes driven into the State from Mississippi are working in the coal mines in Talladega county, for which the rebel government pays twenty dollars a ton, delivered at the Alabama and Tennessee River railroad, six miles distant.

The people are generally in favor of conscription of the negroes. Several papers have come out in advocacy of the abolition of slavery, upon the ground that emancipation would have the effect of gaining an earlier foreign recognition of the Confederacy.

The crops of corn, sweet potatoes, and peas are more abundant than they have been for several years past.

On the 12th of October the bodies of six men were found hanging side by side in the woods, near Talladega, at which place there is a large conscript camp. It is supposed these men were hanged for resistance to the conscription.

Two women were publicly hung at Talladega on the 13th for refusing to divulge the hiding places of their husbands who had fled at the approach of the conscripting officers. A perfect reign of terror exists in this part of the country. The woods are full of refugees trying to evade the relentless conscripting officers.

All men from the age of eighteen to forty-five, regardless of wealth or station, are conscripted for the Confederate army. Another conscription for State service has been made of boys from sixteen to eighteen, and men from forty-five to sixty, who are at all able to hold up a musket and are not otherwise in the employment of the government.

— A contemptible Northern copperhead insulted the Union soldiers in presence of Dan Sickles, in New York, the other day, and Dan broke his crutch over the scoundrel's head.

— The Louisville Journal says: "We have a strong commonication in favor of peace upon rebel terms. The road to a dishonorable peace doesn't lie through Kentucky."

A Bank Clerk Comes to Grief.—In the Union Bank of New York there was, until a few days ago a clerk of somewhat prepossessing appearance and manners. He had long been in the service of the bank, and was adjudged to be above suspicion. One day during the present week, a package of $20,000 was missed from its proper place, and after diligent search no trace of it could be discovered. In this emergency, the services of Mr. Hays, the experienced bank detective, were called into requisition. This gentleman, after taking the "points" of the case, proceeded to "work" them up. Such are his facilities for obtaining information that, in a very few hours, he returned to the bank with the positive evidence of the guilt of the offender. The clerk was summoned into the presence of the bank officers, when Mr. Hays charged him with being the criminal. The offender's indignation knew no bounds, and he even threatened the detective with violence, but was advised to calm himself. He was then told that the evidence was clear against him, but that if he made restitution the matter would be kept quiet. A few moments' consideration convinced him that the advice was good. He agreed to accompany the officer to the hiding-place of his stolen treasure, and Mr. Hays soon returned with the money; that portion which had been expended having been refunded by the clerk's bondsmen.

☞ Certain railroad and mail changes, designed to render the travel from Washington northward more easy and expeditious, went into effect on Monday. Four daily trains, at improved speed, will run in each direction, between New York and Washington, for through travel and mails. One or two of these trains each way will pass through Philadelphia without change of cars between Jersey City and Washington. Before the first of January all the trains—both freight and passenger—are expected to run between New York and Washington without any change whatever, using locomotive power, by the new road built around the northern limits of the city of Philadelphia, between Kensington and Gray's Ferry. The passengers and mails in Washington connecting in New York for points North or East, will leave Washington at 5 P. M.; but all New York travel proper can take the sleeping car at 8:30 P. M., at Washington, and reach New York in ten hours precisely, without interruption or change.

☞ An order was recently issued that volunteers now in the service, who re-enlist as veteran volunteers, shall have a furlough of at least 30 days previous to the expiration of their original enlistment. In going to and from their respective States and homes, the veteran volunteers furloughed will be furnished with transportation by Quartermasters. When three-fourths of a regiment or company re-enlist, the volunteers so enlisted may be furloughed in a body for at least thirty days, to go home with their officers to their respective States and districts, re-organize and recruit, and the individuals of regiments or companies who do not re-enlist, shall be assigned to duty in other companies or regiments until the expiration of their time of service.

☞ A San Francisco dispatch states that an impromptu vigilance committee forced open the Los Angelos jail on Saturday morning, taking therefrom five prisoners charged with murder, highway robbery, and horse stealing. The committee then put the prisoners under the corridor in front of the jail and hung them. This done, all suspicious characters were warned to leave the county within so many hours, or take the consequences. Business was suspended in Los Angelos on the occasion, but the dispatch says the whole affair passed off with little or no excitement.

— The cargoes of seven large steamers, which ran the blockade off Wilmington in one night, are advertised in the rebel papers for sale.

— Albert H. Gallatin, M. A., M. D., a grandson of Albert Gallatin, has been appointed to the Professorship of Natural Sciences in Norwich (Vt.) University.

Peremptory Sale

—OF—

Valuable Wood and Timber Lands.

I shall sell at Public Auction, by directions contained in the will of the late John Ferley, deceased, on WEDNESDAY, the ninth day of December, 1863, at 10 o'clock A. M., on the premises—

One hundred and sixty-six acres of Land, situate in the towns of Auburn and Candia, N. H., about one mile from the station of the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad in Auburn, and five miles from the city of Manchester. This land contains a heavy growth of hard wood, interspersed with oak timber, and will be offered in two lots.

At 2 o'clock P. M. on the same day, after the above sale, will be sold on the premises, a Lot situate in Auburn, on the highway near the residence of Mr. Geo. W. Severance, about three miles from the Massabesic station of the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad. This lot is covered with a thrifty growth of chestnut, oak and pine, and contains thirty-eight acres.

Terms of the sale are cash. Ten per cent. of the purchase money will be required to be paid on the completion of the sale, and the balance within thirty days, within which time the deeds will be ready for delivery.

Plans of the lots may be seen at the dwelling-house of Mr. JOHN MOORE, in Auburn, and at the office of SAMUEL N. BELL, Esq., in Manchester.

The quantity and quality of wood and timber upon these lots, their situation near Manchester, and the facilities for reaching good markets by the way of the railroad near which they are located, commend this as an opportunity seldom offered for a remunerative investment.

The sale being expressly provided for in the will of the deceased, and in accordance with his directions ordered by the Trustees, will be positive.

For further particulars inquire of MOSES DORMAN, Roxbury, Mass.; JOHN KILLAM and GEO. W. CHAPLIN, Georgetown; J. H. TOWNE, at Naumkeag Bank, Salem, Mass.; or of WILLIAM H. HACKETT, Auctioneer.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and bowels, and as a Family Pill.

Local.

☞ Schooner Pocahontas, Keen, from Bremen, Me., 23d inst., for Boston, went ashore at Foss' Point, Rye Beach, on Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock, in a thick rain storm and blowing very heavily, and is nearly a total loss. Nothing will be saved of the vessel but spars, rigging, &c. Her cargo consisted of about 800 qts. fish and about a dozen barrels of fish oil. The fish will be a total loss; the oil was saved.—There was no insurance on the vessel, and a portion only, if any, of the cargo is insured. The vessel belonged to the master. The Captain reports that he saw White Island (Isles of Shoals) Light about half past 5 o'clock, steered for what he supposed to be barbor light, but what proved to be a light on shore;—soon discovered breakers, but before he could put about, drove ashore.

☞ Services appropriate to the day will be held this morning at the usual hour in all the churches of this city, except the Middle Street Baptist Church.

At the Court Street Christian Church, a collection will be taken up for the benefit of the U. S. Christian Commission.

At the Unitarian Church, a collection will be taken for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission.

☞ Let those whose tables are already bountifully provided for, remember the wife, children and mother of the soldier. While the husband and father is far away, sacrificing health, life, everything, to perpetuate our institutions and defend the Government that protects us, the wife and children may be scantily provided with the blessings that will be so abundantly supplied for many who remain at home. If there is any one class of persons who are entitled to a generous remembrance on Thanksgiving day, it is those who are dependant upon the private soldier. Who will encourage the heart and nerve the arm of the soldier, by showing a regard for the comfort of his family?

THE LYCEUM.—We learn that the tickets for the lyceum are selling rapidly.—With such an array of talented speakers and the musical entertainment thrown in, the association ought to dispose of a thousand tickets. But it is regretted that the Temple will seat only from six to eight hundred persons. Those who purchase tickets early will be sure of a chance to attend this interesting course. A limited number of tickets are for sale.

☞ The Boston trains were about an hour late last evening on their arrival in this city. For the past ten years, as we are told by a gentleman well informed in such matters, there has not been a single instance in which the cars have not been at least an hour late on the night before Thanksgiving. The unusually large number of passengers "going home" occasions this delay.

☞ At a meeting of Physicians, held in this city on the 6th inst., it was unanimously resolved to present accounts in future semi-annually, viz: in January and July; also, resolved to raise the fee from $1.00 to $1.50 per visit.

☞ A new gas post has been erected at the corner of Dover and Islington streets, but as yet has received no lantern. This point is as far west as the main pipe is laid in our city.

POLICE COURT, Nov. 25—Odell, J.—James Hare, a common drunkard, was sentenced to House of Correction two months, and to pay costs, $2 92.

☞ The Ex-6's give their annual grand Ball, to-night. Tickets to be had only of Com. Arr. Music, Lamprey & Haines' excellent Band.

☞ No Chronicle on Friday, to-morrow, of course.

☞ The New England Vocalists will give their first Concert in this city at the Temple this evening. This is a large and talented company, and we doubt not their entertainment will be highly gratifying to those who attend it. In addition to other attractive features of the concert, Miss Adelia, a little girl but five and a half years old, will sing and play upon the piano.—The concert will merit a large house, and we trust will receive it.

We very gladly give place to the following, written by a musical gentleman of this city, who is well acquainted with this talented troupe:—

THE NEW ENGLAND VOCALISTS.—In briefly noticing this amateur troupe, who are to appear before us this evening, we will say, that no company has ever appeared in our city which will give such perfect satisfaction as these Vocalists. The excellent and uniform house which this very talented troupe perform to, are proof conclusive that they have won the good will and affections of amusement seeking people. They have manifested a talent which, if we mistake not, will lead them to enviable achievements in the future. There is no shirking of musical responsibilities by any one of them, and the result is, that we have rarely heard—if ever—a more thoroughly satisfactory rendition of pure, sweet music than in this troupe. Their programme is of the choicest selections. We hope they may reap a good success by an overflowing house. * * *

☞ Lieut. J. Albert Sanborn, Co. H, 10th N. H. regiment, and Sergt. John H. Sheridan, Co. G, same regiment, have arrived at their homes in this city on brief furloughs. The regiment is now at Portsmouth, Va.

☞ The Democracy of Ward 3 peremptorily called the principal streets of that portion of our city on Thursday evening, in company with a band, rejoicing over the dubious success they achieved in the recent election in what they have called their Sevastopol. Small favors gratefully received.

— The guerrilla chief Mosby stopped a wedding the other day, by stealing the cake, a barrel of sugar, and sundry knick-knacks, which the bridegroom had purchased to refresh the wedding party with.

— It is a curious fact that in sacred history, the age, death and burial of only one woman, (Sarah, the wife of Abraham,) is noted. Woman's age ever since appears not to have been a subject for history or discussion.

— In the case of McCunn, at New York, the County Canvassers decided that Bosworth received 32,501 votes, and McCunn 32,550, thus awarding the election to the latter by a plurality of 49 votes.

— The cargo of the prize steamer Peterboff was sold by auction on Tuesday, at New York. The proceeds amounted to $300,000. The cargo consisted of groceries, dry goods, hard ware, boots and shoes, drugs and medicines, etc.

— The quantity of oil produced annually from the Pennsylvania oil wells is estimated at from 1,000,000 to 1,800,000 barrels. The wells have been producing at this rate for about three years.

— The Raleigh Standard claims that the Conservatives in North Carolina have elected eight members out of ten to the Rebel Congress. Those of them who announced themselves in favor of peace on any terms, and who were most severe in their condemnation of the Rebel Administration received the largest majority. The Conservative candidates also received a majority of the soldiers' votes.

Volunteers for the Army should not leave the city until supplied with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT. For sores, scurvy, wounds, small pox, fevers and bowel complaints, these medicines are the best in the world. Every French soldier uses them. Only 25 cents per box. 211

To every barrel of Flour you can make thirty pounds more Bread or Biscuit (and much better) by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, than by yeast fermentation or any other Saleratus.—It is perfectly healthy, will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs, and cure dyspeptic persons. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try one paper, and you will be convinced. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambucci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port or Sherry. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and comfort are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.

We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ A correspondent of the Chicago Journal gives the following fine description of an incident of the battle of Chickamauga:

It was near 4 o'clock on that blazing afternoon, when a part of Gen. Steedman's division of the Reserve Corps bowed their heads to the hurtling storm of lead as if it was rain, and betrayed signs of breaking. The line wavered like a great flag in a breath of wind. They were as splendid material as ever shouldered a musket, but then what could they do in such a blanding tempest? Gen. Steedman rode up. A great hearty man, broad-breasted, broad-shouldered, a face written all over with sturdy sense and stout courage; no lady's man to make bouquets for ebony fingers, and sing, 'meet me by moonlight alone,' like some Generals I could name, but retaining the ideal of my boyhood when Fread of the stout old Morgan of the Revolution. Well, up rode Steedman, took the flag from the color-bearer, glanced along the wavering front, and with that voice of his, that could talk against a small rattle of musketry, cried out, 'Go back, boys, go back; but the flag can't go with you!' grasped the staff, wheeled his horse, and rode on. Must I tell you that the column closed up and grew firm and moved resistlessly on like a great strong river, and swept down upon the foe, and made a record that shall live when their graves are as empty as the cave of Macpelah?"

☞ Among the heroic deeds of the war may be recorded that of Capt. Jesse Gode of the 17th Indiana, at the fight at Farmington. A rebel battery of six pieces was placed at a point in the road which was protected by precipitous hills and a thick growth of underwood. Capt. Gode, with a picket band of 30 sharpshooters, started to pick off the gunners. Entering the bushes, and crawling silently over hills and through gorges, the party arrived near the battery, when whispering "We must take that battery, boys," the Captain with his men suddenly dashed upon the astonished rebels who broke and fled, leaving four of their guns behind them, and the other two would also have been captured had not orders been given not to pursue.

☞ The Newburgh Daily Journal says that the students of Rutgers College, at New Brunswick, N. J., have always been allowed to vote, but at the recent election the Copperheads among them were admonished to vote early, which they did, and when the Republican students came to the polls they found that the Inspector had ruled them out. In one case a Democratic and Republican student reached the polls together. The first was allowed to vote; the second was challenged and refused.

☞ The Washington Chronicle says that Gen. Burnside has quite a large force of his own, and since his occupation of East Tennessee has recruited between five and six thousand men, white and black. He can be easily reinforced from Lexington, Ky., and his line of retreat is open, clear and wide. The rebels attacking Gen. Burnside are thought to consist of two columns, one from Lee's army, 10,000 strong, under Gen. Bradley T. Johnson, and Longstreet's force, estimated at 15,000.

☞ Two immense guns, weighing twenty-five tons each, have been successfully landed at Fort Jackson, Mississippi River, from the brig West and steamship McClellan, under the superintendence of Mr. Rose, Gunner of the sloop-of-war Portsmouth. Since the capture of Fort Jackson by Admiral Farragut it has been very much strengthened.

The man who was killed on the railroad at Kennebunk, a short time since, had, according to the testimony before the coroners' jury, "taken one glass too much"—The verdict was, "Death from imprudently attempting to cross the track in front of an engine at full speed." The engineers of the train were exonerated from all blame. The Superintendent of the road, Mr. Chase, was present at the inquest, visited the family of the deceased, and, in behalf of the company, assumed all the expenses of burial. Portland Press.

— "Oh there will be mourning, mourning, mourning" in the land of Bourbon, for General Orders No. 3, dated Paris, Ky., Oct. 30, turn over to the United States Quartermaster all corn that has been purchased by distillers on the line of the Kentucky Central Railroad, and forbid distillers in the district to purchase any more corn.

— One day last week a lad went into a ready made clothing store in Portland, desiring to get a fit out. He tried on a pair of pantaloons, which fitted to a T. He then tried on a jacket, which answered admirably. He inquired for a vest, and while the shop-keeper was looking for one, the rogue "put," and that was the last seen of that customer.

— After the dedication services at Gettysburg, President Lincoln proceeded to the church arm in arm with the renowned Tom Burns, the brave old man at Gettysburg who shouldered his musket and joined our forces at the time of the battles.

☞ We see it stated in the Salem Register, that Jefferson Davis said at the beginning of the war, "All the Southern blood that will be shed in this war, I can hold in the hollow of my hand."

GIVE THANKS, ALL YE PEOPLE.

THE PRESIDENT'S HYMN.

[The following hymn was written by Dr. Muhlenburg, founder of St. Luke's Hospital, and writer of the immortal hymn, "I would not live alway." The Rev. Henry W. Bellows, of New York, transmitted it to the President, requesting that it should be styled "The President's Hymn," to which consent was given. It will be seen that the hymn is a metrical version of the President's Thanksgiving proclamation.]

1. Give thanks, all ye people, give thanks to the Lord,
Alleluias of freedom, with joyful accord:
Let the East and the West, North and South roll along,
Sea, mountain and prairie, one Thanksgiving Song.
CHORUS after each verse.
Give thanks, all ye people, give thanks to the Lord,
Alleluias of freedom, with joyful accord.

2. For the sunshine and rainfall, enriching again
Our acres in myriads, with treasures of grain;
For the Earth still unloading her manifold wealth,
For the Skies beaming vigor, the Winds breathing health:
Give thanks—

3. For the Nation's wide table, o'erflowingly spread,
Where the many have feasted, and all have been fed,
With no bondage, their God-given rights to enthral,
But Liberty guarded by Justice for all:
Give thanks—

4. In the realms of the Anvil, the Loom, and the Plow,
Whose the mines and the fields, to Him gratefully bow:
His the flocks and the herds, sing ye hill-sides and vales;
On His Ocean domains chant His Name with the gales.
Give thanks—

5. Of commerce and traffic, ye princes, behold
Your riches from Him Whose the silver and gold,
Happier children of Labor, true lords of the soil,
Bless the Great Master-Workman, who blesseth your toil.
Give thanks—

6. Brave men of our forces, Life-guard of our coasts,
To your Leader be loyal, Jehovah of Hosts:
Glow the Stripes and the Stars aye with victory bright,
Reflecting His glory,—He crowneth the Right.
Give thanks—

7. Nor shall ye through our borders, ye stricken of heart,
Only wailing your dead, in the joy have no part:
God's solace be yours, and for you there shall flow
All that honor and sympathy's gifts can bestow.
Give thanks—

8. The Domes of Messiah—there, ye worshipping throngs,
Solemn litanies mingle with jubilant songs;
The Ruler of Nations beseeching to spare,
And our Empire still keep the Elect of His care.
Give thanks—

9. Our guilt and transgressions remember no more;
Peace, Lord! Righteous Peace, of Thy gift we implore;
And the Banner of Union, restored by Thy Hand,
Be the Banner of Freedom o'er All in the Land.
And the Banner of Union, &c.
Give thanks—

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.
Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.
Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which makes it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and iron heater combined, by which the order of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be extended for day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed, thus rendering, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the fuel as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
The Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert E. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Thomas G. Masters, Henry F. Wendell, John Shaw, and others.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;

Love truth, do good; be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every lam fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit, not to be encouraged. Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. It convulses the system of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly, their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

THE FRENCH IRON-CLADS. — Letters from Madeira announce the arrival there of the division of French iron clad vessels which lately sailed from Brest. During this second trial those vessels have given the most satisfactory results, both as to stability and speed, having proved themselves faster than the Napoleon and the Tourville, the best steam vessels of the old fleet, which had been placed at the disposal of Vice Admiral Penaud during this experimental voyage.

FATE OF A TRAITOR.—The friends of Mr. Smithson, the banker in Washington, are aghast at the fate awarded him by the Court Martial. He goes to the Penitentiary for five years. This is pretty hard on a Southern gentleman, say the secessionists. But his punishment is just. He was proved to be a deliberate spy on his trial, and his friends cannot complain, for he might have been shot. Although living under the protection of the Government, and making money in his banking business, he employed himself frequently in communicating important information to the enemy.—*Cor. American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see for the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street.
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—also legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Wash. Ington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or establishing the validity of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure them the early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on nine rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
